FOR USE IN ALL COMMUNICATIONS WITHIN AND BETWEEN DEPARTMENTS AND WITH AFFILIATED COMPANIES.

Memo to: PITTSBURGH COAL COMPANY From Subject: PITTSBURGH, PA. Date

To all mine superintendents:

The U. S. Senate Investigating Committee is now visiting the Pittsburgh district. Clean up all unsightly conditions. Keep our police in the background. Avoid all arrests. Instruct our men to keep out of trouble. If the committee desires to question any of our employes see to it that you present men you can trust and who can be depended upon to give the right kind of answers.

If you are examined by the committee do not answer any questions you think might be harmful to our interests.

The company will protect you. The company has mailed a spirited letter to each individual employe.

If you know of any unsatisfactory condition in company camps or barracks see that it is eliminated at once.

THE PITTSBURGH COAL CO.

Calls Letter "Forgery"

"Forgery! It's a forgery," shouted C. E. Lesher, executive vice-president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, when shown a copy of the testimony of Harry T. Brundidge before the Senate committee, in which the witness submitted the purported letter of the coal company to its mine superintendents. Lesher offered no further enlightenment.

"Will your legal department prosecute on the charge of forgery?"

"I don't know about that."

Sun, Medicine, Fire. Forty Billions. Earth's Great Floods. Buy in America.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1928.)

HIPPOCRATES, Greek physician, dead about 2,300 years, knew what some doctors don't know yet. He said "What the sun does not heal, medicine heals, what medicine does not heal, fire heals." Hippocrates knew nothing about germs, but observation taught him that sunlight destroys disease, and that intense heat burns it out.

A GREAT Berlin surgeon, Dr. Bier, goes back to the old Greek fighting diseases with heat, applied to surgery. Cutting out cancer with heat and cauterization, is said to be more effective than ordinary surgery, or use of radium and to make possible operations where the knife cannot safely reach.

THE French astronomer Flammarion, said to this writer, shortly before he died: "We are only on the threshold of knowledge, everything is within and beyond our sight." He had been talking of the forty thousand odd suns that had been counted in the Pleiades, which to Tennyson, looked like a few fireflies "tangled in a silver braid." Large fireflies, when you consider that some of them are more than ten million times the size of our earth.

WAR is very costly. The most recent big war, into which we injected ourselves, although it was not our war, cost forty billion dollars, at the lowest estimate. It cost in lost time, crime and other ways, twice forty billions. But that sum, we actually spent. Let's hope we'll keep out of the next war.

The Los Angeles Examiner reminds you that for forty billions you could build 15 great cities like Los Angeles. You could build two million miles of good roads, at $20,000 a mile. You could send 10,000,000 boys and girls through college at a cost of $4,000 each, or build nearly 1,000 school houses costing a million each, for every state in the Union.

WE hesitated about the Panama Canal, "so terribly expensive." For the price of that war we could build 120 Panama Canals, do all the work this nation needs; canals to ocean and gulf from the lakes, irrigation, Colorado River, everything, and have billions left over.

AND PLEASE REMEMBER THIS, one of those forty billions, honestly and efficiently invested in aircraft and submarines, would make another war unnecessary, and the aircraft would pay their cost in peace, working for the postoffice, carrying express and passengers, keeping up a self-supporting army of fliers, ready to fight if necessary.

THE bursting of a dam, part of Los Angeles' water supply, in San Francisquito Canyon, cost several hundred lives. Reasons are given for the dam giving away, but no adequate excuse. "Water seeping into the earth at each end of the dam, weakened the hold of the great concrete wall." It should be someone's business to learn why the dam was built that way—and what danger there is at other dams. Why fragments of broken concrete crumbled in the fingers.

COMPARED with similar disasters, by flood, California's accident is fortunately mild. There was the big flood that drowned all but Noah's family. The rainbow guarantees against a repetition of that wholesale ca-

What Fate Is Theirs?

Miss Elsie Mackay, daughter of the millionaire shipowner, Lord Inchcape, and Capt. W. R. Hinchliffe, English aviator, in the American-built monoplane Endeavor, have not been heard from since they hopped off from London on a mysterious flight, with its destination now known to have been destination now known to have been the United States. Fuel for 45 hours' flying would already have been exhausted, so that this dauntless pair have probably joined with those other martyrs of the past year in the advancement of aviation.

Thelma's Manager 'Found'

DETROIT, March 15.—Roscoe Grimm, 35, who has been sought by Federal agents on charges of violating the Mann act since last Thursday, when they arrested Thelma Williams, 22, former school teacher who represented Pittsburgh in the 1926 Atlantic City Beauty Pageant, today was brought into court by Louis Colombo, attorney who is representing the pair.

Charges against Grimm, who was the manager of the beauty in various alleged fake contests, were dropped in Detroit when he pleaded not guilty before United States Commissioner J. Stanley Hurd.

He will be sent to Buffalo, N. Y., within the next few days to face charges of violating the same act.

Grimm is being held on $3,500 bail, while Miss Williams was released on $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

She is to appear as a government witness against her erstwhile promoter and manager. Federal authorities are still seeking two other men said to have been involved in the scheme promoted by Grimm, whereby Miss Williams always won the contests in which she was entered as a dark horse.

Hired by G. O. P.'s —Rody

Friction in the prosecution of election frauds has developed under the surface as the result of the unofficial postponement of trials of two election boards scheduled in Criminal Court yesterday. Attorney Rody P. Marshall, whose selection to defend all of the nearly 200 indicted election officials has aroused criticism, failed to appear when the two cases were called. Republican leaders are accused of seeking delay by organizing the defense with but one attorney.

Camp Life Told

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—A sickening story of depravity in the camps of the strikebreakers of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation was related to the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today, in its investigation of the coal strike, by Harry T. Brundidge, St. Louis newspaperman. He told of nocturnal visits to speakeasies, gambling houses and houses of ill fame at Moon Run and Horning. Vividly he described a den of vice at Horning, where he swore Negro strikebreakers were entertained by white girls.

The audience became very sober, and the most nonchalant of the Senators lost their nonchalance as the revolting narrative proceeded.

"This is terrible," exclaimed

HIRED BY C. OF C.; PGH. COAL PAID

(Copyright, 1928, by The Sun-Telegraph.)

E. S. McCullough, Chamber of Commerce special coal strike investigator, man of mystery and central figure in the alleged plot of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Chamber to undermine the United Mine Workers in this district, has been located in Brooksville, Fla., by The Sun-Telegraph after a nation-wide search extending over several weeks.

McCullough, through an interchange of telegrams, substantiated the testimony before the Interstate Commerce Committee of C. E. Lesher, vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company. Lesher told the committee that the Pittsburgh Coal Company had paid McCullough $1,000 a month while he was conducting an "impartial survey" of mine conditions in the Pittsburgh district, payments being made directly to McCullough and through the Chamber of Commerce.

ADMITS ACCEPTING MONEY

McCullough today admitted that he accepted money from the Pittsburgh Coal Company during the investigation. The money, he said, was paid him through the Chamber of Commerce with the exception of a few times when W. G. Warden, chairman of the board of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, paid him directly.

McCullough's telegram in reply to one from The Sun-Telegraph follows:

"I reply to your questions, I was employed by the Chamber of Commerce at $12,000 a year. My contract was for a period of one year. I was paid by the Chamber of Commerce, with a few exceptions, when Mr. Warden, of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, paid me di-

Cupid Can't Wait

KATHRYN CARVER

Their wedding originally scheduled for June, Adolph Menjou, dapper screen idol, a former Pittsburgher, and Kathryn Carver, his beautiful leading lady, have listened to the pleas of Cupid, and have moved their Paris wedding ahead to May 10, five days after the final divorce decree of the prospective bride becomes effective. Menjou interviewed in New York yesterday, where he and Miss Carver are staying, dropped his air of boredom and nonchalance—the air that has made him famous—and spoke freely of his coming wedding with the former wife of a Gotham photographer. The wedding party will sail from New York, March 24.

2 SIGHTED ON ISLAND MAY BE FLIERS

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 15.—(AP.)—A motorboat started from the Fletcher's Neck coast guard station at Biddeford Pool shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon for Stratton's Island to investigate a report that two persons and an object resembling an airplane, of a yellowish color, had been seen through glasses trained on the island from Old Orchard Beach.

It was considered possible that it might be Capt. Hinchliffe's missing plane Endeavour.

The report was telephoned to the Coast Guard station by a woman at Old Orchard. At the station it was said that no very clear view of the island could be obtained from Old Orchard Beach, about two miles from the island, and although a glass was used at the station, five miles' distant, only a small part of the island could be seen, with no sign of life.

There is a summer house on the island, and at the Coast Guard station it was said that a caretaker was believed to be living there this winter. The island is about three-quarters of a mile long.

Boatswain R. A. Morton and three men went out in the motorboat and were expected to return to the station between 4 and 5 p. m.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Hope that Miss Elsie Mackay and Capt. Walter Hinchliffe are alive was virtually abandoned this morning when the falsity of numerous vague reports that they had been sighted was established. One report said a plane which might have been Hinchliffe's had been forced down near St. Johns, New Brunswick; another that the plane had been observed near Anagemce, New Brunswick, and a few others were equally vague. These reports served to buoy hopes of the watchers, but that was all.

400 FREEDOM PUPILS FLEE SCHOOL FIRE

FREEDOM, Pa., March 15.—Four hundred pupils in Freedom School, Fourth street and Fourth avenue, escaped shortly before noon, when fire damaged the building. Parents flocked to the scene when the alarm was sounded, and excitement reigned.

The fire started in the basement and burned through to a room occupied by fifth grade pupils. They rushed to the streets without obtaining their clothing. Teachers in the other rooms marshaled their children and marched them out in safety. Some of the pupils thought it was a fire drill.

Damage was estimated at $1,500.

LINDY TO "RIDE" CONGRESS

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh offered today to give airplane rides to all members of Congress who desire to take them.

The invitations were extended verbally while the Flying Colonel was at the Capitol discussing the extension of air mail service into Latin America. Both Vice President Dawes and Speaker Longworth told Lindbergh they thought many members would accept.

While uncommunicative concerning future plans, Lindbergh evidently plans to remain in the capital until after March 19 on which date he is to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor from President Coolidge.

Col. Lindbergh went to the Capitol unexpectedly today and held a long conference with Vice President Dawes in Dawes' private room.

He also conferred with Speaker of the House Longworth in the latter's office. Commerce Air Secretary MacCracken and Naval Air Secretary Warner accompanied him. Warner said Lindbergh discussed feasibility of a Pan-American airway in which he is greatly interested.

Prior to his Capitol conferences, Lindbergh saw Postmaster General New on the subject of air mail between this country and the Central and South American countries.

URGES BLUE LAWS CHANGE

Modification of the century-old blue laws to permit amateur athletic games and other recreations to which no admission is charged will not disturb the sanctity of Pittsburgh's Sunday, is the opinion of Representative William F. Stadtlander, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

More than that, he added, such modification is desirable to equalize conditions between the rich man who can motor to his club for golf and the poor man who is arrested if he plays a game of baseball with his friends.

"As things now stand," he said, "there is a common and preferred stock as far as clean Sunday recreation is concerned. The way the blue laws operate guarantee a wealthy man what dividends he wants in Sunday recreation, but force a poor man to take a chance on what he can get, which is little enough here in Pittsburgh."

Mr. Stadtlander, who is a candidate for re-election in the Eighth District, North Side, will support any move at Harrisburg to modify the blue laws to permit such recreations here on Sundays.

"But I will oppose as hard as I can any proposal that would permit the day to be commercialized," he added. "I do not believe Sunday ever should be a day for money-making. I do not want to

FIRE DESTROYS M. E. CHURCH IN ROCHESTER

WIFE, SON, PASTOR SAVED

ROCHESTER, Pa., March 15.—Damage estimated at $175,000 resulted when fire destroyed the First Methodist Episcopal Church and parsonage, Jefferson street and Vermont avenue, early today.

The Rev. H. B. Callahan, pastor, his wife and son Richard, 10, released from a three weeks' quarantine yesterday, were aroused at 1:55 o'clock this morning by Dr. S. H. Peirsol, whose property abuts the church, in time to escape, but lost all their effects.

Firemen found the fire had started in the furnace room and was burning in one of the classrooms of the Sunday school.

Soon the entire structure became a mass of flames, and aid was summoney from Beaver borough and Rochester township. At 5 o'clock the flames were under control.

Firemen had a narrow escape when a small tower near the parsonage collapsed. This morning only the belfry and a portion of the walls were standing.

New insurance was to be placed this week, to take the place of the $25,000 originally carried. The official church board will meet tonight to arrange for a new church.

Hinchliffe Didn't Want Woman In Plane, His Friends Reveal

CRANWELL, England, March 15.—(AP.)—Down in his heart Capt. Walter G. R. Hinchliffe, pilot of the missing plane Endeavour, has always felt that exposing women to the dangers of a trans-Atlantic flight was not the right thing to do.

Elsie Mackay, Hinchliffe didn't want to take her, but she financed the flight which has evidently ended in death for both.

On this account he nearly had a falling out with Charles A. Levine last fall when Mabel Boll, known as "the Queen of Diamonds," came from Paris and gained Levine's consent to accompany Hinchliffe and Levine on a trans-Atlantic flight, if they started. Hinchliffe said no positively then.

Mabel Boll, "Diamond Queen." Hinchliffe refused to pilot her on a trans-Atlantic flight.

"A woman has got no business in this long distance business," he said. "I am opposed to women in the machine. It is against my principles."

Hinchliffe in his eagerness to be the first to make a western flight, made possible by the backing of the Honorable Elsie Mackay, changed his mind, in her case only, his friends here said today.

FOOD SENT MAROONED IN PLANE

International News Service.

SELFRIDGE FIELD, MT. CLEMENS, Mich., March 15.—A government transport plane hopped off today from Selfridge Field for the snowbound upper peninsula to deliver food and medicine to the marooned villages of Detour and Rabor, where two persons are critically ill and hundreds are facing the threat of hunger.

The hopes of the villagers are pinned on the fliers. A snow-mobile, carrying 1,000 pounds of supplies, was lost today in a severe blizzard somewhere on the 60-mile stretch south of Saulte Ste. Marie.

A dog team, delayed over night at Keldon, 20 miles from Saulte St. Marie, was mushing slowly southward again, but it was expected that the plane would arrive at Detour first.

The plane was piloted by Lieut. Joseph Soper and carried Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of public safety; Lieut. Keith Roscot, Sergt. William H. Ross, Sergt. Donald Shannon and Private Axel Heibgcka.

CHAMBERLIN IN SURPRISE HOP HERE

A surprise visit was made by Clarence D. Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier, to Bettis field yesterday, the aviator flying here from Louisville in a Sperry Messenger plane. Chamberlin was to arrive Friday to attend the two-day aeronautic exhibit of the McKeesport Chapter of the National Aeronautic Association to be held in the Penn McKee Hotel. He left his plane to be fitted with a new propeller and went to New York last night by train.

Chamberlin was met by Clifford Ball, manager of the field G. D. Theleen and Burt Phelan other field officials present when he arrived.

After leaving orders to have his plane cared for, Chamberlin left the field to prepare for his trip to New York. He will return Friday, accompanied by Linton Wells, globe flier.

DRY SPY HELD IN 'SHAKEDOWN'

King Johnson, 32, Negro, employed by the prohibition department as an "informer," and sometimes used as a chauffeur, was arraigned Wednesday before the United States commissioner and accused of fraudulently representing himself to be a prohibition officer and attempting to "shakedown" an East Liberty Negro political club.

Johnson, according to testimony by a special agent of the Department of Justice, visited the club, on Frankstown avenue, Monday, and demanded $150 from Jerry Coleman, the manager. Coleman and other witnesses not being present at the hearing, it was continued until tomorrow.

PROBE TRAIN WRECK AT BURGETTSTOWN

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa. March 15.—Two freight trains one with a double-header engine, crashed head-on in the local yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad, 150 yards east of the Center avenue station, early today, derailing the locomotives and four cars. No person was injured. The cars overturned. The cause of the wreck, apparently from a mix-up in signals, is being investigated.

Lost—One Star, Answers To Name, Jeanne Eagels

CHICAGO, March 15.—Jeanne Eagels, star of "Her Cardboard Lover," was "lost" today somewhere between Chicago and Milwaukee. Miss Eagels' show was scheduled to open in the latter city Tuesday night.

JEANNE EAGELS

A few minutes before curtain time, when the actress had failed to arrive, it was announced she was ill of ptomaine poisoning in Chicago. Check holders were invited to return the following night.

Last night again at curtain time Miss Eagels was still missing. The frantic the manager learned she had left Chicago in an automobile in ample time to reach Milwaukee. Authorities at Kenosha and Racine, along the route, were asked to watch for her.

that hour nothing bearing definite confirmation that the plane had succeeded in crossing the Atlantic Ocean had been received, no exact and definite sighting of Hinchliffe's Stinson-Detroiter monoplane Endeavour, attempting a flight from England to Philadelphia, had been made since Tuesday afternoon when it was seen by a vessel about 170 miles off the Irish Coast.

Experienced aviators and meteorologists, familiar with the dangers attending a flight from Europe to America, expressed the belief that the daring couple had not reached mid-Atlantic. It was regarded as likely that somewhere over mid-ocean they ran into sleet, ice and fog and were forced down into the sea.

FLIERS VANISH

Fourteen persons, two of them women, the 63-year-old Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and Mrs. Frances Grayson, have lost their lives trying to fly the Atlantic and half of these were lost in the attempt to fly from East to West against the severe headwinds that prevail.

The "death toll" on trans-Atlantic flights so far follows:

Nungessor and Coli, the famous French fliers who went down with the monoplane, White Bird; two Canadian pilots who were lost on the Sir John Carling; Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and two pilots who vanished in a single-motored Fokker; Philip Payne, Lloyd Bertaud and St. John Hill, who were lost on the Old Glory; Mrs. Grayson and three men who went down on the Dawn.

One other woman—Miss Mildred Doran—met death in a trans-oceanic flight. She and two men lost their lives in an attempted flight from the Pacific coast to Hawaii.

Capt. Hinchliffe could hardly have carried more than 500 gallons of fuel, which would have lasted him approximately 45 hours. It was estimated that his Wright motor would use up 12 gallons an hour. His supply, therefore, would have been consumed late last night.

Cable From Home To Woman Flier Is Waiting---

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—(AP.)—There is a cablegram in Philadelphia awaiting delivery to the Hon. Elsie Mackay, who hoped off from Cranwell, England, Tuesday, with Capt. Walter G. R. Hinchliffe for a non-stop flight to this city.

The receipt of the message became known when the cable company made inquiries today as to where it could be delivered. Neither the contents of the message nor the name of the sender was made public. It is said to have come from London.

ALLEGHENY ICE GOING OUT

The last ice of the season was running in the Allegheny River here today, the stream being partly filled with slush ice from the gorge above Freeport.

A rising river lifted the nine-mile pack sufficiently to clear dam No. 5, against which it had lodged, at 10 o'clock last night.

By tonight all ice will have passed into the Ohio and the Allegheny will be clear from mouth to headwaters. The river here was 18 feet this morning and falling slowly.

see it degenerate into a holiday on which the public would be exploited by men attempting to make money without regard for the ideals of the people of Pittsburgh. I'm sure that the vast majority of our citizens are opposed to an open Sunday—to what often is referred to as the continental Sunday, but they favor uncommercialized recreation. The sanctity of the Sabbath must be protected, but clean sports conducted for recreation and not for profit will not disturb it.

The interviewer remarked on the use of the word "Sabbath" rather than "Sunday."

"My father was a minister," explained Statdtlander.

The Pittsburgh Symphony Society's move to present a series of classical programs here Sundays was praised by the representative.

"I have not mentioned concerts because I feel that the recent court decision correctly interpreted the blue laws to permit such music on Sundays," he said. "Since the decision was handed down I have not seen any indication that it is being used as a wedge to commercialize Sunday, as some of the opponents of the concerts predicted. Clean, uncommercialized recreation would not be such a wedge. Most of our citizens are church members. They go to church in the morning, possibly in the evening as well. In the afternoons some stay home and read the Sunday newspapers, some seek recreation in their automobiles, some—if they can afford it—play golf at private clubs. Poor boys without machines who are not members of golf clubs, cannot have clean games Sundays, in most cases, their only day off. Baseball diamonds, football fields are closed to them. Never forget, that the keepers of dives, speakeasies and crap games keep busy Sunday attracting boys and girls, too, who otherwise would be happily occupied with some game."

"One of the planks in the Sun-Telegraph's platform is repeal or modification of the blue law," he was told.

"I've noticed that. I'm not sure that repeal would be advisable, but the old blue laws should be modified to meet present conditions, although commercialization of Sunday never should be permitted. Good concerts, clean games played for recreation and not for profit, will not hurt the sanctity of the Sabbath."

'MOTORNOT FUELLESS' —PEAT

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(AP.)—An associate of Lester J. Hendershot, young inventor in a hospital here, now claims that the motor which the latter had evolved is not "fuelless" at all.

"The nearest definition that I can give for the motor," says J. Barr Peat, business partner of the 29-year-old inventor, "is that it is uncanny in operation."

Reports that the motor was capable of operating without fuel he terms as "the bunk."

Hendershot, injured last week while he was believed to have been experimenting with the contraption, is recuperating in the hospital from an electric shock.

Barr also denies that Colonel Lindbergh has been approached regarding the invention and says he intends to make an announcement some time soon, at the same time answering the rebuke to backers of the motor by Porter Adams, president of the National Aeronautic Association, who said it was "regrettable" that no definite statement has been made regarding it.

Letter Stirs Mine Probe

Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio. "The inference is that the coal companies have been maintaining these places for the entertainment of their employes. If it is true, it is indefensible. No defense whatever can be offered to it."

Brundidge laid before the Senators a letter purporting to have been sent by the Pittsburgh Coal Company to all its mine superintendents in advance of the Senate sub-committee's recent tour of the camps in Pittsburgh district, warning them to clean up all unsightly conditions, keep the coal and iron police in the background, and to refuse to answer questions that might be harmful to the company's interests.

John H. Jones, president of the Bertha-Consumers Company, now in the hands of receivers, was another witness today. He said that mining the same seam of gas coal as the Pittsburgh Coal Company, and paying the Jacksonville wage scale of $7.50 a day, he had made a net profit of from 40 to 52 cents per ton of coal produced in the years 1924 to 1926.

Senator Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, a member of the committee, was present for the first time.

In answer to a question of Senator Hawes, Brundidge said the St. Louis Star became interested in the strike through its desire to render public service. The accounts of the strike carried by the International News Service, he said, aroused in the managing editor of the Star a desire to get more complete and first-hand reports, and Brundidge was sent to make an investigation.

He accompanied the Senate sub-committee on its tour of the Pittsburgh district and subsequently visited Horning, Moon Run, Avella and other camps near Pittsburgh. As a result of his reports the St. Louis Star is conducting a relief campaign for the strikers.

Brundidge told of visiting Pricedale, Pittsburgh Coal Company town, with the sub-committee. Having been told that Pricedale was considered a model town, Brundidge made inquiries and was informed that there was "starvation and desolation and woe" there.

He asked a miner to refer him to some such case, and was conducted to the home of Charles E. Barr.

Brundidge directed the sub-committee's attention to the case of the Barr family. Barr subsequently was discharged by the Pittsburgh Coal Company on the ground that his wife had "talked too much" to the Senators.

Pay Vanished

Brundidge, at the request of Oliver K. Eaton, of counsel for the United Mine Workers, laid before the investigating committee pay slips that he had collected from miners around Pittsburgh, showing that their debts to the company at payday nearly equalled their credits for work done, so "that they received little or no money in their pay envelopes."

Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the committee, was surprised to learn that the miners had to buy the explosives used in the mines.

Brundidge created somewhat of a stir by exhibiting a letter, on the letter head of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, which he said he got from an employe of the Pittsburgh Coal Company at its Moon Run mine at the time of the Senate Committee's visit there. He paid $25 for it, he said, and it was handed to him just outside of the coal company's office while the Senators were interviewing the mine superintendent.

(The letter referred to appears at the head of this article.—Editor's note.)

Camp "Free and Easy"

Appalling conditions were found at the strike-breakers' camp at Horning No. 4 mine of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, Brundidge testified. He visited a gambling house, two speakeasies and four houses of ill fame there. One of the latter was conducted for Negroes he said, but the inmates were white women. There was no attempt at concealment, he said, and the coal and iron police could not have failed to be aware of what was going on.

Brundidge told of a visit he Avella, where he found 25 children without shoes at the strikers' barracks. The place was called "Starvation Camp," he said, and deserved the name, for there was an appalling scarcity of food.

Brundidge said he visited Moon Run at night, and on a tour of the strike breakers' settlement, in the company houses found three speakeasies, at each of which he bought corn whisky, and also three houses of prostitution.

Victoria's Mate Ousted From Germany

BERLIN, March 15.—(AP.)—Alexander Subkoff, young husband of Princess Victoria of Schaumburg-Lippe, sister of the former Kaiser, has been ordered expelled from Germany by the police authorities of Cologne.

It was stated that the expulsion order was issued because the young Russian refugee, one-time dishwasher and dancer, had not renewed his residence permit in time.

The expulsion order described Subkoff as a man without a nationality or occupation.

Reports were current today that he has already left for the Congo.

Princess Victoria, although forfeiting her German citizenship when she was married to Subkoff, was not included in the expulsion order and she is remaining at Bonn.

Clean Strikers

Brundidge said that he found the strikers' houses to be clean, but those of the strike-breakers were often filthy. At Coverdale No. 8 mine of the Pittsburgh Terminal, he stated, strike-breakers informed him they had been unable to obtain preparations from the company to destroy the vermin in the bunkhouses. He also said he had been told that strike-breakers who desired to leave the camp were sometimes struck in the face by the coal and iron police when they asked permission to go out.

Allegheny county mining camps were in better condition than those outside of the county, Brundidge said, because of relief campaigns that are carried on in Allegheny county.

"But conditions generally could not be worse," said Brundidge. "I can recall nothing in my experience that approached it unless it was the situation I found in the Stone county almshouse in Missouri 11 years ago. The inmates there were eating garbage. But the Western Pennsylvania miners' families do not have enough food to create garbage."

Brundidge was cross-examined by Don Rose, attorney for the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

He asked Brundidge how prices in the Pittsburgh Coal Company store at Pricedale compared with those elsewhere. Brundidge answered that he was charged 17 cents for a pack of cigarets of a kind that costs only 15 cents elsewhere.

Rose made a statement about the Barr case. He admitted that the superintendent in a moment of anger discharged Barr, but said that shortly afterward he told Barr to forget about it. Rose said the Pittsburgh Coal Company would lay before the committee Barr's pay statements four 11 months and the record of his family's purchases at the company store for four months.

Vice Tolerated?

Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, said the inference in Brundidge's testimony was that the coal companies tolerated vice in their strike-breakers' camps to hold the strike-breakers. Fess said that if the companies maintained houses of ill fame for their men, he considered it "terrible." "No defense can be offered," the senator declared.

Brundidge said he had been informed that coal and iron police had paid the fines of women convicted in Justice J. M. O'Rourke's court at Broughton. Attorney Rose declared that in handling the legal affairs of the Pittsburgh Coal Company he had never been called upon to defend these women or to pay their fines.

Jones on Stand

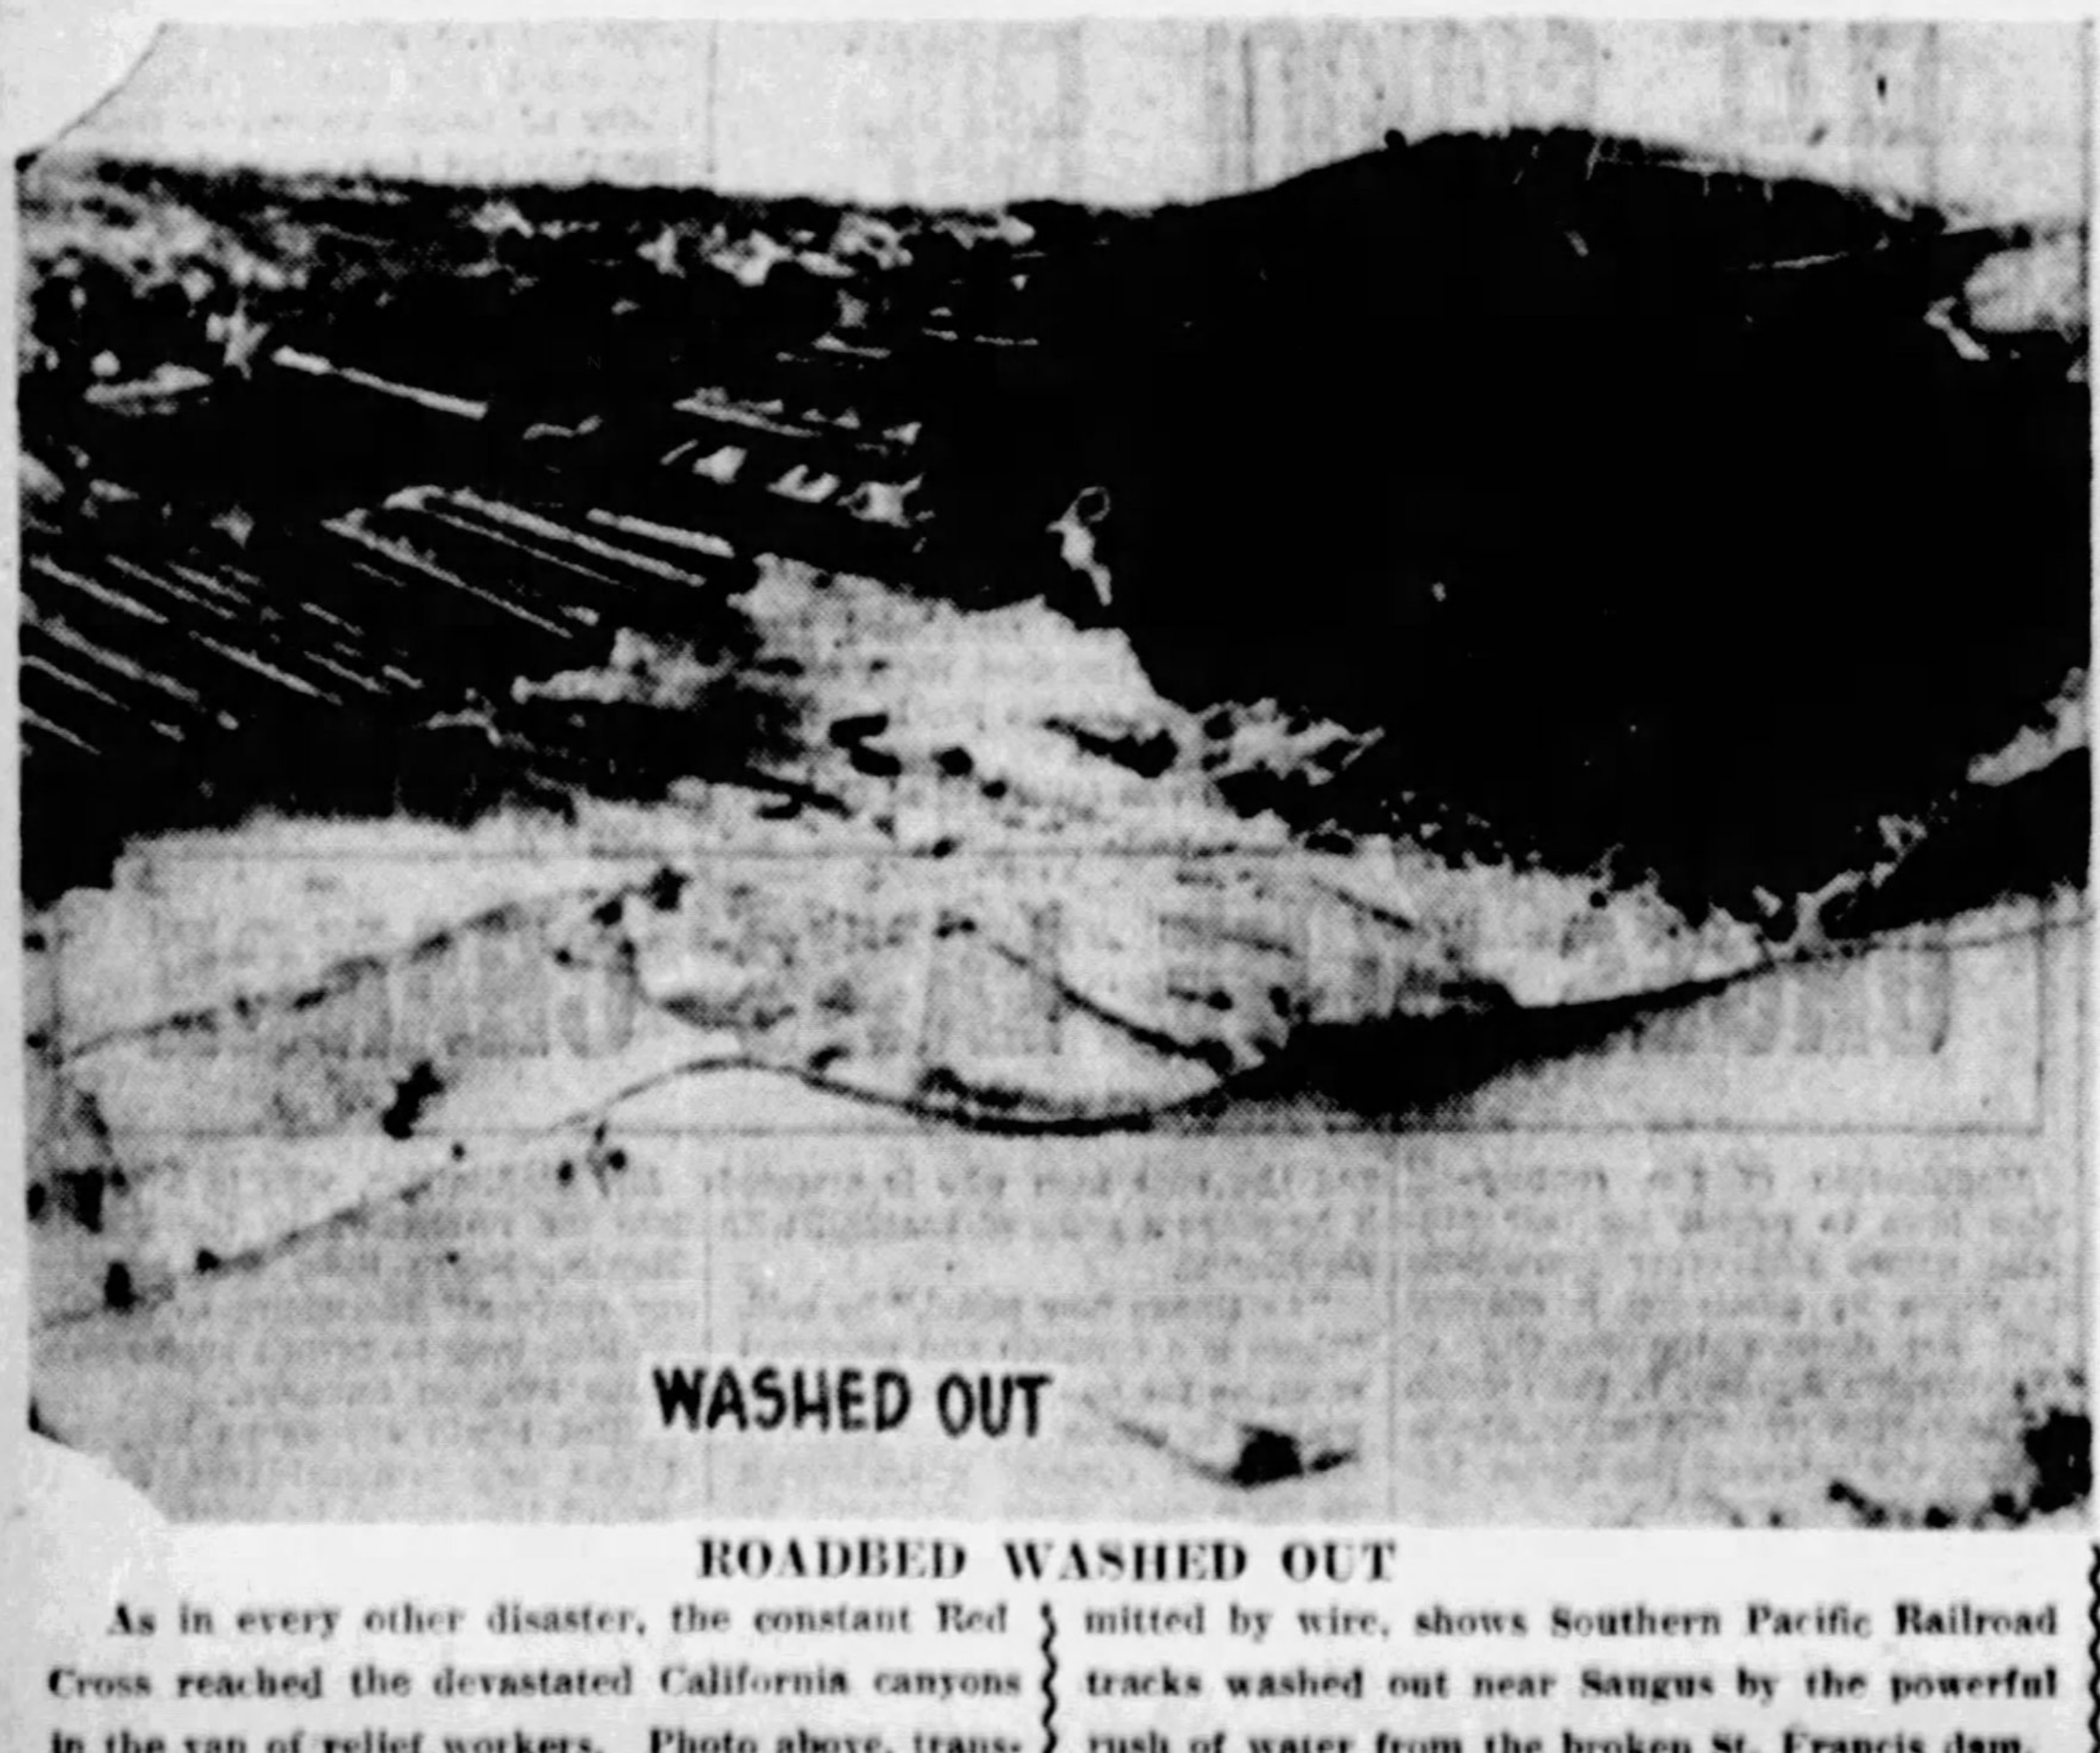
John H. Jones, president of the Bertha-Consumers Company, now in the hands of receivers, was the next witness. He told of his career as a miner and operator. He began to work as a miner when he was only 13 years old, and at 21 was a fire boss.

Jones said his company mined the same seam of gas coal that is mined by the Pittsburgh Coal Company. Asked by Attorney Oliver K. Eaton what his labor cost, total production cost, and sales realization had been in 1924, 1925 and 1926, Jones presented figures showing his company had net profits available for interest and dividends of 40 cents a ton in 1924, 41 cents in 1925, and 52 cents in 1926.

GIRL HURT IN FALL MENINGITIS VICTIM

A fall down a stairway in her home Friday resulted in the death of Ruth Nanz, 8, of 2749 Stafford street, in the Mercy Hospital last night. She was taken to the hospital Monday and appeared to be recovering when meningitis developed.

DISASTER SUFFERERS AIDED -:- RED CROSS REACHES SCENE



ROADBED WASHED OUT

As in every other disaster, the constant Red Cross reached the devastated California canyons in the van of relief workers. Photo above, transmitted by wire, shows Southern Pacific Railroad tracks washed out near Saugus by the powerful rush of water from the broken St. Francis dam.

RED CROSS FIRST!

FOOD AND RELIEF

At Newhall, shown above, the Red Cross service began almost at once to distribute food and to provide medical relief to the homeless and injured left in the wake of the St. Francis dam's roaring waters. Similarly, this merciful organization has long been operating in other flood areas.

ROSS ANNEXING BILL PASSES

Old-fashioned hospitality, which commands that the stranger be invited to enter when he knocks at the door, applies to neighboring municipalities seeking to enter Pittsburgh. This code, enunciated yesterday by Councilman John S. Herron, was adopted unanimously by his colleagues when an ordinance opening the way for the annexation of a portion of Ross township between the city line and Ivy street was passed finally.

The township commissioners will not pull the latch string. Anti-annexationists attending the Pennsylvania First-Class Township Commissioners' Association convention today, went on record as favoring legislation prohibiting the annexation of any portion of a township without the consent of the entire township by a majority vote.

Annexation questions took up almost the entire morning session of the commissioners. W. J. Keist, Ross township commissioner, presented the motion for giving all the voters of a township a voice in annexation proposals.

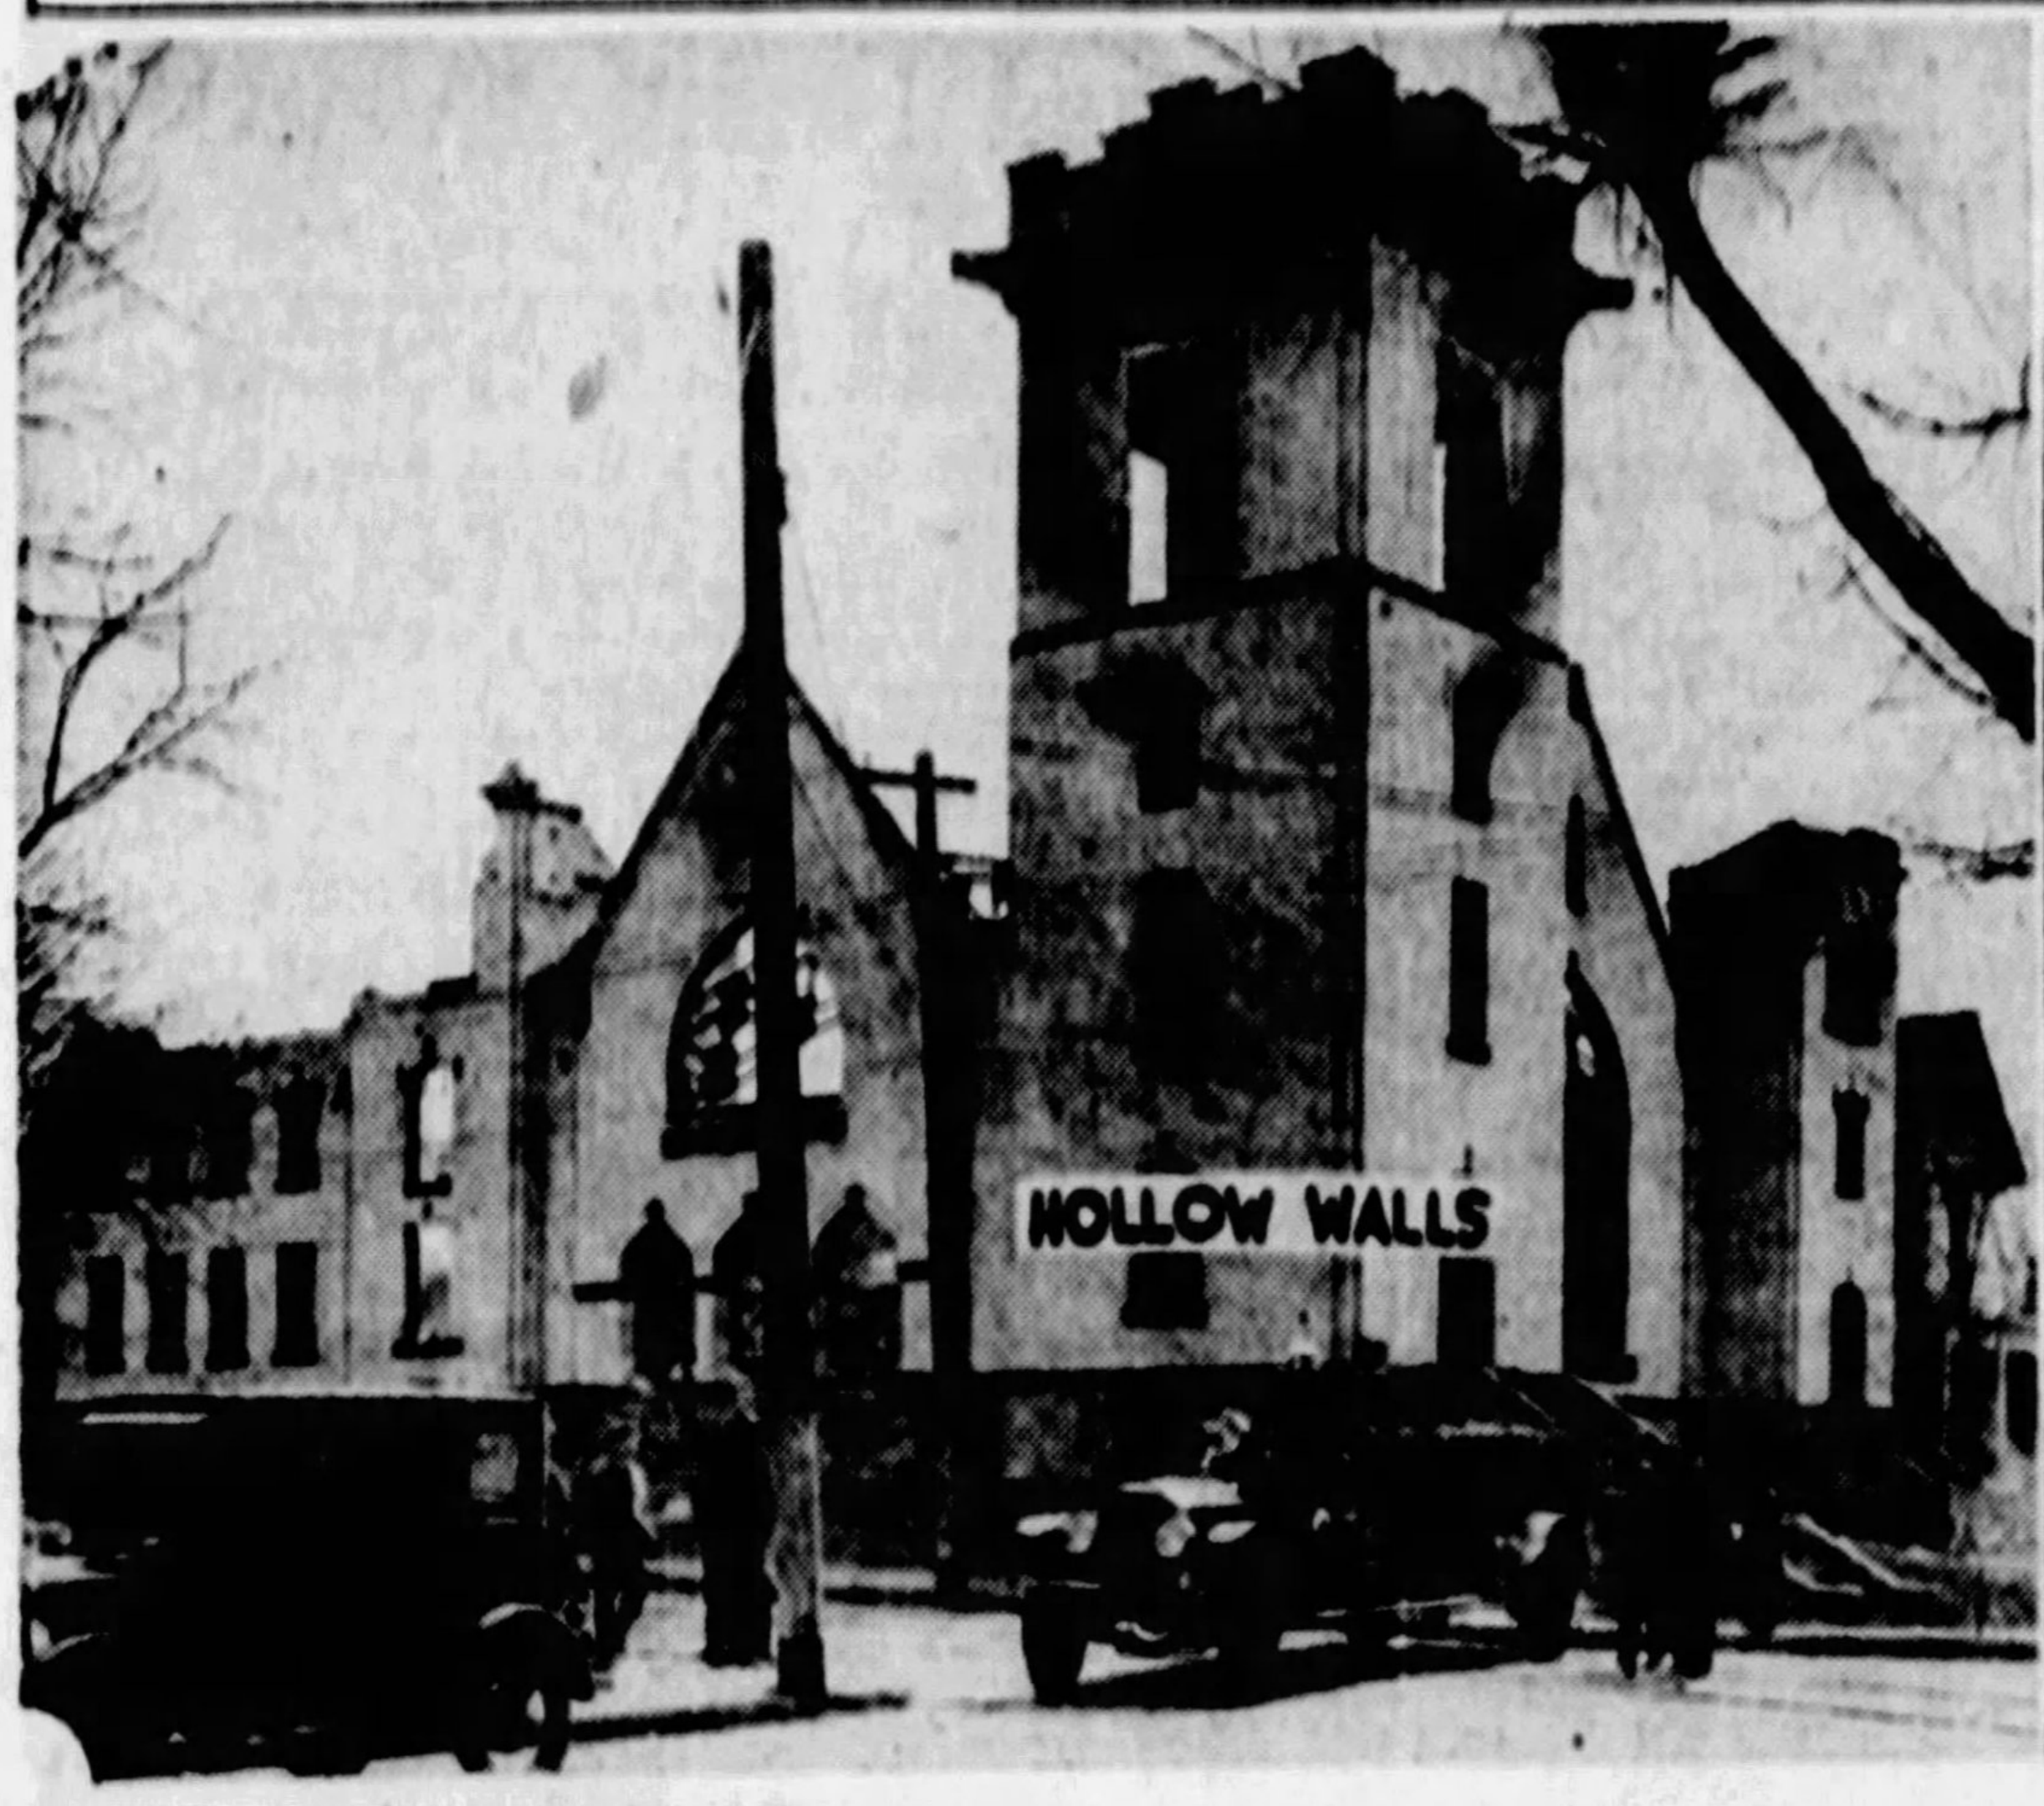
He pointed out instances where the remaining part of a township has been left financially embarrassed after some part, by a three-fifth vote, had seceded. It was stated that the Pittsburgh metropolitan plan would not come before the association this year. Many delegates declared the association would stand on its previous indorsement.

Before Council yesterday Township Solicitor J. E. Winner, Justice of the Peace George G. Anderson and Tax Collector G. F. Seif headed a group opposed to annexation. Mrs. S. M. Stauffer and Max G. Herman appeared as spokesmen for the proponents of the measure. Annexation would add about 1,000 additional inhabitants to the city.

25 RESCUED FROM FIRE IN APARTMENT BUILDING

Church Is Totally Burned

373 DEAD AND MISSING IN FLOOD; 7 PROBES ON



BURNED OUT

First Methodist Episcopal Church of Rochester, Pa., was totally destroyed by fire starting in the furnace room. Damage was estimated at $175,000 to $200,000. Photo above shows the hollow steeple after the fire.

STUBBORN

Although walls were left standing, fire burned everything within the church and gave firemen from surrounding boroughs and townships a stubborn fight throughout the night. This photo shows the interior of the building and the last hose used.

RUINS

Little in the church can be salvaged, as this picture of the ruins, not yet cold, shows. The church was built in 1912 and directors are meeting to arrange a temporary meeting house for the congregation. Insurance was carried for $35,000 and additional policies had been contemplated this week.

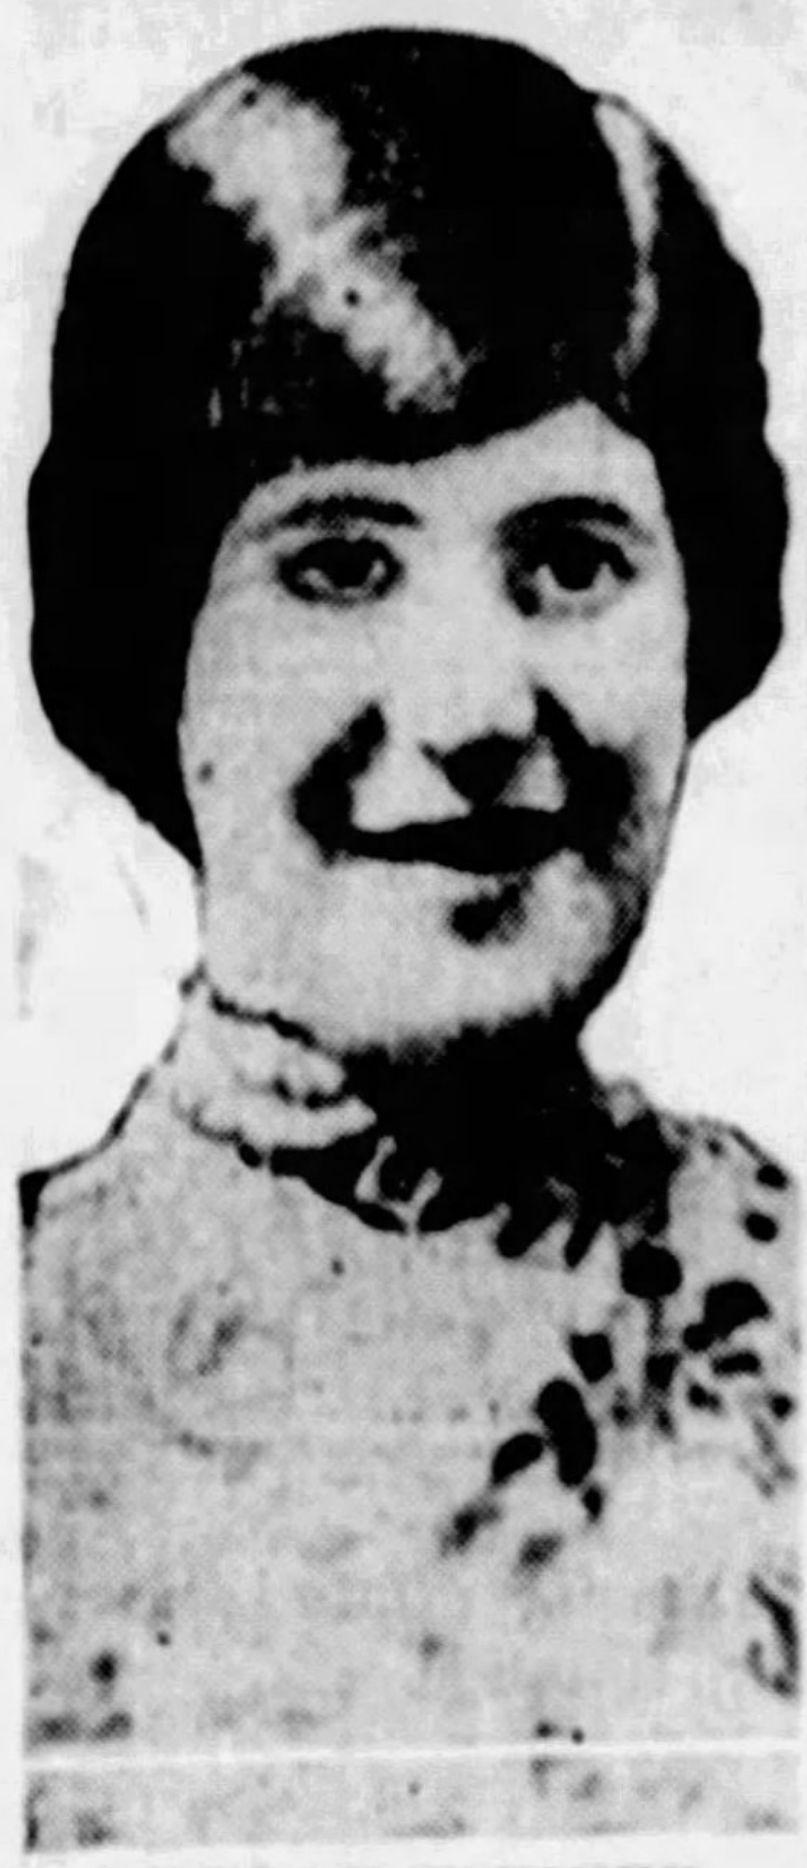
Where Is She?



LILLIAN STEINER

Lillian Steiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steiner, 110-E Saybrook Apartments, vanished from her home in May, 1927, and with the exception of a few words by telephone from New York has not been heard from since. Police in many states are searching for her. She is aged 19, 5 feet 4 inches tall, has brown hair and gray eyes and bears a small scar on the left side of her throat.

PARENTS ASK POLICE AID IN HUNT FOR SON

Aid was asked of police last night in the search for Irvan Ryan, 19, of 860 Western avenue, who disappeared from home Sunday. The youth is five feet eight, weighs 150 pounds and has black hair. He wore a light gray suit, soft hat, dark blue top coat and black shoes when he left home.

RESCUE 25 IN BLAZE HERE

Police and firemen led 25 occupants of the Terrace Court apartment building, Shady avenue and Douglas street to safety after fire broke out in the building last night. Three alarms were sounded. When the fire was discovered in the basement the 80 occupants of the structure, a five-story building rushed to the first floor where many became bewildered and grouped about in smoke filled rooms and corridors until steered to safety by firemen and police.

Fireman Harry C. Eichel, 37, of 300 Fingal street, a driver of No. 34 Engine Company, and District Chief Fred S. Beckett were injured. Fingal fell down a stairway, suffering injuries to his back. He was taken to the Mercy Hospital. Chief Beckett was cut on the right hand by falling glass.

The persons forced out were members of 12 families that occupied the Douglas street wing of the apartment house. They are the families of D. F. Selznick, M. N. Tagan, L. S. Heson, D. H. Dimoitz, Harold Brodi, H. L. Ulanoff, Jules Fredman, M. Goldsmith, M. S. Bernstein, H. T. Serick, R. S. Mauheimer and L. S. Rankin.

The fire originated from an undetermined cause in the basement and spread to the first and second floors. The damage was estimated by Fire Chief Richard Smith to be $15,000 and by police at $100,000.

17 Nabbed In Hotel Raids

Raids were made upon two North Side hotels early this morning by police, who reported arresting 17 persons.

James Muchas and Peter Polish, alleged proprietors of the Stag Hotel, 810 Federal street, and William Conley and John McCresson, proprietors of the Savoy Hotel, 19 East Lacock street, were arrested on charges of keeping disorderly houses.

The raids were made under the direction of Capt. Anthony Block.

PENSION BILL INDORSED

Several additional labor and civic organizations of Pittsburgh have gone on record as indorsing the Dale-Lehlbach bill now under consideration by the civil service committees of the Senate and House. The bill provides for the optional retirement of civil service employes after 30 years' service on maximum annuities of $1,200, a salary deduction of 3½ per cent to maintain the annuity and disability fund.

The organizations are: The North Side Chamber of Commerce; Boiler Workers Association Local No. 154; Pittsburgh Division, No. 136, National Society of the Deaf; Marble and Tile Helpers Local No. 20; Sequilla Club; Pittsburgh Mailers Union No. 22 and Duquesne Council No. 110, Order of Independent Americans.

FOUND IN CAR

ABANDONED BABY

No clues have been found to lead police to the parents of this one-month-old baby girl, found by Mr. and Mrs. A. Ranasky, 1200 Stanton avenue, in their automobile while it was parked in New Kensington. Salvation Army now is caring for the tot, held in the above picture by Mrs. Victor Bryant, an Army worker. "If the mother will come and claim the baby," she says, "we can arrange to help her care for it and avoid public humiliation."

Grate Fire Victim Dies

Wrapped in a blanket and asleep in a chair in front of an open gas stove, Miss Emma Race, 60, of 2014 Sarah street, South Side, was burned fatally early today when the blanket ignited.

The woman lived alone and, feeling ill, had left her bed to sit in front of the fire. She died three hours later in the South Side Hospital.

Miss Race occupied the first floor of the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Gaffeney, the Gaffeney family living on the second floor of the residence.

Blind Lawyer Argues Case From Notes

His notes printed in Braille, William M. Gillespie, blind attorney of Punxsutawney, argued a case in Supreme Court yesterday. Black-robed judges craned their necks to see the nimble fingers of the attorney dance over the raised letters.

Gillespie appeared as counsel for Amelia V. Litch, appellant in her suit against Thomas K. Litch and the Union Bank and Trust Company, DuBois, trustee.

The lower court had ordered monthly payments for the wife and daughter from the Litch estate, now in the hands of a trustee, and refused to modify the order on petition of the wife. The estate is said to be valued at $125,000.

373 KILLED, MISSING IN FLOOD

By ARTHUR L. MAREK,
International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—As daylight broke over the rugged peaks of Santa Clara Valley today and 3,000 mounted and foot men resumed their search, the bodies of 12 additional flood victims were uncovered, swelling the total to 373 of known dead and officially missing in the St. Francis Dam break.

Simultaneously seven separate inquiries were under way to fix the blame for the bursting of the huge concrete dam shortly after midnight Tuesday, which hurled a tidal wave of water 60 to 100 feet high down the narrow San Francisquito Canyon and over the fertile Santa Clara Valley, drowning hundreds of sleeping families and leaving $12,000,000 destruction in its wake.

DEAD ASSEMBLED

Amidst the ruin and havoc of one of the most appalling disasters in recent years, the known dead of Santa Clara Valley were assembled today in crude morgues while sorrowing witnesses waited to tell how the victims died when trapped by the flood waters unleashed by the broken St. Francis Dam.

Four inquests were ordered held simultaneously today at Fillmore, Moor Park, Santa Paula and Oxnard in drug stores and dance halls which have been converted into temporary morgues.

A fifth inquest for those who lost their lives in San Francisquito Canyon will be held here next week, when Coroner Frank A. Nance will conduct an inquisition to fix the blame for the tragedy.

Meanwhile, the unknown dead of the devastated valley lay buried beneath tons of silt and debris as the

OPEN AVIATION GROUND SCHOOL

Robert H. Hancock, chief mechanic at Rodgers Field, Aspinwall, will open a ground school in aviation tomorrow night in Etna, where complete courses in every phase of aeronautics, except actual flying, will be taught.

Hancock, during the war, was a "trouble-shooter," giving a final inspection to planes listed by the shops as "airworthy." Since Rodgers Field was opened he has been in charge of repairs and maintenance on all the government planes there.

The school will be held in a garage building in Sycamore street, Etna, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

"PAY RENT OR MOVE" -:- INTO UNION BARRACKS -:- IN COAL FIELDS

WEEPS

John Frenchko, 2, cries; he has to move. "Stop that," says Brother Mike, "look at yourself and brace up like a man."

SEA OF MUD

Union barracks are situated on a swampy hillside adjacent to Bairdsford. Ford Collieries Company, owner of the houses, decided that the miners would pay rent or move. Twenty families have moved.

HELP!

Mary and Helen Monos wanted help in moving their chiffonier, so Anna Antolic, a neighbor, volunteered. Everybody works when the miners move. The miners were quite busy making their new homes habitable.

PNEUMONIA MONTH

Elderly People Must Be Especially Careful in March.

The physicians' statement, in thousands of cases, reads as follows: "The immediate cause of death was a cold."

Millions of elderly men and women are always in danger from colds. Colds are deadly because they weaken the body cells and lower the physicial resistance and as a result pneumonia becomes a menace.

Elderly people should have the proper remedy on hand to effectively kill off colds quickly. Thousands use the famous Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea, composed of rare medicinal roots, barks, herbs, plants and flowers, the rich juices of which, when steaming hot, stimulate the circulation, heat up the chilled blood stream and purge dangerous germs out of the system.

To break up colds quickly and avoid "flu" or pneumonia, take a cupful hot at bedtime It builds power and resistance in your blood to fortify you through the cruel winter months.

Just ask your druggist.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from May Drug Co., or any druggist, some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk), is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

To All Who Suffer Stomach Agony, Gas and Indigestion

All Druggists Make This Offer

Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness and bloating that you think your heart is going to stop beating.

Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy.

You think perhaps you are suffocating.

You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done?

Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin and in ten minutes the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have chronic indigestion at all?

With this wonderful medicine you can overcome indigestion or dyspepsia, or any abnormal condition that keeps the stomach in constant rebellion and one bottle will prove it.

Over 6,000 bottles sold in one small New Jersey town in one year—and the best druggists the country over concede that its phenomenal sales are due to the fact that the most stubborn chronic cases are promptly conquered. Ask for Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a pleasant-to-take, health-building stomach elixir that regular pharmacists anywhere in America guarantee.

"Little Daily Dose" Brings Youthful Feeling

How To Keep Well

Over in Great Britain when a man is feeling "as fit as a fiddle" and looking the "picture of health" they say:

"HES GOT THAT KRUSHCHEN FEELING."

That means he has the Kruschen habit—that he takes his little dose of Kruschen Salts every morning.

It's the same in Germany—in Holland—in Australia and in Canada, for Kruschen Salts are now sold the world over.

Kruschen Salts are now being sold in the United States and that "Kruschen feeling" of glorious vitality—of radiant health—of internal cleanliness is already known to hundreds of thousands of wise men and women.

Kruschen Salts is not one salt only—it is the combination of six vitalizing salts necessary to healthy life—without these salts you could not live.

It's the "Little daily dose that does it"—two tablets of Kruschen every morning in your breakfast cup of coffee—it's tasteless that way and the coffee tastes just as good.

But don't miss a morning for Kruschen not only puts and keeps the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in a splendid healthy condition, but it drives harmful acid and poisons from the system and sends pure blood coursing thru your veins.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts at McCulloch Drug Stores or any drug store today an start tomorrow morning to get that Kruschen feeling—60 Tablets 60 cents. (30 days treatment.)

373 DEAD, MISSING IN FLOOD

MANY SWEPT TO SEA

How many others perished in the flood many never be known. Authorities declared the belief that a countless number of bodies were swept on into the sea.

Workers in the flood area today were confronted by the four-fold task of:

1—Systematic identification of the recovered dead.

2—Rehabilitation of hundreds of homeless survivors.

3—Enforcement of sanitation measures to prevent epidemic.

4—Reconstruction of property.

Probably the most far-reaching inquiry of the seven investigations under way is the one begun by Coroner Nance, who announced he would engage engineers and geologists to gather expert testimony to fix the responsibility of the heavy loss of life in the disaster.

TO DEMAND ARRESTS

Arrests would be demanded, Nance said, if any one should be found guilty of criminal negligence as a result of the crumbling of the massive St. Francis Dam.

Personally supervised by Chief Engineer William Mulholland, build- of the 180-foot structure, who wept when he first learned of its destruction, the investigation by the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light also has employed the services of a trio of noted geologists to determine the cause of the break. Authorities of Ventura county, whose boundaries were swept by the flood, have instituted a separate inquiry while independent investigations were ordered by State Engineer Edward Hyatt and the state railroad commission.

Another investigation by the City of Los Angeles was launched when the city council took steps to obtain the services of Ellwood Mead, chief of the reclamation service of the United States Department of Interior, as chairman of a committee of engineers, recommended by the American Society of Engineers, with headquarters in New York, to probe the cause of the dam break.

CITY ATTORNEY INVESTIGATES

A seventh inquiry is being conducted by City Attorney Jess E. Stephens, who is investigating the legal aspects of the situation.

While many flood sufferers were demanding reparations, Mayor George E. Cryer gave the first assurance that Los Angeles would give all of the financial aid possible in announcing the city will pay for the funerals of the recovered dead.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

By JEAN MACON

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Here's one "Grown-up" drink that's good for children!

NATURALLY you can't let the children have caffein beverages with their meals. That's out of the question. But it is hard to say "No" to their "Please, Mother!" Harder still if your children are among the many who don't like milk.

Here's a simple way out of the difficulty! Serve Instant Postum made with milk, the drink that schools everywhere are serving as part of the noon-day lunch. It's so easy to make! Just put a teaspoonful of Instant Postum in a cup, pour in hot (not boiled) milk, add sugar to taste—it's ready!

Healthful—Nourishing!

There's no caffein in Instant Postum made with milk. Not the slightest trace of any drug! Instead, you have a drink made of whole wheat and bran, plus all the body-building nourishment of milk. A drink with a smooth, rich flavor all its own. Children love it—even children who don't like milk alone!

Your grocer has Instant Postum. Order it today—serve it to your children tomorrow! And try it yourself—made with either milk or boiling water. Or, let Postum be your mealtime drink for thirty days. See what a difference it makes! Then decide if you will ever go back to caffein beverages. Eight out of ten decide "No"!

Less handicapped nowadays

New ideas on personal hygiene responsible, says doctor

THE DOCTOR in a leading women's college was comparing this generation of girls with those of 25 years ago.

"We don't have nearly so many illness excuses from girls nowadays", he said. "Not even at those times when there is perfectly good reason for their feeling below par. For one thing, girls have learned how important it is to keep their systems functioning normally at all times. And at times when they are most likely to be upset and thrown off balance, they take special measures".

What doctors advise girls to use on such occasions is Nujol—a spoonful every night for several days beforehand helps to keep everything normal even under abnormal conditions. For it contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. Perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Try this treatment for the next three months, and see if it doesn't make things much easier for you. You'll wonder how you ever did without it.

Be sure you get the genuine.

admitted that he had been engaged by Republican party leaders in the county.

"I have been engaged to see that justice is done the innocent victims of these cases—persons who committed no criminal offense aside from being careless or unfamiliar with their duties as members of election boards. I will insist that in every case where there is evidence of fraud, that a plea of guilty be entered," said Attorney Marshall. He said he knew nothing of a $50,000 fund being raised to defend those indicted.

District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner and his first assistant, Andrew T. Park, in charge of the prosecutions, waited all morning, prepared to start the trials. Finally Judge Joseph M. Swearingen was indirectly informed that Marshall was busy with arguments before the Supreme Court sitting here. There was no motion for postponement for the court to act upon. The scheduled trials simply collapsed for lack of a defense counsel and witnesses were allowed to depart for the day.

Gardner later announced that the cases were off for this week after learning Marshall will be busy today.

The indirect information was reported to have come from Attorney A. M. Imbrie, chairman of the special committee of the Allegheny County-Bar Association named to assist in the election fraud prosecutions. Marshall informed Imbrie of his engagements and let it go at that, it was reported. Previously, Marshall had taken up with Gardner and Park the matter of postponement of the two cases and they declined to agree to it, saying that the responsibility should rest with the court on a motion for postponement. Postponing of one case was compulsory, as Marshall represented both boards.

Gardner declined to be quoted on the proceedings, but his friends assert that he is greatly displeased with the interference in the prosecution by attorneys charged with no responsibility to the public. Gardner's friends say there was no necessity for the appointment of a special committee, which is in the apparent position of checking up on the prosecutions. No checking up is needed they say, as Gardner has shown every determination to proceed vigorously and promptly with the prosecution of election officials. The special committee is of little or no assistance in the preparation and prosecution of the cases, it is asserted.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE HIT

In fact, according to attaches of the District Attorney's office most members of the special committee are unfamiliar with the practice of criminal law. When the first conference was arranged with Gardner they did not know where the district attorney's office was located, going to the fifth floor of the Court House instead of the third floor.

There is a report that Marshall proposed to Imbrie that if the prosecutions were postponed for two weeks he would engage in trials of the cases for three weeks in April, and Imbrie refused to agree to this. Marshall's proposal would have been an advantage to the prosecution as jury trials will be held only one of the next two weeks and Marshall may obtain postponement in any event by explaining to the court that he is otherwise engaged. Attorneys are questioning the right of Imbrie to represent Gardner of the prosecution in any dealings regarding the prosecution.

SEE DELAY AS OBJECT

"The purpose of delay evidently behind the naming of one attorney to represent all the indicted election officials is accomplished by this move," Attorney Joseph Stadtfeld, president of the Allegheny County Bar Association, declared yesterday. Asked concerning the comment that the association's special committee is a watchdog over the prosecution, Stadtfeld replied, "The special committee was not appointed to watch over the prosecution of the cases by the district attorney. It was appointed to aid in expediting the disposition of the cases. There are so many of them and they are fraught with such importance to the community. Selection of one counsel looks as if the defense is organized beyond the defendants themselves. It is an unfortunate situation."

Asked if the association would take any steps in the situation, Stadtfeld said he was unable to say at this time. "The matter may be brought to the attention of the association at its next meeting, March 22," he said.

The special committee had a meeting Tuesday, which he as an ex-officio member attended, Stadtfeld said. Gardner was also invited to the meeting and his plans for the prosecution were approved by the committee.

"The district attorney promised that he would prosecute the cases as rapidly as possible and the committee is entirely satisfied with that," Standtfeld declared. "These cases are difficult to prepare and try. It means going over numerous ballots. The rapidity with which they may be tried depends upon two things: the length of time it will take for each case and the accommodations for juries locked up. There are now only accommodations for two juries and one murder trial at least is listed weekly."

Lighten Your Spring Housecleaning

SAVE re-decorating—four times out of five it isn't necessary if you just clean with Climax.

Every woman knows that house-cleaning is not half as hard if she can go right through with it once it's started. But how can you get started when you're waiting day after day for the decorators to show up?

Climax Cleaner cleans and restores wall paper, burlap, sanitas, flat tone or antique plaster walls, cleans window shades and cretonnes easily and quickly. Cleaning walls and ceilings takes about one-fourth the time that re-decorating does—and saves nearly all the cost.

Cleaning with Climax makes the home more sanitary—nobody wants to live with dust and dirt covered walls.

Millions of American home owners do this work themselves or with very little help. Climax is easy to use—no experience is needed.

AWFUL ACHES AND PAINS ARE GONE!

Pittsburgh Man Relates How Ten Herbs Made Remarkable Change in Him.

"I am a different man today, as those awful aches and pains are gone—only occasionally do I feel a slight twinge in my arms or legs," was the statement of Mr. James Ragrut, 2440 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs. "Your medicine made this great change in me," continued Mr. Ragrut, who is 56 years old. "It was terrible the way I suffered with rheumatism before taking Ten Herbs. Intense aches and pains came over my whole body. They were worst in my arms and legs. Sometimes they were so bad that I could hardly get around, and finally I had to give up my job.

"Terrible pains of some kind came in my head. All this suffering, together with nervousness, let me get very little sleep. My stomach troubled me. Formed gas, which caused bloating and awful misery. I was badly constipated, and could not find anything that would relieve me. My liver and kidneys did not work right, as I had dizzy spells, and at times would almost go blind.

"I have taken several bottles of Ten Herbs, and intend to continue its use as long as I get results, for my case was a stubborn one, and I was in a terrible condition. My appetite is better, and now I can eat anything without having distress afterwards. My bowels are regular. What a glorious thing it is to sleep soundly and naturally—that is just the way I sleep since my suffering ended and my nerves became quiet. My liver and kidneys are in better condition, as biliousness and dizzy spells are gone. Ten Herbs is making such a different man of me that I do not hesitate to recommend it to the public."

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Cape Coats

The Misses' Shop Shows Fourteen Varied Styles

A young woman may be tall, short, slender or not so slender, and wear a cape coat becomingly if she chooses from this collection, which is calculated to even change the minds of those who have always thought they could not wear cape coats, at all.

There are coats with short capes; with capes short at back and lengthening toward the front; with capes circular all around, and those which have a circular flare only over the shoulders; coats with pointed capes, and round capes.

Some are furless, others have fur collars, and still others have fur cuffs only. There are dressy cape coats, and models with a strictly military air.

The coats are of smart spring cloths, including the very attractive frostinette, and of rich crepe satin and of silk moire. Some are individual models.

Prices are $39.50 to $89.50.

50 HOUSES WILL GO FOR NEW ROADWAY

Fifty houses on Freeport road, between city line and Cheswick, must be razed to permit the relocation and rebuilding of the road. County Commissioners yesterday opened bids for clearing the right-of-way. Eight bids were submitted and M. Wagner, at $6,675, was low. The rebuilding of the road is a state-county proposition. The contract will be awarded soon and work on clearing the right-of-way will be started by the last of the month.

It will be necessary to rebuild Deer Creek Bridge, Harmarville. Vang Construction Company submitted low bid for a new span. The bid was $87,120.50. Ten bids were submitted. The county's estimated cost for a new bridge was $115,000.

So that traffic can be maintained, the old span will be moved a short distance from its present position. The new span will occupy the same location as the present bridge.

DOPE PEDDLER GETS 2 YEARS

Anthony Klaven, 33, confessed dope peddler, yesterday was sentenced to two years in the Federal Penitentiary by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker on Klaven's plea of guilty to violation of the narcotic act.

Klaven, indicted last September with 33 others of a dope ring which operated from Scottdale to Pittsburgh, was apprehended in Detroit two weeks ago. He finished serving 13 months in the Federal Penitentiary one year ago on a similar charge.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

WOMAN LOSES 4TH DAMAGE ACTION

In her fourth damage suit, Rose Lampe, 2501 West Liberty avenue, went to the legal mat and lost the decision. It took the jury three minutes to find for the defendants, Alder Alik, Frank W. Marmo and C. Bellin, operating a restaurant in a Fifth avenue 5 and 10 cent store.

Previously, it was testified, Mrs. Lampe had collected $2,100 and $850 from the Pittsburgh Railways Company and $775 from the Pittsburgh Taxi Cab Company, by settling damage suits.

Mrs. Lampe and her husband, A. B. Lampe, sued this time for $10,000, alleging she suffered serious injuries by a fall when a chair in the restaurant broke.

TOKIO BEER SELLERS WAGE PRICE CUT WAR

In the hottest part of summer last year, Tokio, Japan, had a cut-price war among sellers of beer. The price per case dropped from $9 to $7.50, retailers were offering three bottles for 47 cents, which the brewers declared was below cost of production, and sales soared. Then the brewers got together, set the rate at 21 cents a bottle, and agreed to serve no one who cut under this price.

Now You Can Banish Pimples In Few Days

Costs But a Few Cents to Have Clean, Clear Skin You'll Be Proud Of.

No matter how many things you have tried to rid yourself of pimples and blackheads, or how expensive the treatments have been, you are not doing yourself justice until you get a 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment and give it a chance to free your skin from all blemishes and make it soft, velvety and good to look upon.

Mrs. Minnie Jones of Louisville writes: "Peterson's Ointment sure is fine for blackheads. My face was covered with them, but after using the ointment they are all gone."

And in a letter about pimples, Miss Genevieve Linehan of Bradford, Mass., writes: "I had tried most every kind of ointment for pimples, but found none as good as Peterson's Ointment. I saw your ad in the paper and sent for a free sample and was very pleased with it and have got some more. I am on my first box and my face is nearly clear. I am very well pleased with it."

Druggists everywhere sell Peterson's Ointment. It clears the skin. 35 cents a box.

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED

Over Shoulders and Neck. Cuticura Healed.

"Eczema broke out in pimples all over my shoulders and neck. It itched and burned so that I could not sleep at night. The skin was sore and inflamed and when I scratched it the eruptions scaled over. The trouble lasted about a month.

"I tried other remedies but they did no good. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in about two weeks I was completely healed after using a little over a cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Jennie Forsythe, 208 Center St., Butler, Pa., Sept. 6, 1927.

Expectant Mothers

Relieved of Much Unnecessary Suffering

Doctor's Discovery Praised

HOW to avoid suffering is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, mother-to-be! Use the discovery of an eminent physician.

Mrs. John S. Herr, Manheim, Pa., writes: "Mother's Friend did wonders for me. I can almost say my baby was born without pain."

Tonight! Apply Mother's Friend to the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves tension and soothes the nerves.

Do this each night and you will be amazed how effectively Mother's Friend aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily during expectancy.

Start using tonight—the sooner the better and write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (sent in plain envelope). Mother's Friend is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

lamity, but small floods have wrought havoc.

Five hundred years ago in Holland, 100,000 were drowned, and at Kaifong, China, nearly 300 years ago, 300,000 lost their lives; 200,000 were drowned at Bengal, in India, 50 years ago. Many times in history eruptions of the sea, river floods and similar disasters have taken 100,000 lives or more at a time. This country can congratulate itself upon the fact that the Mississippi flood of last year, destroying hundreds of millions in property, cost only 200 lives. That was, thanks to admirable work done by the Army and Navy, and to prompt, scientific direction by Herbert Hoover, chosen by President Coolidge, in the emergency.

PRESIDENT LOWELL, able head of Harvard University, liked some plates, 100 years old, dug up on Harvard territory, and decided to have more like them. The original plates were made by the British Wedgewood pottery, and an order for 42,000 Harvard plates has been placed there.

It is not important, a few thousand dollars. But money given to Harvard is made in America, produced by American workers, and as a general proposition, institutions and individual rich Americans, might well give their work to those that have made them rich—the workers of America. If Oxford needed 42,000 new plates, the job would not be sent to the United States.

HINCHLIFFE, British flier, said to be on his way across the Atlantic, westbound, is the type of Britisher that Kipling likes to describe. It is hard for him to get enough danger. He won the Distinguished Flying Cross by bringing down nine enemy planes and two captive balloons in the war. He did not stop fighting, when he was shot down in France in 1917 and lost his right eye. If courage can conquer the Atlantic, he will win.

BRITISH women also possess fine flying courage, the Hon. Elsie Mackaye, third daughter of Lord Inchcape, is said to be coming with Hinchliffe. Another British woman, Lady Carberry, piloting her own plane, was killed, with a passenger, at Nairobi, Africa, on Tuesday. It does not flatter men's vanity, but there is little doubt that women possess greater physical courage than men. Ask your dentist.

If it were not so, the Lord probably would not have chosen women for the most painful, dangerous task of motherhood. If the earth depended on men for population, it would be thinly populated.

Why Not? was the reply of her physician

"Gas and 'sour' stomach can now be corrected without the use of burning, irritating soda, or vicious, habit-forming cathartics."

Calcium carbonate, in tablet form, is the ideal anti-acid: sure, swift and positive in its soothing relief, yet utterly safe in its use. It is the only remedy which does not upset the acid equilibrium of the body and is incapable of over-dosage.

Stuart Tablets are calcium carbonate in its best and most convenient form blended with other soothing substances. That's why we urge their use as the only kind for children, and best for men and women.

No one is safe!

Judge, manicurist, musician—every one of us, no matter who we are, may offend unknowingly

BODY ODOR rarely warns the offender

Don't take chances! Use this purifying toilet soap

IF ONLY we could tell every time we are guilty of body odor!

But we can't. Quick as we are to detect the faintest hint of odor in others—we rarely know when we offend.

Who escapes body odor?

No one is safe from body odor. To live, we must perspire. Even on cool days, our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

This body moisture, whether we see it or not, is always odorous. And it spares no one. Men or women—rich or poor—all may offend unless they take precautions.

Yet it's easy to avoid body odor now. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes.

The same mild and abundant antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores. And what a wonderful effect Lifebuoy has on the skin. It keeps complexions soft and clear. Millions find Lifebuoy unsurpassed for all toilet purposes.

What a clean scent!

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

HIGHER TESTS OF LOVE

THE real test of a man's love, these days, is not whether he is willing to commit murder or suicide for you, but whether he is willing to commit MATRIMONY for you, in spite of all his instincts, his sense of self-preservation and the solemn warnings of his soul!

Not whether he is chivalrous enough to lie for you—but whether he is fair enough to tell you the TRUTH—and face the music.

* * *

Not whether he is willing to give up the things that he knows are bad for him, like late hours, cocktails and poker parties—but whether he is willing to give up the things he thinks are good for him, like spring onions and low collars and wide-open windows in winter.

HELEN ROWLAND

Not whether he is willing to stay up late to play around with you—but whether he is willing to get up early and go to WORK for you.

* * *

Not whether he is willing to give up his family and all his old pals for you—but whether he is willing to give up his little pet habits to please you.

Not whether he is willing to die for you—but whether he is willing to go right on living for you and slaving for you, after all the illusions have worn off, and you are getting a little faded and rotund and have lost your girlish charm and pep.

* * *

Not whether he is willing to indulge and pamper you and spend his money on you—but whether he is willing to TRUST you and to bank his faith on you.

Not whether he is willing to provide for your future, but whether he is anxious to make your PRESENT as happy and easy and joyous as possible, by taking most of the burdens off your shoulders.

* * *

Not whether he is willing to be true to you—but whether he is willing to be KIND to you, and gentle and tolerant and magnanimous.

* * *

Not whether he remembers to bring you candy or flowers or trinkets every time he comes back from a trip—but whether he remembers to leave his grouches at the office and to park his bad tempers outside the front door.

Not whether he would "go through Purgatory" to win you, but whether he would "go straight," and keep right on going that way, AFTER he had won you!

Oh yes, the proofs of a man's love, nowadays, are not the daring, dashing and spectacular things they were in the days when Sir Francis leaped among the lions to pick up a lady's glove. They are the subtle, sub-conscious little gestures of which he is barely aware, but which mean more to a discerning woman than all the protests in the world!

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland M.D.

U.S. Senator From New York

Perfect Eyesight for Team-Work in Vision

NOT long ago a mother wrote me about her boy's eyes. He is unable to get along in college because "his eyes won't focus."

DR. COPELAND

The trouble is we look upon good eyesight as being a thing related to one eye, or to each eye separately. As a matter of fact it is related to two eyes and to two eyes working in unison.

The other day I was one of several Senators who were guests at the White House for breakfast. The President had just been given the millionth gun manufactured by a great firearms factory.

Col. Brookhart, who was among the guests, is a famous rifle and pistol shot. He was chief instructor in rifle and pistol shooting in the training of our men for the World War.

The President's remark about the new gun led to a discussion of eyesight in connection with rifle practice. Col. Brookhart asked that each of us point his finger at an object, and, leaving the finger in position, to shut first one eye and then the other to see which eye fixed the object pointed at.

You try this experiment for yourself. When I point at an object and then close my right eye, I find my finger still pointing directly at the thing. Then closing my left eye, the finger appears to be pointing off to the left.

This shows that my left eye is my commanding or master eye. It is the eye I would naturally use in aiming a rifle or pistol. But in reading and in almost everything else we do, we use both eyes at the same time.

Let me ask you to perform another experiment: Place the point of your pencil on the period at the end of this sentence. Then shut first one eye and then the other—you will find that the pencil point is exactly on the period, no matter which eye you use.

In order that there may be perfect sight, free from all suspicion of double vision, each eye must have clear sight and both eyes must be so directed by the perfect muscular action as to focus together. In short, each eye will point directly at the thing looked at and each eye will see it clearly.

We cannot have comfortable vision unless the many little muscles which act as the steering gear of the eyes, all work so nicely together that the eyes are all the time in perfect position. Otherwise it would be as if one front wheel of your automobile went one way and the other some other way.

When the eyes are out of kilter it isn't enough to test each one to find what lens is needed to make the vision clear. It is necessary, too, to make sure that there is teamwork, that the eyes are working together.

The reason why the glasses don't prove satisfactory in some cases is because the eyes are not working as a good team. One eye is doing all the pulling and will soon get tired. There must be a fair division of the work, or headache and distress are sure to follow.

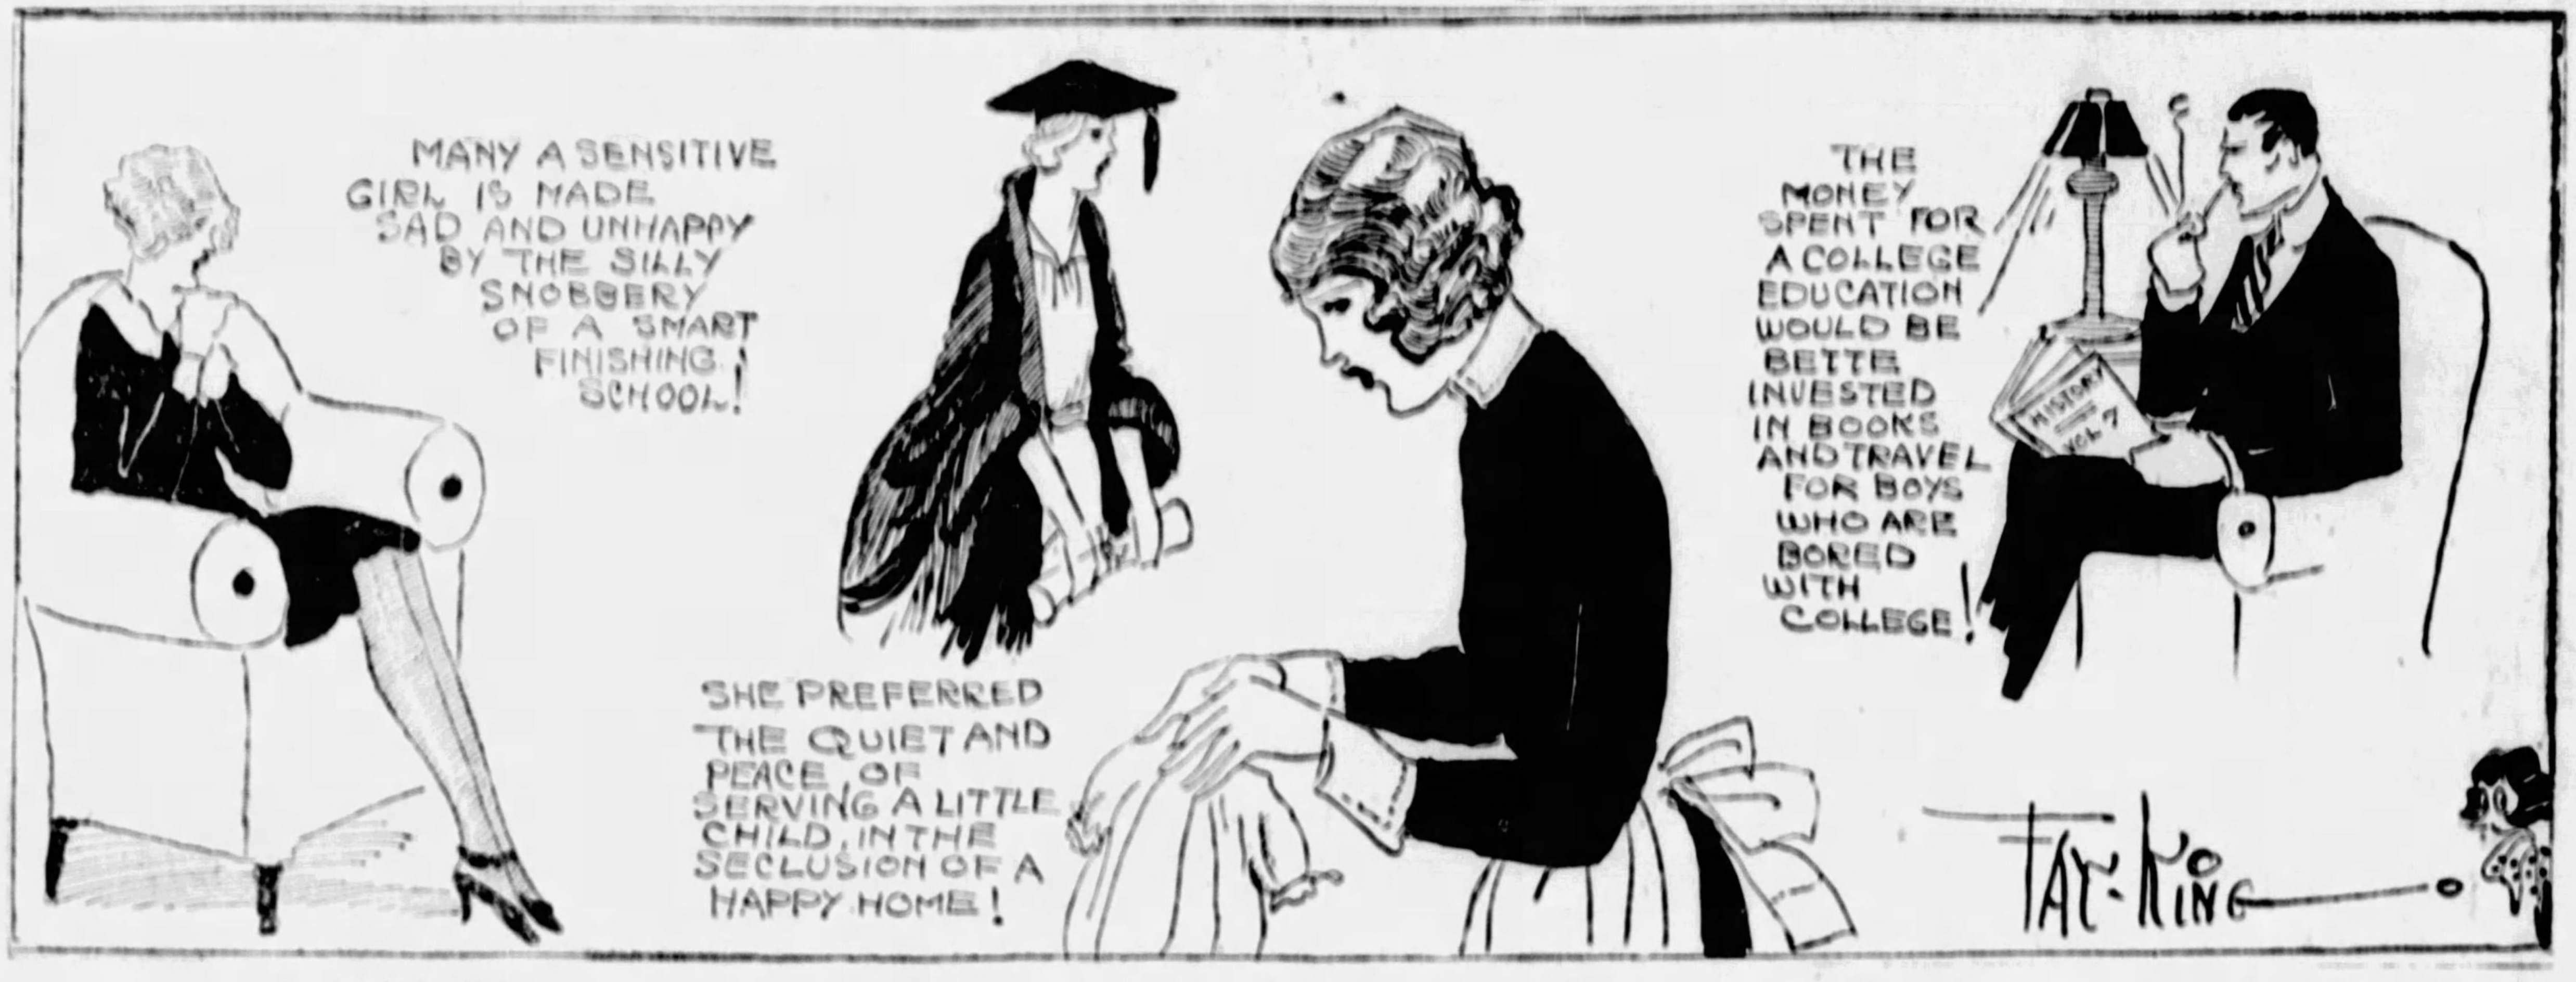
Fay King Tells When College Work Is Futile



MANY A SENSITIVE GIRL IS MADE SAD AND UNHAPPY BY THE SILLY SNOBBERY OF A SMART FINISHING SCHOOL!
SHE PREFERRED THE QUIET AND PEACE OF SERVING A LITTLE CHILD, IN THE SECLUSION OF A HAPPY HOME!
THE MONEY SPENT FOR A COLLEGE EDUCATION WOULD BE BETTE INVESTED IN BOOKS AND TRAVEL FOR BOYS WHO ARE BORED WITH COLLEGE!
FAY-KING

By FAY KING

ONE of the college girls who mysteriously disappeared was finally found working as a nursemaid in a pretty little home.

It was somewhat of a shock to her worthy parents to find her in such a capacity. But why need it have been?

It matters little what we do, so long as it is honest and useful, to earn a living! Many so-called "servants" are more independent than the extravagant debt-bound ones they work for! Also, many trusted servants have been closer and dearer to the really great and powerful than ever were purring relatives and fawning climbers who sought to know them better.

That a girl should wish to leave college and prefer to care for a little child seems to me much more worthy than many college graduates who spend the rest of their lives belittling marriage, home and children.

Not all young persons wish to go to college. Unless the desire is strong, they should not be compelled!

Parents register their children at birth for their future entrance into the college the father or mother attended. The result is that colleges cannot enroll others who would like to attend when that year arrives.

Less fortunate boys who would like to attend college are crowded out by the others who attend only as a lark, or to please folks who enrolled them at birth, and do not appreciate the opportunity.

Finishing schools are nests of snobbery. Socially ambitious mothers force their daughters into them. If the girl is as forcefully ambitious as her mother, she can manage to wedge her way into social connections!

But many a sensitive girl is crushed and her spirit broken by the snubs of other girls!

Parents scrape and save to give a son a college education. The same money spent in travel or helping him to get started at what he wants to do is apt to be much more to his liking and advancement!

What's the Answer?

1 What king had operas performed solely for himself?

2 For what type of writing is William Hazlitt known?

3 What celebrated woman has been the subject for more than 30 noted portrait painters?

4 In golf, what is an "eagle"?

5 What world's fair was held in the 90's and what did it commemorate?

6 What is the Mabinogeon?

7. How is Palestine governed?

8 Where is Formosa and what nation owns it?

9 What question was involved in the Dred Scott decision?

10—What is German silver made of?

The answers to these questions may be found in tomorrow's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

1. Greenland was named by the old Scandinavian navigator, Eric the Red. He gave the place an attractive name because he wanted to induce colonists from Norway to settle in the new country.

2. About 3,750 persons die every day in this country.

3. Ambassador's children are regarded as natural-born citizens of the United States, even though they are born abroad. Since their fathers are in the service of the American government, they are given the same status as if they were born in this country.

4. Coconada is an Indian seaport, the capital of the Godavari district, Madras.

5. During their expulsion from Rome in the fourteenth century, Popes lived at Avignon, France.

6. An original etching is drawn on copper plate.

7. The name of the German legislature is the Reichstag.

8. Laurence Sterne wrote "A Sentimental Journey."

9. A piastre is an Egyptian coin equal to 5 cents.

10. "Venus and Adonis," a poem written in 1593, was Shakespeare's first work.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Friday, March 16

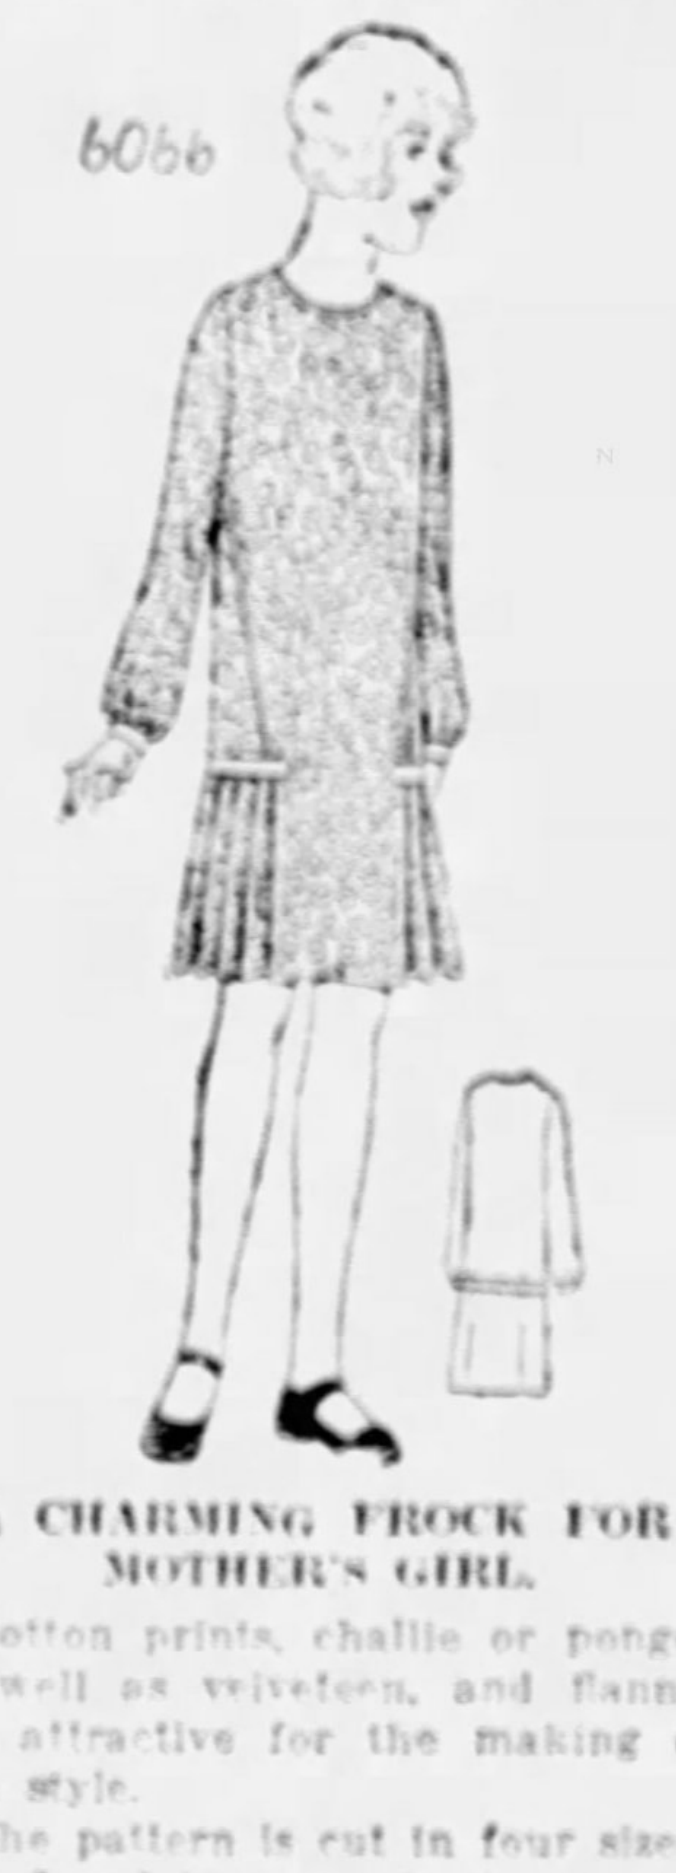
ALTHOUGH there may be lively conditions obtaining on this day, judging by some of the lunar transits; yet on the whole it is difficult to forecast any notable returns for much diligence and perseverance.

The financial influences are doubtful, albeit earnest effort may bring future reward. Discretion and tact may effect results both in new projects and personal contacts.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year in which conservatism, stratagem and clever manipulation may win out against hard labor, but be careful in handling money or property. Personal behavior should be prudent.

A child born on this day may find subtlety figuring largely in its life. Application, industry and prudent management may prevent pitfalls.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A CHARMING FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL.

Cotton prints, challie or pongee as well as velveteen, and flannel are attractive for the making of this style.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. An 8-year size will require 2¼ yards of 36-inch material, together with ¼ yard of contrasting material for facing on cuffs and belt and bias binding at neck and side edges.

CONSTIPATION CAUSES BAD COMPLEXIONS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings natural relief

Disordered blood, skin eruptions, blemishes, are often the result of faulty elimination. Indeed, constipation is the cause of more than forty diseases. Just a few of its symptoms are headaches, listlessness, dull eyes, falling hair, failing appetite. . . .

Guard against this scourge. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. More—to prevent it. Two tablespoonfuls daily — chronic cases, with every meal.

Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because it is 100% bran. Because ALL-BRAN accomplishes 100% results that no part-bran product can hope to equal.

An inviting health cereal—to eat with milk or cream, or with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Waffles, bread, muffins. Sprinkle it into soups. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, cafeterias, on diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

End Fat

The way is now easy and pleasant

Anybody who suffers from excess fat should learn what modern science offers. Don't starve, don't over-exercise. Combat the real cause. Supply your system with that which turns food into fuel and energy rather than into fat.

Modern research discovered that way some two decades ago. It was then embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Today the results are seen and told everywhere. Most people are slender. All modern styles are adapted to them. They have supplied their systems with the natural factors which prevent the formation of fat.

Users of Marmola do not attempt abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. They simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. New vivacity, new health comes at the same time.

The methods are not secret. Each box of Marmola contains the formula and the reasons for results. You know what you are taking, and the scientific reasons for the benefits which come.

Start Marmola now. You cannot afford to stay fat. Beauty, health and fitness require normal weight. Watch the results for a month, and they will delight you. Then tell the facts to others. Why wait another day?

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

The Pleasant Way to Reduce

Kotex Reduces Prices

A few months ago, as a means of winning a million new users for Kotex so as to expedite a nation-wide distribution of the new Improved Kotex, we made a special offer of one box of Kotex free with every two boxes purchased for 98c. This sale is now ended.

So overwhelming was the response to this offer that we doubled our output and are thereby now able to announce a permanent 30% reduction in the regular price of Kotex when sold by the box.

These two exclusive new features have doubled Kotex sales:

1 A new, form-fitting shape . . . corners are now scientifically rounded and tapered so that you wear it under the most clinging gowns without possibility of detection, without marring smooth, fashionable lines.

2 It is softer, too—fluffier—eliminating unpleasant chafing and binding.

& . . . RETAINING ALL THE FEATURES AND PROTECTION OF THE KOTEX YOU HAVE ALWAYS KNOWN.

TO meet the immediate and overwhelming response of women to the two exclusive new features of Kotex we have been obliged to double our manufacturing facilities.

This fact and the introduction in our plants of our new, patented machinery enables us to announce, effective today, a reduction of 30% in the regular price at which Kotex will be sold to all drug and dry goods stores.

Before making a permanent reduction in price, and as a means of getting nation-wide distribution of the Improved Kotex, for several months we made a special offer of 2 boxes of Kotex at 98c and one box free.

Now with the assurance of a doubled volume at lower prices, the regular price of single packages of Kotex is reduced 30%. Without this doubled volume the Improved Kotex would have to be sold at higher rather than lower prices.

RARELY is a manufacturer able to offer better goods and lower prices at the same time.

Two years of exacting work in our laboratories by designers and chemists (in cooperation with women doctors) led to the perfection of the Improved Kotex.

With the presentation of the new style Kotex, exclusive in design, comes the most radical development in intimate feminine hygiene since the invention of Kotex itself. The features we have developed are exclusive to Kotex—are found in no other sanitary pad.

What form-fitting means

By a unique process, developed only after months of experiment, corners are now scientifically rounded and tapered so that the pad fits snugly, comfortably, securely. Closest-fitting gowns retain their slim, smooth lines.

This brings a composure, a sense of well-being, heretofore impossible.

Softer—fluffier—chafing eliminated

Now, exclusive methods have been found for making the absorbent filler still softer. Chafing, binding, similar discomforts are eliminated.

27 women doctors, 83 nurses cooperated enthusiastically

During the past two years 27 women doctors, 83 nurses in leading hospitals, in City Health Departments, in Welfare Departments, were consulted. Six specialists in feminine hygiene suggested and approved ideas.

All former advantages retained

The remarkably absorbent powers of Kotex remain; the same protective area is there. Cellucotton wadding, which is exclusive to Kotex, has all the advantages of any waterproofed absorbent, plus its own unique qualities. It discards like tissue — you simply follow directions in each box; it deodorizes thoroughly while being worn.

New prices effective today

Today—the new prices are in effect. We have built new plants, constructed expensive new machinery on a double scale, anticipating that your approval and enthusiasm would match ours.

You buy Kotex by name at any drug, dry goods or department store, without embarrassment, without delay. It comes in two sizes, Regular and Kotex-Super. Supplied also through vending cabinets in rest-rooms by West Disinfecting Co.

TWO HOLDUP MEN ESCAPE AFTER GUN BATTLE

ARMY RESERVATIONS TO GO UNDER HAMMER

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Military reservations of Fort Dade and Fort De Soto, Fla., are to be sold to highest bidders, the War Department announced yesterday. Bids will be opened April 16.

LOSE POLICE IN CHASE ON HILL TOP

Turning on two patrolmen, two holdup men early this morning shot their way to liberty from the Tunnel Restaurant, West Liberty avenue, at the south end of the Liberty tubes, after battling with the proprietor.

Dashing from the restaurant, the holdup men continued their flight in an automobile driven by a confederate which was parked at the curb. Then followed a revolver battle between police, who commandeered a passing automobile, and the bandits, who sped up Warrington avenue into Allentown and finally lost their pursuers in Mt. Oliver.

Several shots were fired in the restaurant as Edward C. Mellor, proprietor, battled with the thugs for possession of a revolver which one of them thrust against his ribs.

Mellor was battling with the intruders when the patrolmen, A. Hogel and D. N. Clements, attracted by the shooting, rushed in.

Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh announced that he had suspended the two patrolmen, pending an investigation of the holdup. He said the officer had been in the barroom connected with the restaurant.

The patrolmen became targets for the robbers' fire, and before the officers could draw their guns the bandits had fled to the street.

Mellor said the holdup men demanded that he put up his hands and keep quiet after they had ordered soup and coffee. They had eaten breakfast in the restaurant yesterday morning, and he could easily identify them, he said.

Dying Man Calls For Wife Missing Five Weeks

Unaware her husband is dying of pneumonia, Mrs. Florence Corwin, 23, who disappeared from her home at 2825 Jane street, five weeks ago, today was being sought by relatives. The husband, Alfred Corwin, had made an extensive search for his mate before he became ill. The wife left while the husband and two children were at a theater. The husband is in a semi-conscious condition and is calling for his wife.

An Important Biography

HENRY CLAY FRICK: THE MAN

By George Harvey

THIS biography of one of the greatest of American Captains of Industry, whose remarkable career was interwoven with the development of the gigantic steel industry in this country, is impressively presented in the vivid writing of Colonel Harvey.

The remarkable facts of Mr. Frick's life are in themselves assurance that this is no conventional biography. His typically American boyhood, his early business successes, relations with Andrew Carnegie, the famous Homestead Strike and the later history of the steel industry are among the fascinating chapters of the book.

It is an outstanding contribution to the history of the time.

Cornered, H. Reeves-Smith, Last Gentleman on Stage, Talks About the Lost Art

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

GEORGE SEIBEL

FEW people realize how difficult it is to play a gentleman—either on or off the stage. On the stage it is almost one of the lost arts. We see Dukes and Royal Highnesses that have the courtly grace of rent-collectors and wear their clothes as if they had paid cash for them. Vanished are the manners and the repose "which stamps the caste of Vere de Vere." One of the last survivors may be seen at the Alvin Theater this week toward the close of "Just Fancy." It is H. Reeves-Smith (the H. stands for Harry). He is the last gentleman on the stage, or almost the last.

He was surprised to hear it. That is another mark of the gentleman. The gentleman doesn't know he is—he may feel it, but he is loath to admit it.

"If I am," he declared, "I suppose it must be due to early environment. I was born in Scarborough, Yorkshire, where my father was in charge of the first aquarium ever established. I was educated at Worthing College in Sussex, and there we met people who had practiced courtesy and refinement all their lives. We were even impressed with the idea that slovenly speech is a discourtesy, like throwing an orange or a book at some one, instead of taking it to them.

"In those days there were a great many artificial hallmarks of courtesy. For instance, no one would go to London without four things—a silk top-hat, an umbrella, a frock coat, and a pair of gloves carried in the hand. Today the sartorial exigencies have been relaxed. But the old tradition of gentlemanly behavior, I believe, still persists where the go-getter has not killed leisure and kindness.

"Many of these matters are externalities. I am told that in my bows there is apparent a subtle difference between reverence and condescension—but a gentleman would not overdo either. These externalities are like the monocle one has come to associate with the titled Briton, although the monocle was not a British invention at all. It was French, and was brought home by some British officers after the Crimean war, where they had seen French officers use it."

Although he denies the soft impeachment, Mr. Reeves-Smith is a gentleman. And he is as refreshing in a world safe for democracy as a Rathskeller in a Prohibition age. We can still see what a gentleman was like in the days when he went on the stage—at the age of 15 joining the company of Caroline Heath, who had two distinctions, being the wife of Wilson Barrett and reader to Queen Victoria.

Mr. Reeves-Smith made his first London appearance in "East Lynne." But he leaped into fame when "Charley's Aunt" was first produced, by contributing one line to the comedy which was not in the manuscript, but has outlived everything else in the play—the line "Brazil, where the nuts come from." His first American appearance was with the Hanlons in a piece called "Le Voyage en Suisse." He was Captain Jinks when Ethel Barrymore started her career as a star in Clyde Fitch's "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines." He was William Ashe when Grace George appeared in the dramatization of Mrs. Humphry Ward's "Marriage of William Ashe."

PIANIST AND FLUTIST TO AID GALLI-CURCI

Mme. Galli-Curci will give the closing May Beegle concert in Syria Mosque tonight, returning after an absence of more than two years. She will be assisted by Ewald Haun, flutist, and Homer Samuels, pianist. Mr. Samuels will give a group of piano solo numbers by Chopin and Debussy. Mme. Galli-Curci will include two numbers with flute obligato, "The Gipsy and the Bird," by Benedict, and Qui la voce from Bellini's opera, "Puritani." An aria from Bellini's "Sonnambula" will also be on the Galli-Curci program.

MASKED TENOR, BAND IN RESTAURANT, CLUB

The Goodrich Silvertown Orchestra and the Silver Masked Tenor are appearing this week twice daily in the Venice Restaurant and once daily in the Flotilla Club. In the evening the orchestra and singer are heard in the Flotilla Club. An added attraction in the club is the Flotilla Revue, directed by Bebe Falvo.

RESTAURANT FEATURES ACTS AND DANCING

Gamby's restaurant, 226 Diamond street, presents four acts of vaudeville twice nightly, at 7 o'clock and at 11:30 o'clock. Jo Tyler's orchestra plays for the performers and the patrons who desire to dance. Gamby's, newly decorated and completely equipped, is owned by Gambarana brothers.

HENDERSON'S BAND RETURNS TO SANDERS

Fletcher Henderson's Stompers, an orchestra organization from New York, is to furnishe music for the dancing in Sanders, Aspinwall, Saturday night. Twelve Negro musicians are included among the orchestra's personnel.

Soprano

MME. AMELITA GALLI-CURCI will give the closing concert for the season in the May Beegle series in Syria Mosque tonight.

IRISH JIG CONTEST TO BE HELD TONIGHT

A championship Irish jig contest will be held tonight in Odd Fellows' Gardens, Sarah street, South Side. Three cash prizes will be awarded. Johnny Jones is sponsoring the affair. In addition, an old-time dance, with Joseph Kaine's orchestra furnishing the music, will be staged.

MUSIC CARDED FOR STAGE

Beatrice Lillie, known in private life as Lady Peel, will be seen in the Nixon in a week's engagement opening Monday night, March 19, in her new musical comedy, "She's My Baby," the Charles Dillingham production in which she has just closed a successful run in the Globe Theater, New York. Seats are on sale.

Seats go on sale today for the engagement of Winthrop Ames' Gilbert and Sullivan Opera Company in the Shubert Alvin next week. This company has had two seasons in New York and a prosperous engagement in Philadelphia. The repertoire follows: Monday and Friday and Wednesday matinees, "The Mikado;" Tuesday and Thursday nights and Saturday matinee, "Iolanthe;" Wednesday and Saturday nights, "The Pirates of Penzance."

Phyllis Haver plays "The Wise Wife," to be shown in the Davis next week. Minnie Lightner will headline the vaudeville acts.

The stage show, "Dancing Brides," and the feature picture, "Rose Marie," with Joan Crawford and James Murray, are to be he chief attractions in Loew's Penn next week.

Billie Dove is the star of "The Heart of a Follies Girl," the feature film in the Stanley next week. Gus Edwards and his kiddies will be on the stage in "Ritz-Carlton Nights."

"The Opening Night," with Claire Windsor and John Bowers, coupled with five acts of vaudeville, form the nucleus of the show to be given in Loew's Aldine next week.

Hardeen, brother of Houdini, will be the vaudeville feature in the Harris all next week, presenting "A Maze of Mysteries," including creations willed him by his brother. On the screen will be "Her Summer Hero."

Carrie Finnell and her "Red-Headed Beauties" will be the attraction next week in the Academy. Henny Moore is the chief comedian. An elaborate scenic production is promised.

Sally Blane appears with Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton in "Wife Savers" in the Grand next week.

Lois Moran plays the feminine lead in "Sharp Shooters," coming to the Olympic next week. She spent her childhood in Pittsburgh.

Among the vaudeville attractions in the Sheridan Square next week will be Maddock's Mascots, a sextet of Melody Maids playing six pianos simultaneously. The two screen features will be George O'Brien in "Sharp Shooters" and Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic."

The story of tooth-decay is often written in wrinkles

DECAYED teeth, many times, are the source of poisons that may seriously affect the entire system. Vitality is lowered. The radiant charm that is based on health vanishes. Tiny lines are etched into the face.

Decay strikes its most serious blow at The Danger Line, where teeth and gums meet. Particles of food are embedded in the tiny V-shaped crevices between the teeth—where no brush can reach. Fermentation begins. Acids are formed. Decay sets in and dangerous gum irritations.

Your dentist will tell you that Milk of Magnesia is the best means of overcoming this condition. And because Squibb's Dental Cream contains more than 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, it neutralizes all of these acids, and remains to protect the teeth and gums long afterwards. Its delightful flavor makes it pleasant to use. Mild. Non-abrasive. Soothing. 40c for a generous tube at your druggist's.

Children's Colds Best Treated Externally

THAT'S why modern mothers prefer Vicks—it cannot upset delicate stomachs. Rubbed on throat and chest, it acts two ways at once:

(1) Its healing vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the air passages;

(2) It "draws out" the soreness like an old-fashioned poultice.

If Ruptured Try This Free

Apply It to Any Rupture, Old or Recent, Large or Small and You Are on the Road That Has Convinced Thousands.

Sent Free to Prove This

Every ruptured man, woman or child should write at once to W. S. Rice, 1145T Main St., Adams, N. Y., for a free trial of his wonderful stimulating application. Just put it on the rupture and the muscles begin to tighten; they begin to bind together so that the opening closes naturally and the need of a support or truss or appliance is then done away with. Don't neglect to send for this free trial. Even if your rupture doesn't bother you, what is the use of wearing supports all your life? Why suffer this nuisance? Why run the risk of gangrene and such dangers from a small and innocent little rupture, the kind that has thrown thousands on the operating table? A host of men and women are daily running such risk just because their ruptures do not hurt nor prevent them from getting around. Write at once for this free trial, as it is certainly a wonderful thing and has aided in the cure of ruptures that were as big as a man's two fists. Try and write at once, using the coupon below.

LINCOLN TRADERS TO SEE VOTING MACHINE

Despite rumors to the contrary, a voting machine will be demonstrated tonight before the Lincoln District Board of Trade, according to an announcement from Brock N. Edmonston, secretary. The demonstration will be held in the Lemington Public School at 8 o'clock.

"Someone unauthorized, presumably with malicious intent, has spread rumors that the demonstration would be postponed," declared Mr. Edmonston, "but our meeting tonight positively will not be delayed in any way."

C. OF C. TO PUBLISH LECTURES AS BOOK

The entire series of 23 addresses by prominent Pittsburgh business men on some particular factor in the growth and development of the city, which were given during the last year under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, are to be published in book form. The book, "Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh Spirit," is now being prepared and it soon will be released to the public, according to members of the membership committee of the chamber, under whose auspices the lectures were given.

Don't Suffer the Tortures of Rheumatism

If you want gratifying relief from those awful knife-like pains and drive out those dull, grinding aches, take one teaspoonful of Rheuma night and morning. You should soon realize that when Rheuma goes in rheumatic agony goes out.

Rheuma helps to force the dangerous poisons out of the system in the natural way—that's the secret of Rheuma's success.

It matters not whether you are tortured with pain, suffering with sore, inflamed joints or distressed with occasional twinges, Rheuma is guaranteed by May Drug Co. and all druggists to end rheumatic suffering or money back.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease. It often affects the heart and causes death. If you have it in the slightest degree, get a bottle of Rheuma today.

HUNT UNCLE OF SLAIN TOTS ACCUSED OF KIDNAPING GIRL

SECOND NEWS SECTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS FEATURES
THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1928

POLICE SUSPENDED AFTER HOLDUP

D. N. CLEMENTS A. HOGEL

Patrolmen Hogle and Clements were suspended pending an investigation by Police Superintendent Peter P. Walsh when he received the report that they were in the Tunnelview Hotel, 1100 West Liberty avenue, when bandits attempted a holdup. The police say they heard the shot fired by one of the bandits when William Miller, 68, an employe, seized one of them. The officers' shots in driving the men away went wild.

Slugs Man Annoying Daughter

James Patterson landed a knockdown blow last night on a man who had seized his daughter, Dorothy May Patterson, 8, in an alley near their home at 13 Isabella street.

The girl, on her way to a grocery store, was grasped on the arm by the strange man, who said, "Come with me." Breaking away, she ran to the store, where she related her experience to the grocer, who escortd her home.

Patterson then took his daughter to hunt for the stranger. They found him leaning against a pole a block from the house.

The father let fly with his fist without stopping for words. The man dropped to the ground, then staggered to his feet and ran.

DRY LAW VIOLATORS PAY $2,351 IN COURT

Fines ranging from $1 to $500, and aggregating $2,351, were paid yesterday in the Federal District Court by 14 defendants who entered pleas before Judge F. P. Schoonmaker to complaints charging violations of the national prohibition law.

MINERS' RELIEF

ADYNNE R. MYERS

Miss Myers is director for the "Little Bridesmaid," a play to be given Friday night in Hillsdale School auditorium by the Mt. Lebanon M. E. League, under the auspices of Mrs. Ida Allen, Beechview, as a relief for suffering union miners' families.

BELIEVED IN BUTLER COUNTY

BUTLER, Pa., March 15.—Sheriff S. M. Leslie today dispatched men to Valencia to search for Walter Wieland, accused of kidnaping Dorothy Campbell, 14, at the Roxbury, Md., school yesterday.

Parents of the Wieland boy today said they had not heard from him since they sent him money early in the week to cover the cost of damages to a bridge by his auto while en route home after learning that his sister, Mrs. Catherine Ward, had killed her two children in Pittsburgh last Thursday.

The father sent $200 and has been expecting his son home at any time. This morning the family still was in ignorance of the charge upon which their son is being sought.

The Wieland family has tilled a 70-acre farm near Valencia for years. About four months ago Walter went to work on a dairy farm near Roxbury. He was in a Baltimore restaurant when he read of the slaying of his niece and nephew by his sister, and immediately started home. In his excitement he crashed into a small bridge which delayed his trip home.

ADMITS 'KIDNAP' YARN MYTH

Rexford Haney, 23, of 1553 Pennock road, mail truck driver, admitted last night, detectives say, that his story of being kidnaped and taken to East Liverpool, O., in a truck of the Stewart-Warner Company, was a myth.

Haney, detectives say, abandoned his mail truck in Baum boulevard, took the other truck, parked nearby, and drove to the Ohio town. In Central Police Court today postal officials and Stewart-Warner representatives refused to prosecute the driver and he was discharged.

Disaster Buries State Rivalry, Rogers Finds

WILL ROGERS.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 15.—There's your wonderful Red Cross on the job again. Be it Mississippi valley, Vermont, Florida or California, no one knows when their section may be next. Just think: Four Sundays ago I drove all over that beautiful and peaceful valley in California and visited the Harry Carey ranch.

Florida has been mighty nice about it. Yesterday they headlined it as an earthquake just through force of habit. But today they have stuck to the truth. We have great sectional rivalries. But it don't take much to wipe it out when something happens.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Routine or Habit of Behavior Helps Us Through Life, But Can Be Overdone

In a crowd, at a prize fight, say, as Dr. Dorsey suggested yesterday, one may witness exhibitions of conditioned stimulus, the motivation of actions. The difference between marbles and professional baseball is chiefly years. Play is the beginning of knowledge and it is the discovery of the most wonderful mechanism—a growing human being—that starts the boy or girl to discovery of the world.

Why Boy Beats Dad at Golf

CHAPTER 33.

WITHOUT habits we are in a bad way, as poorly equipped for life as though we had surrendered to habits—then we are in a bad way. The clock striking 12 may be adequate stimulus for me to remove my clothes. If I cannot control that stimulus, the authorities will; the clock strikes that hour twice a day.

GEORGE A. DORSEY

This is an extreme case, but it will serve. The clock strikes 12: bedtime. But noon is not midnight. The mere strike of 12 is not an adequate stimulus. My bodily mechanism is not in the habit of running down at the noon hour.

If noon is my hour for food, the stroke of 12 sets off a different mechanism. If my noon behavior is routine and well learned, habit will carry me through. I close my book, adjust my desk, reach for my hat and coat, etc., etc. By 1 o'clock I am back at my desk. Habit carried me through the hour. My conscious activity was planning a vacation.

During that lunch hour I performed hundreds of individual acts, one after another, in regular order; constituting a fairly distinct routine or habit of behavior. Although my mind was busy with fishing tackle, canoes, and such things, I did not have to look out for lamp-posts, breaks in the pavement, or step-downs at the curb. I had learned to thread crowded streets, remove my hat on entering a restaurant, eat with a knife, pay the meal check, etc.

When We Are "Through"

All habitual performances; learned responses, acquired reflexes, habits. Otherwise, the one hour allotted for my meal would not have sufficed. One unlearned in city streets might spend a half-hour crossing Times square; if unaccustomed to a menu, much time in deciding what to order.

We begin with no acquired habits: we begin at once to acquire them: with these, to acquire others. But when we get to be mere bundles of habits, when we know, when our mind is made up, when nothing can move us, we are through: we have used up all the blank pages we inheritd on which to write our life.

People do get that way. They lose capacity for new experience, ability to form new habits, plasticity for new modes of response to change. "Life is not what it used to be." In reality, they cannot respond to change. The cab driver who cannot learn to drive a car is out of luck. Whole groups find themselves in mid-air because they cannot change their habits fast enough to keep pace with change. Their emotional reaction is wasted, misspent energy. They do not thereby change conditions, nor are they themselves thereby adapted.

The champion golfer is not thinking about his stroke: he knows his golf: it is a habit. He is thinking about the cup, or his girl. If he had to think out each stroke, he could not even qualify. Ask him to describe any one particular shot after the game; he probably will not even be able to recall it.

"A centipede was happy 'til
One day a toad in fun
Said, 'Pray, which leg moves which?'
This raised her doubts to such a pitch
She fell exhausted in the ditch,
Not knowing how to run."

Customs and Morals

Habit formation — golf, tennis, pitching hay, eating spaghetti, chewing tobacco, going to church—is at bottom like any other form of learning. Learning to play the piano or checkers, to read Greek or talk Choctaw, to solve puzzles or problems in higher mathematics, involves no new principles not used in learning to walk or in forming the habit of rushing to the window every time the fire engine snorts by.

Most men shave themselves, but go to the barber shop for a haircut. It was not always thus, nor is it thus in all lands. Custom. Custom also is habit. Our repertoire of habits is conditioned by the company we keep. It is not immoral to eat with a knife, or a vice to drink tea from a saucer; but men are socially executed for less.

Take shaving. I move from Fiji to Main street with a normal face of hair. Decide to shave in sheer self-defense. Do not like the idea—emotionally wrought up. Two things follow: I am not likely to forget that shave: if I am not too excited I will be able to give it the best I have. Law number one of learning: emotional reinforcement; the reflex arcs are keyed up for new experience. I may so dislike the idea of shaving that my emotion takes a real fighting mood: the reflex arcs are keyed up to resist.

Not having the shaving habit or habituated to razor-sharpness, I cut myself. More emotion. Never will forget that shave. Nor am I likely to forget the move which resulted in a cut. Second law: attention or vividness. Learning to shave is learning to confine the razor edge to the surface of the face. Old school of hard knocks. If the cut were serious, my learning to shave might end with the first lesson. Many boys stop with one lesson on a pipe.

Habit Paths Worn

Cut not serious. And it is finally all off. Shave again next day. Much easier this time. Suppose I had waited a month; less easy; too much time to forget what I had learned well enough to remember a short time. Memory of first shave and memory of movements made are different processes: different reflex arcs involved. Third law: recency. No one learns to play the fiddle with one lesson a week.

The fourth law follows—keep it up: repetition. Practice makes perfect, wears paths through the nervous system.

I may begin this first shave at the age of 40. I have had no opportunity in life to form habits of action on a reflected image, nor have I formed habits of using hands for more delicate operations than digging yams. I try a half dozen times. My face is a sight; I give it up—as many men do; it is hard to teach an old dog tricks. That is why the boy beats his father at golf.

Law five: every man has his limit. But with enough stimulus the limit can be extended. If the father had to beat his son or have his allowance cut off, he would be more likely to succeed.

DIVA DEFENDS TEMPERAMENT

Amelita Galli-Curci came smiling into Pittsburgh last night to rest today at the Hotel Schenley in preparation for her concert tonight in Syria Mosque.

"Temperament?" she asked, knitting her brows, "why, it's absolutely essential to the singer, regardless of Mr. Werrenrath. It should however," she added, "be controlled—like a bridle on a horse." Thus she disposed of the noted baritone's charges against American trained women singers.

Madame Galli-Curci, accompanied by Homer Samuels, her husband, himself a noted pianist, Lawrence Evans, her manager, and E. Haun, her secretary, was met at Pennsylvania station by May Beegle under whose direction she appears tonight. One of the most popular of the Metropolitan Opera Company stars, she roused a storm of comment some years ago by declaring she preferred to sing "to the galleries" where she knew "they came because they loved music and not to display new and expensive clothing."

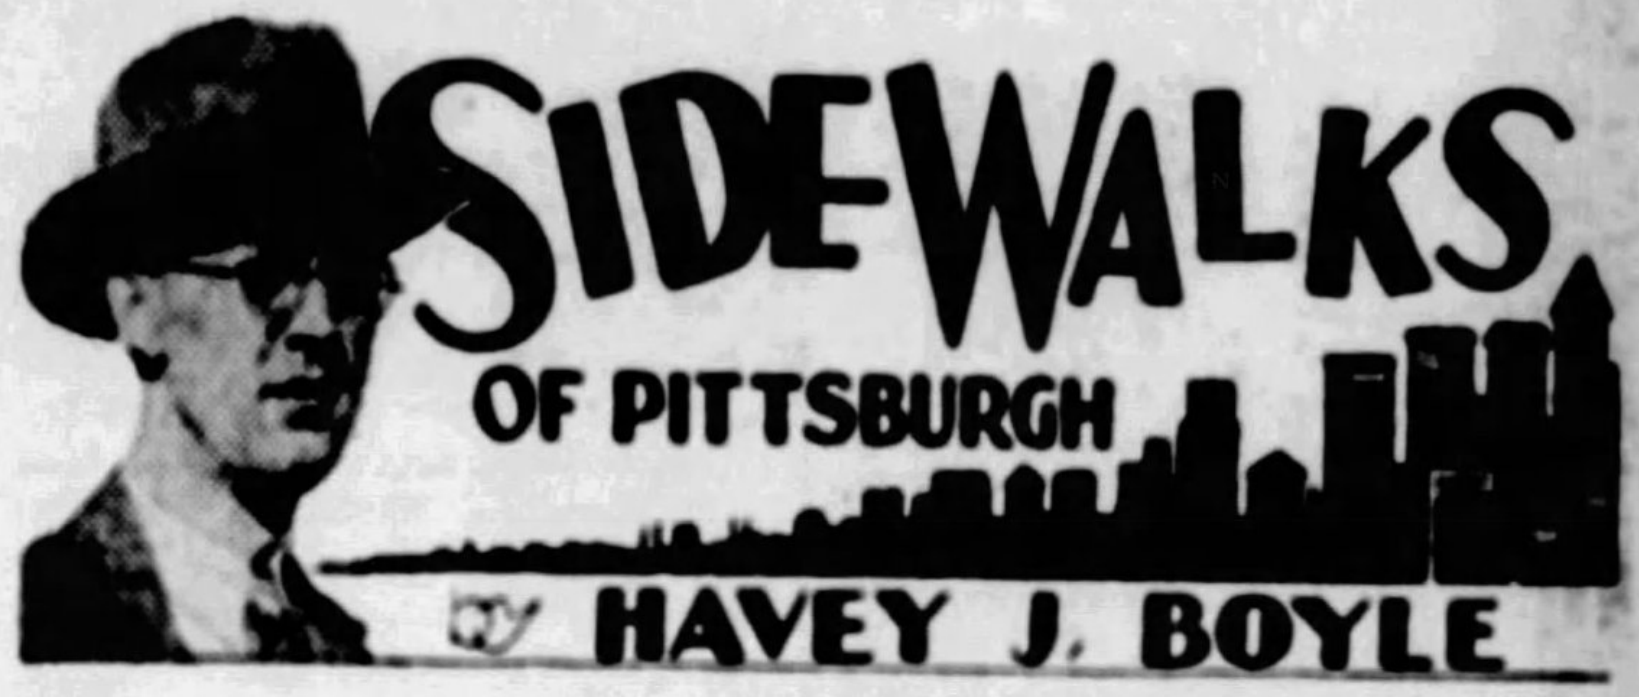
ARREST BOXER TOTING GUN

John J. Cassidy, better known the sporting world as Patsy Gallagher, featherweight boxer, was in Allegheny Police Court today to explain why a loaded 45-caliber revolver bulged from his hip pocket as he loitered in Juniata street last night.

Patsy, who suffered two broken ribs in his match Monday night at Motor Square Garden with U. S. Kid Carpentier, told Magistrate E. M. Hough the affair was "just another tough break." He said he was taking the gun to his sister's home in Fulton street.

Magistrate Hough held the boxer over.



SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

By HAVEY J. BOYLE

IN THE Pennsylvania Railroad Station: What became of the train announcers? "I'm sorry," says the clerk, "but I have an upper." A woman on a bench nursing a baby. Her husband is reaching into a greasy bag for the doughnut which he eventually fishes out. A dancing team, obviously playing a split week. A man who apparently cannot sleep on the trains buys four magazines and two newspapers. A conductor going off duty, with coat over arm and a handbag. The row of Pullman conductors sitting at table checking in the passengers so sleep will not be disturbed. A policeman with a little boy temporarily strayed from an anxious mother. A traveling man with a slight cargo. He mustn't have got the order, after all. Or maybe he's celebrating and not mourning.

THE slow creak of the milk wagons in the early morning recall that here is one place that the auto has not replaced the horse. . . . The milkmen are the bravest of the brave. Through dark alleys in the dead of night they make their deliveries, braving ghosts and more material dangers, such as burglars and bad dogs. To revellers, returning home after a brisk night, the milk wagon is always a symbol of decorum. The milkman making his morning round is the signal to returning revellers that there is work to be done.

IN THE mail: A card from Chich Fraser, who, if he had not turned ball player, undoubtedly would have been a "career" man in the diplomatic service. . . . A letter of complaint that causes even more introspection than usual. A letter from M. Crandall, publicity shark, on the virtues of marathon dancing, the negative of which question was argued here some time ago. . . . An invitation to an old-time dance on St. Patrick's night—the break in Lenten abstinence for some folks. . . . A letter asking why taxicab brakes squeak so much that timid husbands fear to have them driven close to home early in the morning. Circulars from three bookshops. . . . An invitation to get in on the ground floor of a sound investment.

A STORY: Mr. A, boarder at house presided over by a kindly, motherly and religious woman. The boarders, so fine was the camaraderie of the place, made Sunday a morning of gala event by visiting the kitchen to size up the ham and eggs sizzling in the pan. On this morning there were no eggs. The boarding mistress was distraught. No eggs on Sunday morning. The hens had failed her. "Have you prayed?" asked a boarder. "I have not, but I will immediately," said the good woman. She went upstairs to her room and prayed. The boarder who had suggested the prayer, not too seriously, now was struck by a sense of responsibility. He didn't want that good woman's faith even dented. He stole out of the house to a neighbor's where for twice the market price, to insure purchase, he bought two dozen eggs. Hurriedly he returned and put the eggs in the hen house. The good woman, returned from her prayer, marched, almost, to the hen house. Hallelujah, two dozen eggs were there where none had been before.

THE Argument: Prayer's efficacy was proved once again in a strange way. The woman's faith and prayers were answered by that influence which caused the boarder to act as an instrument in getting the eggs. Only sophisticates of the rankest sort would argue over the fact that the hens did not lay the eggs as the woman intended in her prayer. The eggs were there and so a great faith was considerably heightened.

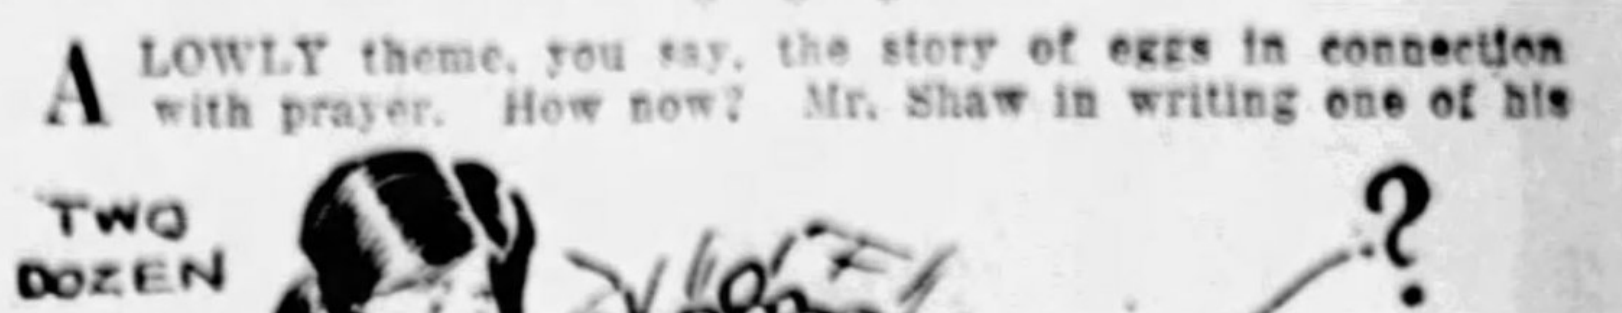
A LOWLY theme, you say, the story of eggs in connection with prayer. How now? Mr. Shaw in writing one of his greatest plays selected a similar incident to introduce the mystic powers of his heroine, Joan of Arc. Joan never would have got permission to visit the Dauphin but for her first miracle in producing eggs from previously lazy hens at a certain farmhouse.



* * *

THERE may be more in the boarding house story of the eggs than meets the eye. At least, let us hope so.

JERRY The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait · by Elenore MEHERIN

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Jerry King, good-looking, charming and 19, meets Saxon Rhodes, a young architect, and falls in love with him. Marza warns her that he will not make a good husband. Jerry sees Saxon kiss Tess Willi, but still loves him and refuses to marry Heine Ross. Saxon finds her sketching and they declare their love. Saxon's uncle sends him abroad to finish his studies. Tess Willi also goes; Jerry is jealous. No letters from Saxon, she cables; he writes that he has been ill. Heine again declares his love for her and begs her to let him tell her something. Jerry earns $150 for making panels for an exclusive shop. Saxon is home and he and Jerry find happiness in each others company. They attend a party in John Iver's studio and Jerry learns much.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"CONSEQUENCES are the everlasting rebels. You can neither control nor predict them. And we never shall until we learn the whole chain of cause and effect; until we penetrate the mystery of the universe. Antoinette was right because she was lucky.

"She might easily have acquired a taste for that kind of life. There are girls who do. The first four or five Aprils may be fair enough. The end is always horrible."

"Then I better not kidnap you!" She sunk her chin in her hands, looking like a slim, dejected sprite.

She thought furiously, feeling with bitter-sweet pain his arm about her waist: "Why am I so disturbed? Why would I like to take his hand and run millions of miles? I wish I could get out of this. Out of it!"

Then exultantly, fiercely: "I never will! I never, never will!"

"Jerry," said he softly, sensing her violent unrest: "I thought you'd wait a thousand years."

She glanced across the bay to the ripple of foam in a boat's wake; to the light amber stalactites going down in caves of water.

"A thousand years, Saxon? Ten thousand! Only that you're not willing to wait. Only that!"

The dark and the hush fell about them in a dreaming peace. She waited—smiling. As he kissed her, she thought happily: "It's because no one has ever loved as I love! No one before!"

Now she added, listening to the sweet fervid incoherence whispered against her lips: "He too! He too—"

Lately she had troubled over this. He seemed so acquiescent to his situation—even content in it. More and more immersed in his work. This frightened her. She thought: "Does he care as much? He's not as impatient as I. Oh, why is it always the girl who wonders—the girl who waits?"

The edge of his loneliness was wearing away. And the moods of stormy yearning for her less thrillingly expressed.

She sometimes wondered, and with a secret panic, if the emotion of those first weeks was half homesickness; half just the exultant joy of his returning, finding her the same—prettier, more ardent, faithful.

She thought, burning: "Suppose we had eloped that night?" Oh, that beautiful night when she had watched him working in such fervor—had seen him turn in that mad, dear way, closing her to him. A word and they would have sped away together. Together—always.

She withdrew her hands excitedly: "I wish we had!"

It was she who waved the blessed moment away. Because she wanted ALL—a love complete, strong, enduring. Worth waiting for! Worth fighting for!

One day toward the middle of October he drove out in the late afternoon to show her the site for the church they were to build. He was in that humming, happy mood that acted on her like an elixir. Work going along magnificently.

"No thrill in the world, is there, Jerry, like the joy of achievement? Beating your brain—making it produce. Look—here's the front elevation — facing those hills . . ."

She glanced into his tanned, fervid face now so eagerly lighted and thought with a leaping pride: "He feels as I felt when I got the sunlight on the canvas!"

And she knew that he must succeed first, for his work and he were one. If it failed, he failed. This intrinsic success was utterly necessary—the cornerstone for any edifice of happiness he was ever to build.

"I didn't think I was going to get it just this way. Will it be fine?"

Tucking his hand in her arm: "Paul's letting me handle the whole thing. Isn't he a prince? As soon as I've paid off this $5,000 I owe, he's going to take me into partnership."

"And then?"

"Then work—work—WORK!"

"Oh, thrilling!"

But there came catapulting upon her the whole mountain of obstacles between them—this success that he must win.

This debt that he must pay.

This fear of a marriage made in love and ended in poverty.

She ventured faintly: "Won't it take an awful long while to pay off $5,000?" She was learning much of money; aching much because of money. In this long eight months her earnings that had promised so gaily, totaled only $125. Not much of a guarantee for that sweet double-blooming their marriage was to be.

"Oh, it seems like such an enormous sum to earn—$5,000."

"I hope to do it in three years. I count on getting jobs of my own—small jobs for houses. They'll help. They'll bring the time nearer."

"Jerry—Jerry, dear—three years won't be so long?"

She looked into his light, thrilling eyes that were now shining with young, high hope. She thought raptly: "Oh, with you beside me—Saxon, with you beside me?"

And to him laughing: "Three years long? Lord Gorgeous, No!"

CHAPTER XXI.

THAT interview with Edmund Meyers was the start of it. Mr. Meyers was a small, narrow man with leonine mane, very large nose and moist, flexible lips—the head of an exclusive women's shop. Twice in the past year he had given Jerry orders.

She stood in his office now—shiny-eyed but businesslike and very alert. The issue was of tremendous importance. Decorative panels for the spring fashion festival. Mr. Meyers was very anxious to outstrip all his rivals. Jerry would make this possible for him. She would win recognition as a commercial artist of dazzling qualities. Her dreams soared.

"I've brought the rough sketches," said she, opening her folio and laying the drawings on the polished mahogany before which Mr. Meyers was now sitting. "They're going to be very dashing—much more attractive than last year. I'm using brilliant color. People will be attracted from across the street to your windows."

Mr. Meyers rapped with his knuckles and studied Jerry's sketches.

Suddenly his bright, small black eyes darting at her: "Well, I should think they would be better than last year. Ain't you asking twice the money?"

"They're twice as large—three times as much work and four times the material!"

"Well, I ain't sure about that, and $300 is a lot of money."

She gave him a blazing glance and asked quietly: "Do you want them smaller?"

"Well—no—the drawings are all right, but I don't see why you should ask twice as much money as somebody else."

The little black eyes confronted her calmly. "I wish if you would, please answer that."

"You agreed on the price. It's fair. I couldn't possibly do the work for less. No one could!"

"No—well, can't they?" Mr. Meyers suddenly became very busy, pulling out drawers, finally flounced a roll of papers on the desk with a triumphant, "What do you think of them for rough sketches? Someone can do them for a good deal less than $300!"

"Do you mean," said Jerry, swallowing fiery breaths, "that you've given the job to Teelow & Co.?"

"I gave you the first chance. Is it my fault you don't ask a fair price?"

She stood there rigid and flaming, her disappointment so keen that she couldn't accept it.

"You mean to say you've given this job away already? Without even asking me to cut the price?"

"Didn't you just say you couldn't do it for less?"

She stooped down and shook her finger in his astonished face. "You damn fox! Wait till Teelow outfoxes you!"

She snatched up her sketches, made a rush for the door and, going out, sent it back with a resounding slam.

She was shaking from head to foot. She had counted on this $300—counted on it with a furious ardor.

Outside in the clear, brisk December evening she went rushing along, seething and furious. The damn fox! Why he had promised her other commissions; had even hinted on regular employment for his chain of stores.

She reached Saxon's office. They were to have dinner together.

"Hello," said he, "wait just a few minutes. There's a new magazine with some drawings of that bell tower I told you about."

She took a chair, turning her back to him and waiting in a belligerent quiet.

He went on with his work.

After half an hour she closed the magazine in which she hadn't looked and moved over to a shadowed corner before a bookcase.

"Well—what's $300—you didn't have it!"

"I can't earn my living! It means that I can't earn a living!"

The room, except for his draughting board, was now in darkness. This darkness stifled her. She felt herself moving about through it in a towering blaze.

Her eyes fastened on Saxon, absorbed and lost in his work. He must succeed here first. She must succeed. And years from now, when they were secure; when the flash and fervor were dimmed, they could love!

She turned her back abruptly, considering this. Oh, the caution of it! The despicable timidity! Why were they not gallant and high-hearted about it?

Why were they not arrogantly bucking life! Joyously defiant—seizing it—living it?

This is the brave way—the beautiful way. Dare and be! Today—now!

Three years since that night of wonder and moon-mist — that young, sweet night in Monterey.

They would wait three more. For all anyone knew, thirty more!

The blaze in her heart grew. She was trembling in it when finally he put away his pencils and, tired but exultant, came toward her.

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

Philip Veritzen Startles All by Extending an Invitation to His Son, Noel

LILLIAN'S slangy but expressive comment upon Philip Veritzen's facial expression coincided with my own observation of him. He did look as if he had "swallowed the canary," but while I was as ignorant as Lillian of what lay back of his amused gratification, I was sure that the immediate cause was some discovery he had made concerning Eleanor Lincoln while studying her intently as she sat opposite him at the dinner table.

With Lillian's injunction bolstering my own imagination spurred inclination, I continued my intent furtive observation of Philip Veritzen's actions as we sat on the veranda chatting over the coffee. There was no moon, and the twilight was fast becoming darkness as we came out upon the veranda, so I switched on the reading lamps on the small tables at either end—we fairly live upon our porches in summer—and was thus enabled to watch every change in my employer's expressive countenance.

It did not take me many minutes to see that the man who was called the greatest master of stage craft in the world was deliberately using his skill to group the young people so that Mary and young Jackson were seated together while he himself talked absorbedly to Miss Lincoln and to Noel.

It was this last procedure which made me draw in my breath sharply with the sense of something electric, dramatic, in the mental atmosphere. His message to Noel which I had given the boy had commanded him to act as if they had met only the day before instead of having been estranged for years, but it also had conveyed no message of reconciliation. Yet this manner toward his son was that of a proud and affectionate parent. Surely, I thought, he could not be so wantonly cruel as to raise the lad's hopes of once more possessing his father's affection, only to dash them down again!

I settled myself, in a chair as near to Miss Lincoln as I could manage without appearing to wish inclusion in the little group of which she was the center. That she was enjoying herself immensely was patent, but I caught a little uneasy side glance which she sent in the direction of Mr. Jackson, and wondered at her perturbation until I reminded myself of the fact that she always appeared to hold that young gentleman in distinct if resentful respect, even though she carried the pretense of never having met him before our encounter at the railroad station.

It was all very much like a child's picture puzzle I told myself as I sat, intently watchful of my queerly assorted guests. Certain pieces fitted together, but so many were missing that I had but vague concepts of what the finished block would be.

Philip Veritzen's voice raised itself a trifle in pitch, and I had the impression that he meant us all to hear the apparently careless words he addressed to his son.

"Why don't you come over to the hotel with me tonight, Noel, and stay with me while I'm down here? I have an extra room in that suite I always take there. I engage it as insurance that no objectionable person is put next to me, so there'll be no trouble about putting you up."

I think we all held our breaths for a moment at the surprising speech. I know I did, for I knew what this offer must mean to the loving, loyal, sorrowful heart of young Noel Veritzen.

Skin Clears Right Up!

because this Remedy Works Two Ways at Once!

In any case of pimples, blackheads, sore or itching skin, you must both clear and heal the skin! You must clear it of the pimples, blackheads, scales and blotches and also heal the sore and broken tissue. That's what Rowles Mentho Sulphur does—the sulphur clears the skin while the menthol heals. That's why this great combination is putting an end to skin troubles. One night sees a great change in the skin. In two or three days the skin is of a new, clear healthy whiteness. Rowles Mentho Sulphur is inexpensive and all druggists supply it in jars ready to use. Be sure it's Rowles.

How to refine your skin

. . . (a graduate nurse's beauty secret)

EVEN though a woman has perfect features and lovely eyes, she can never be really attractive if her skin is coarse in texture, oily, marred with disfiguring eruptions or large pores.

But such skin flaws are so needless now. For we nurses have discovered a real beauty secret—an easy way to banish all such blemishes, keep the skin soft, smooth, clear, fine-textured—always.

The treatment is so simple. Just a dainty, snow-white greaseless healing cream that you massage into your skin at night and use as a powder base during the day. Doctors first prescribed it for chapped hands, burns, eczema and other skin troubles. Then nurses adopted it as a complexion cream. Now over a million women are enthusiastic users of Noxzema.

I urge you to try it, to see for yourself how quickly its soothing, healing medication contracts enlarged pores, smoothes away roughness and blemishes, makes the skin beautifully clear, soft and fine.

All good drug and department stores carry Noxzema. A small jar costs very little. Get one today—and see for yourself how it beautifies.

OLD-TIME COLD REMEDY—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and relieve grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Perfect health is refreshing

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S. Its tonic effects will surprise you.

WHEN your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning.

Instead, you feel refreshed; ready to meet the world!

Your appetite is keen, you enjoy work or play. Your skin is clear—cheeks naturally rosy.

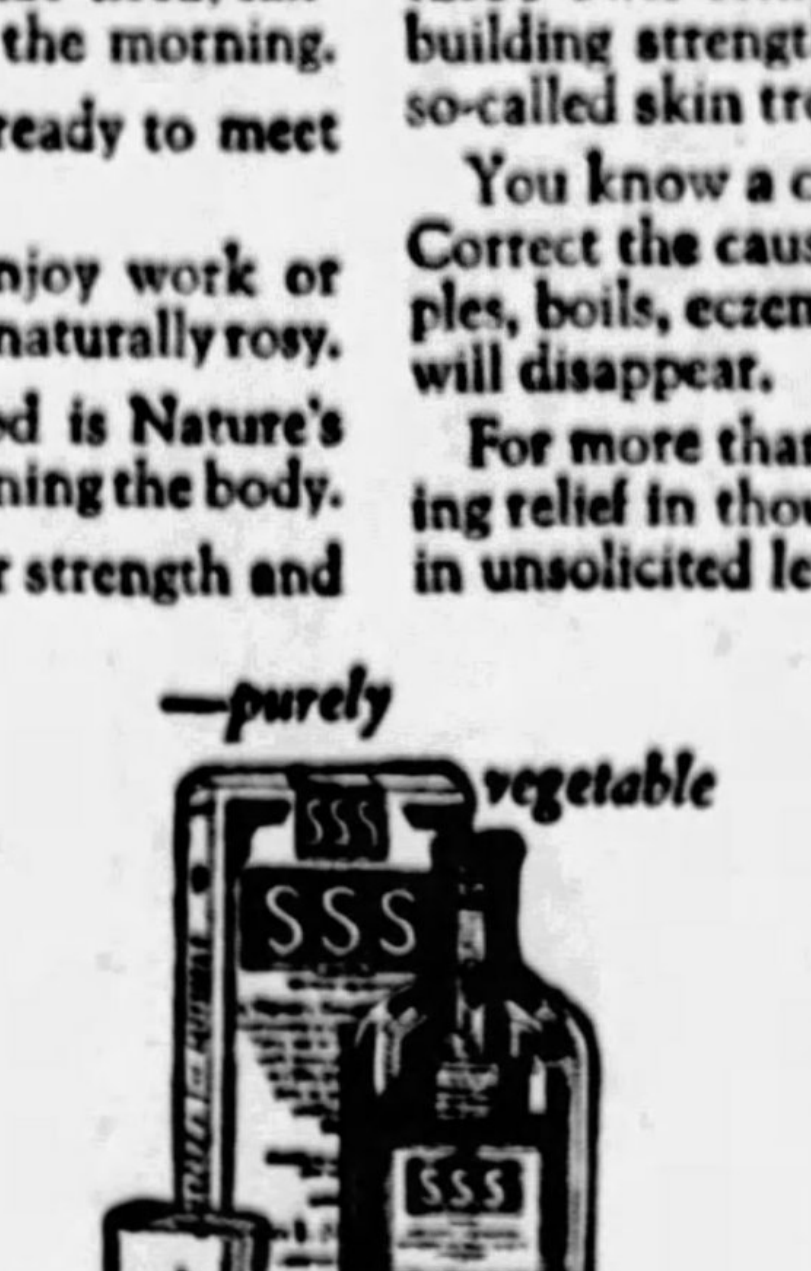
All this because rich, red blood is Nature's substance for building and sustaining the body.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S. S. S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—thru the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads, but thanks to S.S.S., I got rid of them. My face now has a smooth feeling. I think S.S.S. does many wonders for the system. Besides giving me a clear complexion, it gave me a healthful look." Miss Angela Annunzio, 1007 S. Racine Ave., Chicago, Ill.



"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did." Miss Ruth Gahm, 1134 Elden Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

S.S.S. is a splendid tonic for growing children, too.

At all drug stores. The larger size is more economical.

PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

With Half-Way Mark in Lent Reached, Pittsburghers Devote Activities Largely to Travel

IN CASE you have forgotten, this is the mid-day of Lent, Mi-Careme, to be exact, and if Pittsburgh were as active socially as some of its eastern sisters, there would be a large ball of some sort tonight in celebration. Quite big affairs of this sort are scheduled for New York and other cities of the East as well as the South, most of them, of course, being philanthropic in nature.

But here, as has been true for several weeks, the only news just now concerns our travelers. I understand that Dr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Blair, of Fifth avenue, who have been at the Barclay in New York for several days, have gone on to Atlantic City and are planning to be at the Ritz Carlton for the week. Their son, Alexander C. Blair, Jr., is with them.

And another in the East is Laura Collord, daughter of the George L. Collords, of Morewood avenue. She is in New York, I hear, with Mrs. G. T. Perkins, of Sharon.

Going rather swiftly from one side of the continent to the other, we have word of still more Pittsburghers at Del Monte, Cal. Among them are Mrs. George Hamilton Flinn and Mrs. William N. Frew, of "Beechwood Hall," Fifth avenue, who have just recently joined the colony of local people there. As you know, the Daniel M. Clemsons, of Fifth avenue, have been stopping in Del Monte, as well as the W. G. Clydes, and the William T. McCulloughs and their daughter, Elizabeth, of Bennington avenue, are spending a week there. The polo matches, of course, are one of the main attractions for the winter visitors.

Some folks are just leaving for trips abroad, and others are coming home again after extensive tours. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pancoast, of Jackson street, East End, I hear, came home this week after taking a cruise on the Mediterranean.

Graduates of Dilworth Hall are going to hold a tea on Monday afternoon in the drawing room of the Pennsylvania College for Women, and they have invited all alumnae and former students to come. They are to have a brief business meeting and after that there will be a musical program given by Mrs. C. Frederick Newman and Mildred Eiler, both of whom are alumnae. Mrs. Thomas Pringle, of Reynolds street, is chairman for the affair.

Miss Grace N. Taylor, formerly of Pittsburgh, who has been spending the winter in Washington, is now visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cornelius, of Darlington road, before opening her cottage at Ventnor, N. J.

In Washington, Pa., on Wednesday, April 4, there is to be a large wedding, which will unite two prominent Pennsylvania families. On that day, Esther Mary Baird, daughter of the William A. Bairds, of LeMoyne avenue, Washington, will be married to Charles Henry Heppenstall, of Philadelphia. The ceremony will be performed in the First Presbyterian Church of Washington.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Glenshaw Presbyterian Church will hold a bake sale at the North Side market on Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Virginia Gheen, worthy matron of Lorena Orr Chapter, No. 18, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained her officers and several friends at a prettily appointed luncheon in Kaufmann's today. Covers were laid for 12, with appointments in pink and yellow. Cards followed.

Decade VI, of the Pennsylvania College for Women Alumnae Association, will give a benefit bridge party March 24 in Berry Hall, with Mrs. Hobart L. Means as chairman. Her committee includes Miss Harriet Barker, Miss Louise Montgomery, Miss Anna Mary Orr, Miss Rachel Stevenson, Miss Marjorie Barnhardt and Miss Helen Ahlers.

CARNEGIE GIRL SCOUTS TO ANNOUNCE AWARDS

A unique program has been prepared for the Carnegie District Girl Scout Court of Awards which will be held tomorrow in the Rosslyn Farms School. The program will be given in the form of a Girl Scout book, containing living pictures of a Scout's life, and showing first aid, nature study, flag history, child nurse and home maker representations. Scout troops of Carnegie, Rennerdale and Rosslyn Farms will have charge of the "book." Chief among the badges to be awarded are those of home maker, dancer, cook, laundress, health winner, musician, bugler and handywoman.

Mrs. H. H. Jennewine was reelected president of the Wednesday Club of Wilkinsburg at a luncheon meeting held yesterday in the home of Mrs. J. S. Hooper, Hill avenue. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. May L. Kolb; recording secretary, Mrs. Oscar Bateman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. W. Sickler; treasurer, Mrs. H. D. Raymond. Current events were given in response to roll call and music was furnished by Mrs. Carl Riggs and Miss Margaret Riggs, who played piano duets. At the next meeting, which will be with Mrs. F. H. Horner, of Savannah avenue, the members will present a play.

Side trips from the Panama Canal Zone were described yesterday by Mrs. Frederick McKim, before the Edgewood Woman's Club meeting in the Edgewood clubhouse. Mrs. McKim described with especial attention to detail a visit made to the Sanblas Indians, displaying some of the work of the Indian women—marvellously wrought applique on calico one-piece garments. Mrs. Dean Harvey spoke on play censorship, telling what censorship plan is now accepted and other plans which have been tried and have failed. Mrs. Joseph Schutzman, president of the Women's International League for Peace, also was an interesting speaker and at the business session the Edgewood women's co-operation with the Better Magazines Council was reported.

Mrs. Lane Thompson will direct the Drama League Radio Players in the production of "The Marriage," an idyl of Irish country life, which will be given over Station KDKA at 10 o'clock Saturday night. The play, which was first written in Gaelic by Douglas Hyde and translated into English by Lady Augusta Gregory, has been adapted for radio projection by George M. P. Baird, Pittsburgh playwright, who directed the first production of the play in America in 1916. The members of the cast, all but one of whom are of Irish descent, are Robert Wilson, Miss C. Emma Kaytor, C. Paul Crofford, Francis J. O'Connor, Francis Devlin, Jr., James L. McGrath, Frank B. Flood, Miss Lucille Ross, Miss Dorothy Devlin, Miss Eleanor Cain and J. C. Spahr Hull. The prologue will be read by Mrs. Jean Vaughan.

The Linwood-McNaugher Parent-Teacher Association has arranged a dual program for next week. The first of the two meetings will be held in the Linwood school with Frank M. Leavitt, associate superintendent of vocational education, speaking on "The Trend of Modern Education," while Thursday night in the McNaugher School, Vincent Roy, director of art in Peabody High School, will have as his subject "Art Programs in the Public Schools." Music will be furnished by the school orchestra and each meeting will be marked by exhibition of the pupils' work. General discussion will follow both talks and there will be a social hour with refreshments.

The art, drama and music section of the Forest Hills Woman's Club is arranging a musicale under the direction of Mrs. Richard C. Allen, to be held next Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Frank W. Wentworth. The club had its regular meeting this afternoon with Mrs. R. T. Toner as hostess and Mrs. A. C. Streamer, Mrs. R. A. Neal and Mrs. O. P. Rowe, assistants. For the program Mrs. C. C. Skinner spoke on the high lights of her last year's European trip, and a dramatic sketch was presented by pupils from the Hawthorne Road School under the direction of Miss Blanche Allshouse.

"Personalities Met in Newspaper Work" is the subject of a talk to be given tomorrow night in the Ingram Presbyterian Church by Miss Gertrude Gordon, writer and lecturer, under auspices of the October Circle of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. A musical program will be given before and after the address by Mrs. Robert Scott, contralto.

* * *

Mrs. E. B. Heyser, of Amber street, will entertain Monday afternoon with a bridge party as a benefit for the Outlook Alliance. The hostess will be assisted by the members of the hospitality committee.

* * *

The Alumnae Association of the Pennsylvania College for Women will open its fourth annual council at a meeting beginning at 10 tomorrow in Berry Hall. President Cora Helen Coolidge will give an address of welcome, following which the association will hear reports from officers, students and faculty. The alumnae will be the guests of Miss Coolidge at a luncheon and of the faculty at afternoon tea. The feature of the evening's entertainment will be a performance of "The Adventurer," a play written by Margaret Woolridge and Catheryn Watkins, students of the college.

Brides in Ten Cities Tell Housekeeping Plans

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A thousand brides in ten large cities disclosed their household plans in a recent survey.

On one point all these brides agreed. Their homes are to be run with skill, but they will not sacrifice a bit of good looks or charm. For instance, nearly all have decided how they will keep nice hands in spite of housework.

Many had noticed in beauty parlors that pure Lux suds are used in manicuring, to soften and whiten the fingers. Others had noticed how nice their hands looked after washing fine things with Lux. So, of 1,118 brides, 1,084, or 97%, plan to wash dishes with Lux.

"It's so easy never to let your hands get red and coarse-looking," they said. "Many soaps make the skin harsh, but pure Lux suds are so soothing and gentle! And Lux for dishes is inexpensive, too, because the big package of Lux washes 6 weeks' dishes."

George WHITE
Americas Greatest Judge of beauty, discloses the secret of SKIN PERFECTION

SHADES of face powder of the same name differ—and it is this difference that makes one face powder more becoming than another—that causes one to bring out and enhance beauty to the full, while another of the same name fails utterly to accomplish its purpose.

Mr. George White, who has demonstrated this fact to some of the most beautiful girls in America who have appeared in his revues, writes:

"I find that the various shades of Houbigant face powder, if properly selected, such as Rachel for the brunette, Naturelle for the blonde, endow women with a degree of beauty not attainable in a powder of any other make."

OPPOSE HUNGARIAN FETE

SLAVS OBJECT TO RECEPTION BY CITY

A group of Pittsburgh Czecho-Slovakians, Jugo-Slavs and Rumanians, who claim to represent nearly 200,000 residents of Allegheny county, called on Mayor Charles H. Kline this morning to protest plans for the formal reception to 150 Hungarians coming to America for the dedication of the statue of Louis Kossuth, Revolutionary hero.

Armed with documents, pictures and a miscellany of literature, the delegation filed into the Mayor's sanctum and 15 minutes later filed out. They intimated that the Mayor had not entered into their spirit of antagonism and had refused to "add fuel to the flames."

"We do not care to discuss the meeting," D. G. Procupp, of the American State Bank, said, after the meeting. The Mayor did treat us rather cooly but we will not make any more moves until the Hungarians come and then, if they spread their propagada, we will not stand for it. The whole purpose of this Hungarian tour is to stir public feeling against the Treaty of Trianon. The Hungarians are a defeated nation and should accept the loser's lot.

"We cannot stand aside and watch these Hungarians come here spreading their propaganda," Mr. Procupp added. "Austria-Hungary held the yoke over our countries for centuries. The Treaty of Trianon cast this oppression aside. The dedication of the statue is only a gesture to cover up the Hungarian's mission of propagadna. We shall wait and see what they do, and then we shall act."

The Hungarian delegation will be in Pittsburgh March 21, it is understood, and Mayor Kline is planning a liberal celebration for it.

Gives Your Hair Unusual Beauty

The attractiveness of even the most beautiful women depends upon the loveliness of their hair.

Fortunately, beautiful hair is now easily obtained. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

GAME TONIGHT

Greenwood vs. Fitfield

A NEW high score for five-men teams for this district has been hung up for pin smashers to aim for by the Weurthele ducks team, which compiled a score of 2,652 in the third day's competition in the annual Southern Duckpin Association's tournament on the Forward alleys.

The former high local mark was 2,633. The Wuerthele bowlers turned in three games of over 900 and three of 190 or over in ringing up their huge total. W. Zorn had the best individual game score, a 162. Much bowled 202 and Byers 200 to add to the team's total. This score is expected to stand during the entire tournament. It will take some great bowling to surpass such a figure.

Lachendro bowled high in the singles yesterday, turning in a 571 score. Gray was second with a 545 and was high for single game with mark of 235.

In the doubles, J. Valenley and Mikrut were high with 1,058, and the Emery-Gray duo second with 1,004. All the other doubles scores were under. Byers and Terryson and Wotle and Gorman coming along in a tie for third high with 990 each.

District and out-of-town bowlers will continue the rolling today, with new leaders expected in both the singles and doubles.

The leading scores follow:

SINGLES.

W. Lachendro, 571; Gray, 543; A. Boucher, 536; E. Emery, 534; B. Wylie, 507; Schearer, 510; Zorn, 512; M. Gillespie, 489; E. Leitz, 484; J. Miller, 491; P. Porter, 476; Byers, 489; J. Mikryt, 469; D. Lauder, 476; R. Ayers, 475; Joyce, 460; Bowman, 462; C. Born, 452.

PROMOTER TO HAVE BOARD'S HELP

CHICAGO, March 15.—(AP.)—Promoter Jim Mullen will file suit restraining Sammy Mandell from engaging Jimmy McLarnin in a lightweight championship battle in New York for Tex Rickard, May 17.

Mullen has Mandell's signature for a title match to be fought here June 21. Mandell has $5,000 on deposit with the Illinois State Athletic Commission to go through with it, with McLarnin as his opponent.

Walter George, secretary of the state athletic commission, said that Mandell faces suspension in 28 states, comprising the National Boxing Association. The Illinois commission, he said, would support Mullen and make a fight to suspend Mandell in the affiliated states for violation of his contract.

Secretary George held that Mandell, through his manager Eddie Kane signed the contract with Mullen in good faith with the intention of boxing McLarnin in Chicago and nowhere else.

Eddie Kane, manager of Mandell, has declared that he accepted Rickard's offer only when convinced that Mullen could not obtain McLarnin's services. Mandell has a forfeit of $5,000 posted with the Illinois State Athletic Commission binding his June match for Mullen.

CHILLY SAUCE

BY CHILLY DOYLE

Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent.

PASO ROBLES, March 15.—One of the important developments in the spring training of the Pirates consists of Pete Scott, late of Joe McCarthy's Cubs. Pete may or may not be the third string catcher. Certainly he has shown himself to have more offensive punch than any of his rivals.

As a member of the Cubs, Scott was officially listed a disappointing batter against righthand pitching. There was one dissenter to this proclamation, however, that person being Pete.

"I DON'T know where they got that stuff," said Pete, "when I was in the American Association I preferred the righthanders over the southpawing."

Scott has smeared righthanders with smashing effect in the camp games. If he works under the bat, National League fans will watch the fastest catcher in the league when Pete gets on the sacks. It is this same speed, by the way, that makes catching objectionable to Scott. A long siege of work in the squatting position, he thinks, would impair his dash. Pete also says his arm is better adapted to outfield duty.

IN all events, Scott is sure to be retained. As a general utility player, the erstwhile Cub should be almost as valuable as Joe Harris, thus adding much to the reserve strength of the team.

Scott can play the outfield and first or catch in a pinch, while Harris has played a number of positions in his career.

TOURNEY OPENS AT KEN-HI

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER

Franklin High School will open its defense of the Allegheny-Kiski Valley basketball championship tonight on the hardwood of the New Kensington High School. The biggest tourney since the event's inception is anticipated this year; 21 teams have entered.

The schedule calls for Aspinwall to meet Leechburg in the opening game and the remainder of the card follows: Freeport vs. Blairsville, Falls Creek vs. Kittanning, Verona vs. Saltsburg, Har-Brac Union vs. New Bethlehem, Arnold vs. East Brady, Glenn Campbell vs. Parnassus, Springdale vs. Franklin.

On Friday Vandergrift, Oakmont, Apollo, Brockway, Big Run, New Kensington and Tarentum are scheduled to play. The final, semi-finals and consolation games will be staged Saturday.

ALL-STARS TO PLAY

The all-star teams of Sections 1 and 2 of the City Senior League will battle for the divisional championship in the Duquesne University gym tonight in a contest that has attracted much interest throughout the district. Coach Chester Briggs, of Fifth Avenue High, is tutoring the Section 1 lads, while Coach Atkinson, of Allegheny High, the City League titleholding school, is mentoring the Section 2 outfit. The game will get under way around 7:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow night Duquesne and New Castle meet for the championship of the W. P. I. A. L. in the Pitt Stadium pavilion.

JUNIOR BASEBALL LEAGUE IN GREENSBURG

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 15.—A Junior Baseball League will be formed in Greensburg and a petition has been presented for the use of Athletic Field during the coming summer. NO JUNE BOUT FOR TUNNEY

NEW YORK, March 15.—(AP.)—Feeling anything but cheerful after thinking about his heavyweight merry-go-round, Tex Rickard was Florida-bound today, leaving an impression that Gene Tunney would be without an opponent on June 14, the date projected for a heavyweight title match at the Yankee Stadium.

Although Rickard did not make any definite announcement that the June bout was off, he said he would confer with the champion at Miami Beach before trotting any more heavyweights into the competition for his contemplated big show.

Rickard has been trying his best to provide a foe at once worthy of the champion's steel and the public's gold, but thus far has not been impressed with the results. At the present time, Tom Heeney and Johnny Risko stand out as the principals of his final in the eliminations, but their victories over Jack Delaney and Jack Sharkey, respectively, lacked the quality he seeks to put on a championship affair.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

HOOLIGANS OUTPLAY REGS FOR 4-2 WIN

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.
Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent.

PASO ROBLES, March 15.—The undisputed champions of Paso Robles, the peppery Pirate Hooligans today were all set to make it a grand slam with the National League favorites as their victims. The sixth and last battle of the training camp teams is slated for this afternoon. The best game of the preparatory season was staged yesterday, the Hooligans matching everything their superiors threw at them as they scored a 4 to 2 victory in nine innings.

Joe Harris played first throughout the strenuous fight and the snappy action of the second team infield made it stand out over the first string quartet, the players of which seemed loggy.

Adam Comorosky put on his daily act in the cleanup position. The Polish sensation singled in the first round with two out to drive in Joe Harris. Two were down in the fifth when Commy spanked out another hit to register Coburn Jones. Adam has been a distinctive headliner in each of the five triumphs scored by the Hooligans.

WRIGHT HITS HOMER

Glenn Wright reflected the keen spirit of combat in evidence for the fifth fight when he drove a smashing wallop over Fred Brickell's head for a clean homer. Buckshot went around standing up on the four-sacker.

As well as outplaying the Regulars, the Yans outsmarted them. The kids won the battle in the fifth by scoring two tallies. Fred Brickell and Comorosky tricked the first team with an attempted double steal; then when the ball was thrown through to second, Comorosky doubled back to first and was

A BRILLIANT victory was won by Western Pennsylvania's organized soccer leagues and a long and bitter fight ended when Secretary Pat Donohue, newly elected by the West Penn Football Association, received a letter from President Andrew M. Brown, of the United States Football Association recognizing the present officials of the local governing body and refusing to recognize any communication from former secretary Parks.

In the long communication received by the local secretary the national officer backs the contention long advocated in these columns, that soccer football is made possible by leagues, and that the management of the soccer interests should be invested in the representatives from the leagues in the districts.

In closing, letter states that the following officials are recognized Harry H. Fairfield, president; William Montgomery, vice president; Tom Edwards, treasurer, and P. W. Donohue, secretary.

The delegates to the council are

A CARD of three eight-round bouts and a six-round preliminary is billed for the McKeesport club tonight.

Allen Beatty, of McKeesport, and Jackie Murray, of Center avenue, Negro welterweight rivals, will meet in the main event, and Young Milligan, of the North Side, will oppose George Harris, of Niles, O., and Chuck Zelanck, of Glassport, and Linn Jordan, Negro middleweight, of Johnstown, are down for the other feature number. The opener will be between Ken Hargrave, Negro 130-pounder, of New Kensington, and Whitey Hollis, of McKeesport.

Young Chappie of Philadelphia, who has boxed Willie Davies twice, has been booked to meet him again in the windup of the all-star card of four eight-round bouts at Motor Square Garden next Saturday night. Young Saylor of Charleroi and Bobby Richardson of Portage will box the semi-final. Jack Barry will be one of the principals in the second event and Jack Ungle of Etna and Joe Todd of Donora will open the show.

The Tomosky brothers of Wilmerding, Andy and George, will appear in the two feature bouts at the Manayunk A. C., Philadelphia, tonight. Andy will meet Paddy O'Brien and George will oppose Mickey Larkin. Each bout is a 10-rounder.

A capacity crowd appears assured for the benefit boxing show and

WITH a new baseball season at hand, managers of local sandlot clubs are racking their brains wondering where they are going to get the money to maintain strong clubs at the prevailing prices for players and the prevailing intakes at the gate.

Times were tough for many clubs last year and not a few disbanded and most of them faced deficits at the end of the campaign. The County League had a particularly hard time of it, several of the members going deeply in the hole. The Bellevue club, which won the championship, had to raise money to pay off a deficit and the Homewood club did likewise, while the Green Cab team was such a heavy loser the year before that it did not enter the circuit last season.

All three of these clubs expect to be back in the field again. The Homewood club has held a couple

Newton Far in Lead

PEACH SPRINGS, Ariz., March 15.—Athletes in C. C. Pyle's cross country "bunion derby" today were faced with a 40-mile lap to Seligman, east of here.

Arthur Newton, South African and English marathoner, lopped the 52 miles from Kingman to Peach Springs yesterday in 7:50 to take first place in the lap and further increase his time lead from Los Angeles.

Meanwhile the field narrowed down still more. The long grinds have sapped the strength of the weak, and each day the starters are fewer.

Two prominent runners from widely separated sections of the world were among those who seemed inclined to "call it a day" here early today.

They were Giusto Umek from sunny Italy and Osmond Metcalfe, Canadian.

Umek, doctors said, had trouble with one of his feet and may not start the grind again today, while Metcalfe suffered a nervous shock from the strain of the race.

Attendants picked up the Cana-

MID-ATLANTIC MEETS HERE

The annual schedule meeting of the Middle Atlantic League will be held in Pittsburgh tomorrow, according to notices sent out yesterday by President Elmer Daily. The meeting is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. at the Hotel Henry.

Announcement also was made of the appointment of five umpires for the coming season. Dennis O'Keefe of Addison, N. Y., a league arbiter since 1926; George McNally, Altoona; William J. Raga of Toledo, from the South Atlantic League; Sam Richardson, from the Peidmont League, and Danny Friend of Chillicothe, O., have been appointed.

Red Robinson, Pittsburgh umpire and boxing referee, who served a year as an ump in the Eastern League, is expected to join the staff within a day or two.

THE strenuous conditioning work that the Pirates are doing out in Paso Robles is only one side of the tremendous amount of preparation that is necessary for the coming of another baseball season in this city.

S. E. Watters

The playing side is one thing, but the business side is another thing again, and behind the walls of Forbes Field the offices are humming with hustle and bustle as arrangements progress for the inauguration of the 1928 season of the National pastime at the Oakland stadium.

PITTSBURGH'S first home game of the new season will be played at Forbes Field five weeks from today, weather permitting, and as the date of the local curtain-raiser approaches the rush of work to get the stage set for it becomes greater.

But fortunately Father Pitt has a man to direct the big job who has proved year after year that he is capable of handling it in a manner leaving nothing to be desired.

That's where Secretary S. E. Watters demonstrates annually that he is one of the biggest individual business forces in major league baseball. You don't hear or see much of Sam on the outside, as he always shuns publicity, but by the manner in which he engineers all big events and occasions at Forbes Field, ticket sales, arrangements for handling of crowds, keeping the usher system up to the highest standards, and taking care of the thousand and one other duties of his office he has long since earned general recognition as the best man in all baseball for the post that he holds.

THERE is, as usual, a mass of detail to be attended to at Forbes

EAGER to keep in playing condition until they are called to defend their Pittsburgh and Ohio Valley League championship against the winner of the Junker-Siano-Somerman eliminations, scheduled to start tonight, the J. J. Mieles will invade the South Side Market House tomorrow night to engage the Goldensons.

The Goldensons and Mieles have been strong rivals on the basketball court for several years and they invariably play their best game when they clash. Interest in this contest is high in local professional floor circles and indications point to a capacity crowd at the Market House.

The two teams are evenly matched and if they display the same form that marked their previous battles this year, followers of the two clubs are going to see an interesting game replete with thrills.

THE long-drawn out competition to determine the winner of the second half championship of the Pittsburgh and Ohio Valley League will start at Columbus Temple tonight when the Somermans entertain the McKeesport Junkers.

With the playoffs scheduled to go six games before the championship is decided, there is a possibility that the championship series may not start for at least three weeks.

Each of the three contesting clubs must meet its opponent at home and abroad and in event the same three clubs, the Somermans, Sianos and Junkers, are deadlocked at the end of the series another playoff will be arranged.

Tomorrow night the Junkers meet the Sianos at McKeesport in the second game of the playoffs, while Monday night the Sianos entertain the Somermans at Columbus Temple.

The Sianos and Junkers will come together for the second time at Columbus Temple next Wednesday night, while on Thursday the Somermans meet the Sianos. Friday the sixth and final game will be played between the Junkers and Somermans at McKeesport.

DRIBBLES

The Y. M. H. A. will close its basketball season Saturday night when the senior team meets Mifflin Avenue M. E. Church and the reserves clash with the North Side Community House Reserves, a team that lost only one game this year.

The McKeesport Cyclers last night defeated the Duquesne Lafayettes, 43 to 37, in the first game of a series to decide the professional championship. Bill Miller, of the Rauhs, jumped center for the losers.

The Red McMahan Club is hard at work for the final game with the Lou Gordon Juniors for the junior championship. The two teams divided honors in the first two games.

Two preliminary games will precede the main attraction between the Goldensons and Mieles at the Market House tomorrow night. The first games involve the Goldenson Vanities and the Dairy Cottagers.

She is only 18 and has been an active swimmer since infancy.

Pitt to Fete Champ Cage Team Tonight

By JESS CARVER.

THE members of the undefeated University of Pittsburgh varsity basketball team will be guests at a banquet given in their honor by the Y. M. C. A. of the university tonight in the Hotel Schenley. Among the speakers will be Karl E. Davis, graduate manager of athletics, and Bill Parsons, former Panther basketball captain.

The following members of the varsity team will be honor guests and presented letters: Capt. Sykes Reed, guard; Stanley Wrobinski, guard; Charley Hyatt, forward; John McMahan, center; Lester Cohen, forward; Paul Sandberg, forward; Jerry Wunderlich, center, and Paul Fisher, guard. The lettermen will elect a captain.

Another Pitt varsity team closed its season without defeat last night when the Panther swimming team vanquished Carnegie Tech in the Trees gym pool, 42 to 20. The Pitt freshies also closed an undefeated season, winning from the Skibo plebes, 49 to 10.

CELTICS, FT. WAYNE WIN PLAYOFF TILTS

NEW YORK, March 15.—(AP.)—The New York Celtics last night defeated the Philadelphia Warriors by 32 to 24, in an eastern division playoff of the American Basketball League, thereby gaining the right to oppose the victor of the playoff in the western section between Cleveland and Fort Wayne.

CLEVELAND, O., March 15.—(AP.)—Fort Wayne won the first game of a play-off series with Cleveland last night for the right to represent the western half of the American Professional Basketball League in a later battle for the league title. The score was 22 to 15.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Steubenville, O.—Eddie O'Dowd defeated Louie DeArce, 10 rounds; Harry Crisp knocked out Young Nanci, 2 rounds; Young Bruno knocked out Jimmy Hanlon, 1 round; Young Ketchel defeated Russ Elliott, 6 rounds.

At Fairmont, W. Va.—Andy Charleton knocked out Mickey Wilson, 4 rounds.

At Edinburgh, Scotland—Alex Ireland defeated Tommy Milligan (for European middleweight title) on foul, 9 rounds.

At Rochester, N. Y.—Roberto Roberti knocked out Tiny Jim Herman, 5 rounds.

At Ely, Nev.—George Eagle knocked out Jimmy Ross, 4 rounds.

At San Francisco—Artie Sullivan and Jimmy Patterson drew, 4 rounds.

of boxing smokers and dances and raised money which has paid up last year's loss and left a small balance in the treasury, but hardly enough to meet its needs. The prospects of the other clubs may be said to be no better.

THE managers of these clubs would save themselves a lot of trouble and headaches by taking stock at this time and working out a sane policy of expenditures. If the money does not come in at the gate, it stands to reason they cannot meet high guarantees for players. In other words, they figure to start out in the hole if they go shooting in the same manner as in past seasons—playing the game far above their heads.

Playing on city playground diamonds, many of the clubs are not permitted to charge stipulated admission prices and must depend on collections taken up in the crowds. These collections vary in size, according to the caliber of the opposition the home team faces. Often they are not sufficient to pay operating expenses. The average donation by the fan in the crowd, I understand, is 10 cents. Many give more, but others give nothing, and many youngsters are unable to pay. Yet, under these conditions, many managers try to outdo the other fellow to the extent of putting a team on the field that is playing the equivalent of 50 or 75-cent baseball. They go out after big names, the Honus Wagners, the Elmer Knetzers and the Cy Rheams, etc., and outbid one another for their services. For an important game they will pay a pitcher from $50 to $75, occasionally importing him from some distance.

When the season is over contributions have to be asked from business men or special functions held to raise the money to pay off a deficit.

Wouldn't it be more sensible to keep within reasonable bounds and let the players who are worth so much money go out in the professional leagues, where they belong, and concentrate on making up teams for the local leagues of the players from the communities which they represent? Here is an idea that is worth thinking over and I shall appreciate any intelligent comment on it.

Terms High, Owner Says

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17.—(AP.)—Difficulties between Waite Hoyt and the Yankees' management over an increase for the pitching star eclipsed other matters at the New York training camp today. Reports prevailed that Col. Jacob Ruppert had virtually conceded to Hoyt's demand for a two-year contract, but was not in accord with the $20,000 annual wage sought by the hurler who won 22 games for the world champions last year.

MANUSH JOINS BROWNS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 15.—(AP.)—Outfielder Henry Emmet Manush, who is expected to be one of the pillars of the reorganized St. Louis Browns, has arrived in camp from Detroit. His arm, which was injured in a fall, was still in splints. His hand was almost totally paralyzed as the result of the injury, which has been treated at Detroit for the past three weeks.

BROWNS IN TRIPLE PLAY

ORLANDA, Fla., March 15.—(AP.)—The veterans and Colts of the Cincinnati Reds scheduled a practice contest today in preparation for their two games with Washington at Tampa tomorrow and Saturday.

The Reds executed a triple play in the game which the St. Louis Browns won yesterday 6 to 4. There were men on first and second when Kress, St. Louis shortstop, hit a liner. McCann, playing second for the Reds, caught the ball and shoved it to Shortstop Pittinger, who covered second, and retired Blue. Pittenger then shot the ball to first, where Kelly put out Schulte.

RED SOX LOSE TODT

He wrenched his knee in the eighth inning of the 4-4 tie game against the Baltimore Orioles yesterday and had to be carried from the field. But an examination showed that his injury was more painful than serious.

INDIAN LINEUP CHOSEN

CLEVELAND, O., March 15.—(AP.)—Only Lew Fonseca, counted on as regular second baseman for the Cleveland Indians, was missing from the regular lineup which Manager Peckinpaugh announced would oppose the Toledo Mudhens at New Orleans today.

Today's batting order was expected to prove the same that will enter the American League race. Jamieson, left fielder, was lead-off man, followed by Fonseca; Morgan in centerfield, Joe Sewell at short, Burns at first, Summa in right, Hodapp at third and Luke Sewell behind the bat.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(INS.)—Now that Joe Dundee has made his peace with the California Boxing Commission, it is anticipated that the welterweight champion will be reinstated by the New York commission at its meeting here tomorrow. Dundee probably will defend his title against Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wildcat, at one of the New York baseball parks late in May or early in June.

EMANUEL VS. RISKO

HEALDSBURG, Cal., March 15.—(INS.)—Armand Emanuel, Jewish heavyweight, today had under consideration the offer of a match with Johnny Risko. PLEASANT VALLEY, Stowe Civic, Hermes-Groves and St. John's Lyceum were admitted as new members at a reorganization meeting of the City League at Reliance Life Company offices last night. J. L. Thomas club, North Side Civics, Book Shoe and Reliance Life are the hold-over teams. The league is to function as an eight-club circuit in 1928. Gene Boyle was chosen as president for a second term and Everett Sweeney was named secretary. The next meeting is to be held April 28. Everett Sweeney, H. J. Finn, E. K. Miller, Thomas Carson and W. B. Grady were appointed to draft the rules under which the league will operate.

Dormont, Bellevue, Beltzhoover and Homewood were the four clubs represented at a meeting of the Allegheny County League last night. Although no definite action was taken, it was indicated that the league will be reorganized and that new clubs seeking franchises will be admitted. Green Cab, 1926 champion, is one of the clubs willing to come back into the circuit. No date was set for the next meeting.

At a recent meeting in New Kensington, the Allegheny Valley Baseball League was organized with seven clubs in line. The loop is to be made up of Stewart Truck of New Kensington, Hudson-Essex of Tarentum, West Leechburg, Hamilton and Alter, Parnassus, Glassmere, Acmetonia, Louie's Garage of West Tarentum. The league favors a split schedule, and will be adopted by the Spalding baseball family.

The decision of Bill Goehring, West Newton baseball farmer, to quit diamond activities, will occasion deep regret in the minor leagues as well as in local sandlot circles. Goehring probably groomed more players for the minors than any other pilot in Western Pennsylvania, and it was his ability to turn out star performers that brought about his retirement. Practically all of Bill's talent has been picked up by minor league clubs, leaving him without material with which to mould a 1928 team.

A new league is to be formed at a meeting in East Liberty tomorrow night. Teams representing commercial establishments are to make up the circuit, and first division clubs of last season's East Liberty Commercial League probably will be in the lineup.

The Suburban and South Hills Leagues have been reorganized. Forfeits have been posted and everything is in readiness for the start of the races.

Due to the fact that many stars have advanced to faster company, there are several positions open on the Preston club of McKees Rocks. Capable performers wishing to try out with the Prestons should call Manager Shannon at Federal 9137 in the evening.

Pappy Swaney, Braddock southpaw, who turned in many a victory for Newark last season, now is conditioning with the Buffalo Bisons at Palmetto, Fla. Swaney was purchased by Buffalo shortly after the close of the 1927 campaign.

Carl Meisenberg, American League; M. Quinn, Chartiers Valley League; P. Stark, Monongahela League; Alex McClurg, District League; F. Mincher, International League, and a representative from the Scottish Clan League.

The outstanding paragraph of the national prexy's letter reads as follows:

"The strength of a state association is determined by the number and quality of the leagues holding membership and of their representatives who, together with the elective officers, constitute the council. The officers of the association are responsible to the council in the performance of their duties: They hold office only by grace of council and the creative body holds power of removal. A football association controlling a certain defined territory is not a body of individuals with responsibility.

"The association operates only because of the clubs, and the voice of the clubs, speaking through the league representatives is the voice that commands responsibility."

DEPLORES SITUATION

President Brown deplores the condition of things in Western Pennsylvania, but stated "that as long as there remains an active majority of clubs properly organized and operating within their respective leagues, there is no occasion to be unduly alarmed. Undoubtedly the large majority of the clubs are supporting the council as presently constituted, we must recognize the rights that attend the majority in the present instance, and without inquiring into the merits of the charges made against the former officers, do recognize the officers named."

It is very evident that the official communication was hurried by letter written by former Secretary Park asking that all communications be addressed to him as the only recognized secretary of the West Penn, this letter followed a meeting held in the Hotel Henry. But that letter did not carry any details regarding who attended the meeting, who sponsored any resolution, nor the name of the presiding officer.

The same mail carried an account of the meeting held by organized soccer in Western Pennsylvania, the number of leagues present and the officers in charge. This letter carried the signature of Secretary Dohohue.

It was a long, bitter fight, carried along by the clubs of the district who had become wearied of playing politics in the sport. A set up of an autocratic body is detrimental to any sport, and soccer is no exception to the rule.

Now that they have the official sanction, President Fairfield and his council have a muddled state of affairs to untangle, much to accomplish before the season ends.

HOREMAN WINS TITLE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—(AP.)—Coming from behind with a series of brilliant runs, Edouard Horemans, Belgian billiard champion, took the world 18.2 championship from Jake Schaefer here last night by a count of 1,500 to 1,130.

The match ended in the fifty-fourth inning when the Belgian "miracle man" clicked off 81 points after taking the balls on a set-up. The last two blocks yesterday afternoon and last night were in marked contrast to the opening sessions when Schaefer secured a slight lead. After runs of 248, 194 and 154, Horemans made 117 in the fifty-third inning to virtually decide the match.

Schaefer, despite his delicate stroking, could not get the feel of the table in the last two blocks.

"I could not shoot them in a basket," Schaefer remarked as the new champion made the final billiard.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Willie Hoppe continued leading the American Three-cushion Billiard League by defeating Clarence Jackson, 50 to 27, in 40 innings. Should Hoppe lose his four remaining matches he still would finish in a tie for first place. Allen Hall went into second place by defeating Augie Kieckhefer, 50-45.

KANSAS CITY, March 15.—Milwaukee bowlers led the return of visiting teams to the alleys of the American Bowling Congress here today.

Two-men teams from Milwaukee opened the day and were to be followed by teams from Kansas City, Collinsville, Ill., St. Louis, Chicago, Newark, N. J., Fort Dodge and Buffalo, N. Y.

Kansas City booster five-men teams rolling last night failed to displace the Meister Insurance Company of Omaha from the lead.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 15—(AP.)—In last night's play in the tournament of the Amateur Billiard Association of America, Lewis M. Volger, Indianapolis, defeated Dr. A. J. Harris, Chicago, 50 to 43, in 79 innings. J. N. Bozeman, Los Angeles, defeated Monroe Messinger, Detroit, 50 to 29, in 77 innings. High runs, each 3. E. Z. Wainwright, Pittsburgh, defeated Samuel Carder, Buffalo, 50 to 42, in 108 innings; Monroe Messinger, Detroit, won from Robert Lord, Glen Ellyn, Ill., 50 to 48, in 59 innings, and Dr. A. J. SOME of the Pirate rooters here at home are manifesting undue concern over the manner in which the Yanigans trounced the Regulars repeatedly in the early practice games at Paso Robles.

As a matter of fact it is nothing to be worried about, and is no indication of weakness on the part of the first team.

In the first place, weak clubs do not win pennants, and not only did the Bucs succeed in doing this last year, but they have added strength for 1928.

In the second place, veteran players do not take the early practice games as seriously as the youngsters. They do not risk injury to themselves by taking unnecessary chances, and frequently are merely trying out plays instead of playing for runs, whereas the recruits put everything they've got into the practice bouts and are interested only in trying to win the game.

WHETHER the Pittsburgh hockey club goes or stays, there is one member of it who is certain to remain right here in Pittsburgh next winter. That player is Duke McCurry.

Duke McCurry.

Even when it looked until recently that the deal for the sale of the club had been practically closed and that the Pirates would be shifted to Cleveland, McCurry told his friends that he had made up his mind to remain here even if he were offered a place on the team in its new home.

McCurry's reason for deciding to stay in this city is that he is studying dentistry at the University of Pittsburgh and is determined to complete his course, which has one year more to run, and to graduate in 1929.

"I wouldn't leave Pitt for anything," said Duke. "Dentistry is the profession upon which I shall have to depend for my livelihood when my hockey days are over, and naturally it comes first with me."

MENTION of hockey players brings to mind a queer case of form improvement on the Pittsburgh team this season.

At the beginning of the race, the Pirate management asked waivers on five players, and one of these five was hurriedly passed up by every club in the major league. Right now, the owners of the local club have no fewer than four good offers from big league teams for the same player.

WHILE conceding that the Yankees in general respects are a highly satisfactory group, Manager Miller Huggins says there is still something to be desired. He would like to have at least one more pitcher of the southpaw type.

As many as 15 boxmen are enrolled on the staff of the world champions, but in all that number the veteran Herb Pennock is the only left-hander since the release of Dutch Ruether and Joe Giard.

Pennock, of course, is too valuable to be used in batting practice before a game in which the Yanks are scheduled to face a southpaw, and he cannot be called upon to do relief duty on the slab every time a left-hander is needed to stop a batting spree by the opposing club, so Huggins is watching and waiting for a chance to grab off a serviceable fork-hander.

AT THAT, Huggins has been in even a worse situation in the matter of left-hand pitching and managed to come out of it successfully. He actually achieved the feat of winning a pennant without the services of a southpaw flinger, the only time such a feat has been accomplished in modern major league ball.

That was in 1922. Huggins had had Southpaws Herb Thormahlen and Frank O'Doul on his staff in 1921, but Thormahlen was let go in the deal for Sam Jones, Everett Scott and Joe Bush before the 1922 season opened, and O'Doul was disposed of in the trade for Joe Dugan.

The Yanks went through the season without a southpaw and won the pennant. Pennock did not join the team until 1923.

dian, who appeared only temporarily distressed as he demanded food. He consumed four sandwiches, three cups of coffee and a double order of ham and eggs, whereupon he said he felt better but had lost his appetite for long-distance hiking.

HART EXHAUSTED

Charley Hart, 63-year-old runner of Shirley, England, was brought in here Wednesday night almost exhausted. Doubt was expressed if he would be able to start today's jaunt.

Quomawahu, Hopi Indian, declared that he would attempt to make up 30 miles and in addition push on toward Seligman to try to catch up with the van.

The Indian brave collapsed 22 miles out of Kingman as the result of a shin injury when he tripped over a tent stake.

Charley Hart, 63-year-old Britisher and oldest man in the race, was picked up fagged out 10 miles west of Peach Springs, but was still "topper," he said, and determined to continue. Giacomo Clarizio, New York Italian, who suffered a wrenched knee when sideswiped by a motorcycle, will be allowed to continue without time loss. Referee Arthur Duffey announced after investigation revealed that the runner was not at fault.

LEADERS LISTED

Here were the positions of the leading runners as they started today from Seligman:

1—Edward Newton, Rhodesia, 61.20.00.
2—Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 69.07.02.
3—Arne Souminen, Detroit, 70.29.15.
4—John Cronick, Saskatoon, Can., 71.43.10.
5—Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England (no figures given).
6—Ed Gardner, Seattle, 72.17.18.
7—Giacomo Clarizio, Chicago, 72.37.20.
8—Nestor Erickson, Portchester, N. Y., 74.14.30.
9—Charles Miller, Walnut Park, Cal., 77.31.00.
10—Philip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 77.37.00.
11—Jack Phillipson, Denver, 78.19.00.
12—John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 80.03.00.
13—William Kerr, Minneapolis and Los Angeles, 83.20.34.
14—Fred Kamler, Germany, 84.16.25.
15—Henry Swabey, York Township, Ont., 84.45.58.

trapped as Brickell went over the plate with the second run of the inning, Commy having driven in the first tally.

Carmen Hill, Burleigh Grimes and Joe Dawson fooled the first team in a convincing way. Hill was touched for a run when Wright hit for the circuit, but Grimes shut the door in the faces of the enemy in three rounds. Dawson was scored upon once.

Glenn Spencer, Jim Lindsey and Charlie Walsh divided the slab work in the Regular lineup. Spencer and Walsh are two members of the youngest group in camp. Lindsey has had more experience and shapes up like quite a pitcher, the three throwed lots of stuff, but those Yans won't be stopped, it seems.

Fast fielding on the Yanigan infield threw the Regulars for a loss. Grimes and Joe Cronin turned in a couple of sweet plays that smacked of championship stuff. On a bunt play, Burleigh threw in to Sunny Joe, who snagged the ball to retire the head man.

The contest was witnessed by the school children of Paso Robles.

The school officials decided to let the youngsters leave their classrooms at 2 o'clock. The game had hardly started when hundreds of children swamped the park. They offered a great sight, the day being perfect for sport.

GIVES SELF UP AFTER FIRE

The fire which destroyed an unoccupied house at 28 Greenleaf street, West End, early yesterday, was caused by Steve Gusser, 49, no home, and a companion, who had gone into the place to sleep, Gusser told Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Thirteenth Street Police Court today. Gusser, who gave himself up to West End police last night, said he and his companion had started a fire in a grate, which had resulted in an overheated chimney. He was held over while police started a hunt for the other man.

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? You are poisoned. The bowels are clogged and liver inactive. Take the famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients and olive oil. They act easily upon the bowels, free the system of poison caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Be beautiful. Have rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy that make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, nightly. Know them by their olive color, 15c, 30c and 60c.

A COUGH is usually nature's effort to clear the air passages of germ-laden mucus that obstructs breathing.

PERTUSSIN not only helps Nature to free you of excessive phlegm but it soothes the inflammation and relieves the cough spasms.

PERTUSSIN is freely given for irritating coughs with excellent results, and has been favorably known to practicing physicians and pharmacists for more than 20 years.

If PERTUSSIN does not relieve your cough in a reasonable time, it is wise to consult your physician.

COKE GAINS BUT 780 TONS

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 15.—The Courier says: The result of plant operation in the Connellsville region last week was a close approach to a standstill condition. There was neither addition to nor subtraction from the number of ovens in blast at either furnace or merchant plants. The net gain in regional production was but 780 tons, the total for the week having been 65,570 tons as contrasted with 64,790 tons a week earlier. The former became a new high mark for 1928, but the average weekly gain from 45,700 tons at the beginning of the year to 65,570 tons 10 weeks later, has been but 1,987 tons, which shows how slowly the upward climb has been made.

The estimated production of coke during the week ended Saturday, March 10, was 65,570 tons, divided between the two districts as follows: Connellsville, 27,770, an increase of 1,380 tons; lower Connellsville, 37,800, a decrease of 600 tons, or a net increase of 780 tons, as compared with a net increase of 3,510 tons during the preceding week.

Idleness Hurls Challenge To Nation and Industry

—By B. C. FORBES—

OWEN D. YOUNG, recognized as one of America's foremost business statesmen, recently made this observation to me, in reference to agricultural depression, that has a bearing on existing unemployment:

"The answer, the explanation, the excuse that there is no precedent for doing anything is not satisfactory under present conditions. When the need is sufficiently great to warrant adventure, we must find a way. It is better to make the adventure and fail than to sit by and do nothing, for at least that shows interest and sympathy and helps to relieve bitterness, whereas when you complacently remark, 'We are sorry for you,' the suffering parties naturally feel sore and resentful."

Any disposition to ignore the presence of unemployed workers makes them equally sore and resentful.

I SAW an illustration of this in one western city. For a time the existence of a rather large number of idle workmen was totally ignored. Finally some of the ring-leaders inflamed the minds of the more desperate of the unemployed and they left the city authorities know that if no effort whatsoever were made to help them, they would go on the rampage.

The authorities immediately took notice of the conditions—and the temper of the idle changed the moment they knew their plight was receiving consideration.

Why try to falsify the actualities of employment and unemployment?

To proclaim aloud daily that the country is reveling in delightful prosperity serves only to anger wage-earners and their families who cannot find means of earning even the barest necessities of life.

Not only so, but the facts are not so terribly alarming that there need be any concerted effort to belittle or misrepresent them.

There is an unpleasant amount of unemployment not at a few centers, but in a great many places. Winter always drives large numbers of workers from the country to the city. It has done so this year. And because the demand for additional workers has been slight, more unemployment than usual has been the natural result.

HAVING admitted the actualities of the unemployment situation, let us ask, what can be done about it, what should be done about it?

THE most pressing need is for all public bodies contemplating construction to launch operations forthwith. The federal government has several hundred millions of dollars of unused appropriations which should be put to work without one day's avoidable delay.

During a recent tour over the continent I was told in almost every state and almost every city visited about this, that and the next plan for public improvement. In many cases the financial requirements have already been provided for. Why not immediately start making the dirt fly, and thus fill needy pay envelopes?

CHARLES M. SCHWAB once declared that most of Bethlehem Steel's additions and expansions were made not in boom periods, but during dull spells, because labor was then more plentiful, materials were cheaper and a better return could be obtained for every dollar spent than during boom times.

Here is a timely suggestion for many firms, companies and corporations.

Individuals, too, can help at least a little. I am building a modest addition to my home and the industry of the workmen strikes me as quite notable in contrast with that of the workmen on a job done when labor was scarce.

THESE prosaic, practical suggestions can and should be acted on immediately.

The emergency thus having been met as fully as possible, our statesmen, federal and state and civic and municipal, can and should get together with representatives of employers, representatives of labor, professors of economics, etc., and thresh out ways and means for organizing national, state and municipal machinery for compiling thoroughly comprehensive employment and unemployment figures continuously and for handling systematically, intelligently, scientifically any unusual employment.

Heretofore our politicians have fallen down on this job miserably.

ANYONE who has seen with his own eyes the operation of the "dole" handed out to unemployed in Britain cannot but shrink from contemplating the introduction of any similar makeshift here.

Yet the stern fact remains that it is unthinkable that the richest and most prosperous nation on earth should not move a finger to prevent from starving thousands and thousands of family bread-winners unable to earn a dollar through no fault of their own.

A challenge has been hurled to both our political statesmanship and our business statesmanship.

It should be met at once.

MOTORS AGAIN LEADS STOCK ADVANCE

NEW YORK, March 15.—(AP.)—Violent speculation for the advance was resumed in today's stock market, with General Motors again in the forefront of the advance. More than a score specialties were marked up 5 to 8 points on a series of drives against the "short" interest in those issues. Rails assumed increasing prominence, with six issues in new high ground for the year. Trading picked up on the rally, averaging more than 750,000 shares an hour in the first three hours.

General Motors, after absorbing a large amount of profit-taking earlier in the week, suddenly rushed up 7 points to a new peak at 164, with buying influenced by reports of increasing sales. Radio held fairly steady around yesterday's final price of 150 during the early part of the session. American Linseed, the spectacular performer yesterday, opened 2 points lower at 104, rallied to 110⅞ and then quieted down around 100.

United Drug was bid up 8 points, Houston Oil 7¼, General Railway Signal 7, Dupont, Wright Aeronautical, Savage Arms, Mullins Body and U. S. Industrial Alcohol 6½ each, and Midland Steel Products preferred, American Cigar, International Nickel, International Telephone, Vanadium and National Tea 5 points or more.

Wabash was again the leader of the rail group, moving up 4 points to a new peak at 74. The St. Paul issues, St. Louis - Southwestern, Lackawanna and New York Central also reached new high ground.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, March 15.—Further moisture southwest and relative weakness of Liverpool wheat quotations led to an early setback today in wheat values here. Corn was firm as a result of unfavorable weather and of export business at the highest prices yet this season. Opening ⅛c to ⅝c off, Chicago wheat rallied a little and then sagged lower than before. Corn started unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher and held near to initial figures. Oats were easy. Provisions also tended to sag.

At noon wheat was ⅛c to ⅝c net lower and corn at ⅛c to 1c advance.

Associated with improved weather conditions for wheat Southwest reports were at hand today that the wheat crop from Omaha to Kansas City is in good shape and that despite some evidence of winter killing the plants are greening up nicely and making some top growth. It was added that there is plenty of moisture for the present in the section named.

In connection with word of enlarging export business today in corn, considerable notice was taken of the circumstance that foreign buyers appeared to be following advances in price. Besides the premiums being paid here increased materially within the last week. Export business both in corn and oats at the highest prices on the crop were announced as having been done overnight.

GENERAL LIST HOLDS FIRM

Business on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange dropped off to a fraction of the recent volume in the forenoon dealings today. Only a few scattered sales were recorded in the first hour, and prices were practically unchanged.

The decline in activity was due mostly to the attitude of the trading element which has become nervous over the pace at which stocks have been moving in New York. No change in the character of the trading on the "big board" was evident this morning, but cautious traders are apprehensive that the recent orgy of speculation centering in less than a dozen volatile stocks will bring the inevitable reckoning. However, there are several groups in the big market which are in position to serve as cushions should the market turn downward and it is felt in some quarters that support of the rail, utility and oil divisions will serve to check any demoralization, a not unusual development in such circumstances.

BIDS APRIL 5, 1928,
SEWER CONSTRUCTION
LETTING NO. 2.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Commissioners of the Township of Penn, County of Allegheny, Pa., at their place of meeting, Thad Stevens School, Frankstown road, until 8 o'clock p. m., April 5, 1928, for the construction of sewage disposal treatment plant along Shades Run, situated in the Township of Penn, County of Allegheny, Pa., according to plans and specifications on file in the office of Alex Hutchinson, Township Engineer, Borough Bldg., Swissvale, Pa.

Plans, specifications and bidding proposals can be obtained at the office of the Township Engineer, Borough Bldg., Swissvale, Pa., for use in making up a bid by depositing $10.00, and this deposit will be refunded when said plans and specifications are returned in good condition within two weeks after the date set for receiving bids by the Board of Commissioners.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check made payable to the order of the Township of Penn, upon a national bank or trust company, or cash in the sum of at least 10% of the total of the proposal submitted, which shall become the property of the township in case the successful bidder fails to furnish bond and enter into a contract as is provided. Check will be returned upon approval of contract and bond by the Township Commissioners. Proposals to be marked "Sewage Disposal Treatment Plant." A good and sufficient surety company bond acceptable to the Board of Commissioners of the Township of Penn, will be required for the faithful performance of the contract, in a sum equal to 50% of the amount of the contract price.

Board of Commissioners of Township of Penn, County of Allegheny, Pa., reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

What of Your Son?

SONS enter very intimately into the plans of their fathers. Certain things are expected of them; eminence at school; success in business or professional life; and special regard for their parents always. Fathers, in return, are ready to do much for their sons. Some think of these things vaguely; others work them out into clear-cut plans.

THAT boy of yours might succeed without healthful recreation, education, a little capital to start him in business. But he would be handicapped. You intend that he shall have these advantages. What if you go before he has them? Insurance on your life can assure your boy's future, equip him for success. And if you make this institution Trustee of the fund, our officers will supply considerate, intelligent guidance—as well as dependable income from the fund—to your boy. Write or ask in person for our booklet "The Life Insurance Trust." It will interest you—and the boy.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

General Motors Spurts Again.

General Motors crowded Radio out of the spotlight today and proceeded to dominate the market in the same decisive manner that characterized its advance last week. The fireworks in Motors started during the noon hour when the up movement attained a speed even greater than that noted on the previous advance. The stock had been rising moderately to near 169 when the purchase of several large blocks at that figure proved to be the "go" sign and the price bounded forward four points in as many minutes. Enormous blocks were handled on the move and the Street was again in a quandary as to who was buying and who was selling. Probabilities are that the February sales figures, showing a substantial gain over January, was a factor in stimulating the uprush. Many rumors as to the objective on the new advance were circulating through the financial district. There were many who talked confidently of 175 as the goal in view for the present, while the old story of "200 this year" was also heard again.

GMO February Sales Expand.

February sales of General Motors divisions to dealers totaled 163,751 cars and trucks, as against 114,426 in February, 1927. Two months sales were 264,817, against 215,793. Retail sales by dealers to users in February were 121,629 units, against 107,615 in February, 1927. Two months' sales were 220,307 against 185,035.

Michie Printing Press.

The Michie Printing Press and Manufacturing Company has sold an issue of $1,000,000 5½ per cent debentures to Halsey, Stuart & Co., Continental National Company and Union Trust Company of Chicago. The company is engaged in the manufacturing of printing presses. The Michie company has recently acquired a substantial interest in the common stock of the Dexter Folder Company, manufacturers of automatic feeders for presses, folding machines, the feeders therefor, and a general line of book-binding machinery. The Michie company has had an excellent financial record over a long period of years.

Professional Man's Investments.

Moore, Leonard & Lynch are distributing to their clients and friends a handsome booklet, "The Professional Man and Investments," designed as a guide for the professional man whose time for attention to investment and market details is limited. The pamphlet is distinctive as a high-class piece of financial advertising. There is complete glossary of financial terms, a comprehensive dividend table, statistics on Pittsburgh bank stocks, commission rates and other information.

Vanadium Earned $4.31 a Share.

The Vanadium Corporation reports for year 1927 consolidated net income was $1,549,218 after depreciation, depletion and federal taxes, equal to $4.31 on 374,431 shares, against $1,500,611 or $4.16 a share in 1926.

Lake Navigation Prospects.

Toledo dispatches say Great Lakes navigation may open before May 1, permitting earlier coal and ore movements than in years. Continued warm weather enabled vessels to reach Lake Erie islands near the Canadian shore, on Tuesday. Iron ore stocks at Lake Erie ports totaled 5,000,000 tons and present demand by blast furnaces, caused by increased automotive schedules in that region, may exhaust stocks if opening of navigation is delayed.

February ore shipments from Lake Erie ports were 392,114 tons, against 631,478 in February, last year. Shipments the first two months this year were 873,146 tons, against 1,030,549 a year ago.

Dollar Savings and Trust.

The annual statement of the condition of the Dollar Savings and Trust Company shows an increase in deposits since the last call amounting to $519,211.11.

Pacific Coast Passed Preferred.

The Pacific Coast Company has passed the $1.50 first preferred dividend, due at this time.

Commonwealth Power.

Directors of Commonwealth Power Corporation will meet for dividend action next week, when it is expected consideration will be given to the declaration of an extra dividend on the common stock with the possibility of an increase in the regular rate. If the past action of directors is any criterion of the company's dividend policy, any change in the dividend more probably will in the form of an extra with a higher basis reserved for consideration in the middle of the year when a better indication of the earnings trend for the remainder of the year will be available. Last year, March 11, the company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly of 50 cents. At that time, the latest report of earnings available, that for the 12 months ended January 31, 1927, showed $4.18 a share on 1,131,984 shares. Current earnings are running at a substantially higher rate, with the report for 12 months ended January, 1928, showing $4.65 a share on 1,191,165 shares, which compared with $4.36 a share on the same number of shares for the full year 1927. The current rate on the common is $2.50 annually, which was inaugurated last August when the dividend was increased from $2.

Swift Calls $10,000,000 Notes.

Swift & Co., Chicago packers, has called $10,000,000 of 10-year 5 per cent sinking fund gold notes for redemption at 101½ and interest on April 15. They were due in 1932. The issue originally was $30,000,000 and was marketed in 1922. An annual sinking fund of $500,000 already has taken up $3,500,000 of the total amount. The current redemption will reduce funded debt to $61,418,500, with $14,311,500 of first mortgage 5s outstanding in addition to the remaining notes.

To Pipe Oil Westward.

National Transit Company has completed arrangements for pumping of crude oil from east to west for the first time in the history of transcontinental oil movement. Texas crude will be moved to the Atlantic seaboard by tanker and trans-shipped via pipe line to mid-continent points. The new arrangement, according to National Transit's statement, adds a brighter outlook to pipe line prospects than the industry has had for several years. National Transit's earnings report for 1927 shows net income of $588,035 after charges, equal to $1 a share on the stock, as compared with $1.78 the previous year. It was announced that a distribution of $7 a share will be made to stockholders on or about June 1.

Meehan Pays Record for Seat.

Michael J. Meehan, New York Stock Exchange specialist in Radio Corporation of America shares, credited with amassing an overnight fortune of several million dollars this week, was disclosed as the buyer of a stock exchange membership for $315,000. This is the record so far, the previous high being $310,000. The seat was bought for a member of Mr. Meehan's firm and is the sixth seat purchased by the house.

Offer Brockway Stock.

Prince & Whitely are offering at $105 a share and accrued dividends, yielding 6.67 per cent, an issue of $2,000,000 7 per cent convertible preferred stock of Brockway Motor Truck Corporation.

Air Reduction Split.

Stockholders of Air Reduction Company approved proposal to split capital stock three for one and increase authorized capital from 293,324 to 1,000,000 shares.

The Steel Situation.

Steel reviews were less optimistic than in recent weeks, stating that the market had lost some of the momentum that carried production and prices sharply upward in the first two months of the year. Some shrinkage in new business also was recorded. It was said that trade opinion was tinctured by the general business situation and carries a shade less conviction. Symptoms characteristic of the peak of an upswing are more evident.

American Oil Cuts Gasoline.

The American Oil Company, a marketing company, which is affiliated with Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company (Standard Oil of Indiana), reduced gasoline 2 cents at filling stations throughout Eastern Pennsylvania today.

The cut is not expected to be followed by other companies in Eastern Pennsylvania as this company's gasoline, which is a benzol blended product, has been selling at a premium over motor gas of all other refiners. Today's cut leaves the American Oil Company price still 1 cent a gallon over other high test gasolines.

Spang on New York Curb.

Spang-Chalfant & Co., Inc., 758,000 shares of common stock, no par value, have been admitted to listing on the New York Curb Exchange. The stock has been active on the local curb this week at 30 to 32.

Trading in New York started at a considerable discount from prices here. First sale was at 27½, but demand was evident immediately and the price moved up to around 30 and remained steady there. The price on the local curb had a corresponding drop, from 32 to 29½.

Foreign Trade Off Last Month.

February exports from the United States totaled $372,000,000, against $371,435,000 in 1927, and imports were $353,000,000 against $310,411,000, the Department of Commerce announced today.

General Motors Acceptance.

General Motors Acceptance Corporation, which finances the retail business of General Motors Corporation, reports net profit of $8,514,415 for 1927, against $3,134,293 in 1926. All of its stock is owned by General Motors. Earnings were equal to $21.11 a share, against $10.77 a share the year before. Dividends amounted to $1,330,000 and surplus $3,294,471. In addition to domestic and foreign retail credit transactions, its operations embrace domestic and foreign wholesale credits and export financing transactions.

Johns-Manville Earnings.

Net profit of Johns-Manville Corporation and subsidiaries for 1927 was $4,144,119, equal to $4.77 a share on the common, after preferred dividends.

Power Output Increases.

Consumption of electrical energy by manufacturing plants of the nation as reported to Electrical World indicates the rate of general industrial production has been increased materially since the year began. The February rate of general industrial activity was 7.3 per cent higher than January and 16.3 per cent greater than in December last. The rate of increase compares favorably with a year ago and shows marked gain over the three preceding years.

Mellon Silent on Stocks.

Secretary Mellon today refused to comment on the activity of the New York Stock Exchange. Although record sales have been constantly reported, the Treasury head refused to say anything concerning the matter. He has, however, taken notice of the volume of business reported.

LAST CHANCE ON INCOME TAX

Income taxpayers have until 12 o'clock tonight to settle their 1927 score with Uncle Sam. After that hour they will be liable to penalty for their tardiness. In consequence, there is the usual last-minute rush at the office of D. B. Heiner, collector of internal revenue. Persons who mail their returns in time to have today's postmark on the envelope in the postage cancellation will get under the wire.

Work in the tax office is facilitated by the fact that the clerks are hampered by fewer needless returns. If the single person, or married person not living with husband or wife, had incomes of less than $1,500 in 1927 they are not required to file a report of their incomes. Collector Heiner made this plain and added that in the case of married persons living with husband or wife, no report was required if the net income for the calendar year 1927 fell below $3,500.

Federal income tax receipts in the Pittsburgh district for 1927 will exceed the amount paid in 1926, it is declared. The larger number of taxable returns and th increase in revenues came as a surprise to the business community, where it was believed that depression in certain lines would be reflected in the income taxes. The fact that the receipts will be increased is regarded as encouraging sign of individual prosperity.

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE.

Know These Offices Before Leasing

Offices in this majestic 21-story building will stand out as preferable, by comparison, when inspected. Comparison is invited because the reflection will be favorable, all things considered.

Economic Values.

These offices afford exceptional economic values. The square shape, minus angles and extra corners, provide more work space—also simplifies partitioning for separate offices, each with window light and ventilation. Rentals are moderate, location is an asset, and efficiency advantages of appointments and building service are enviable.

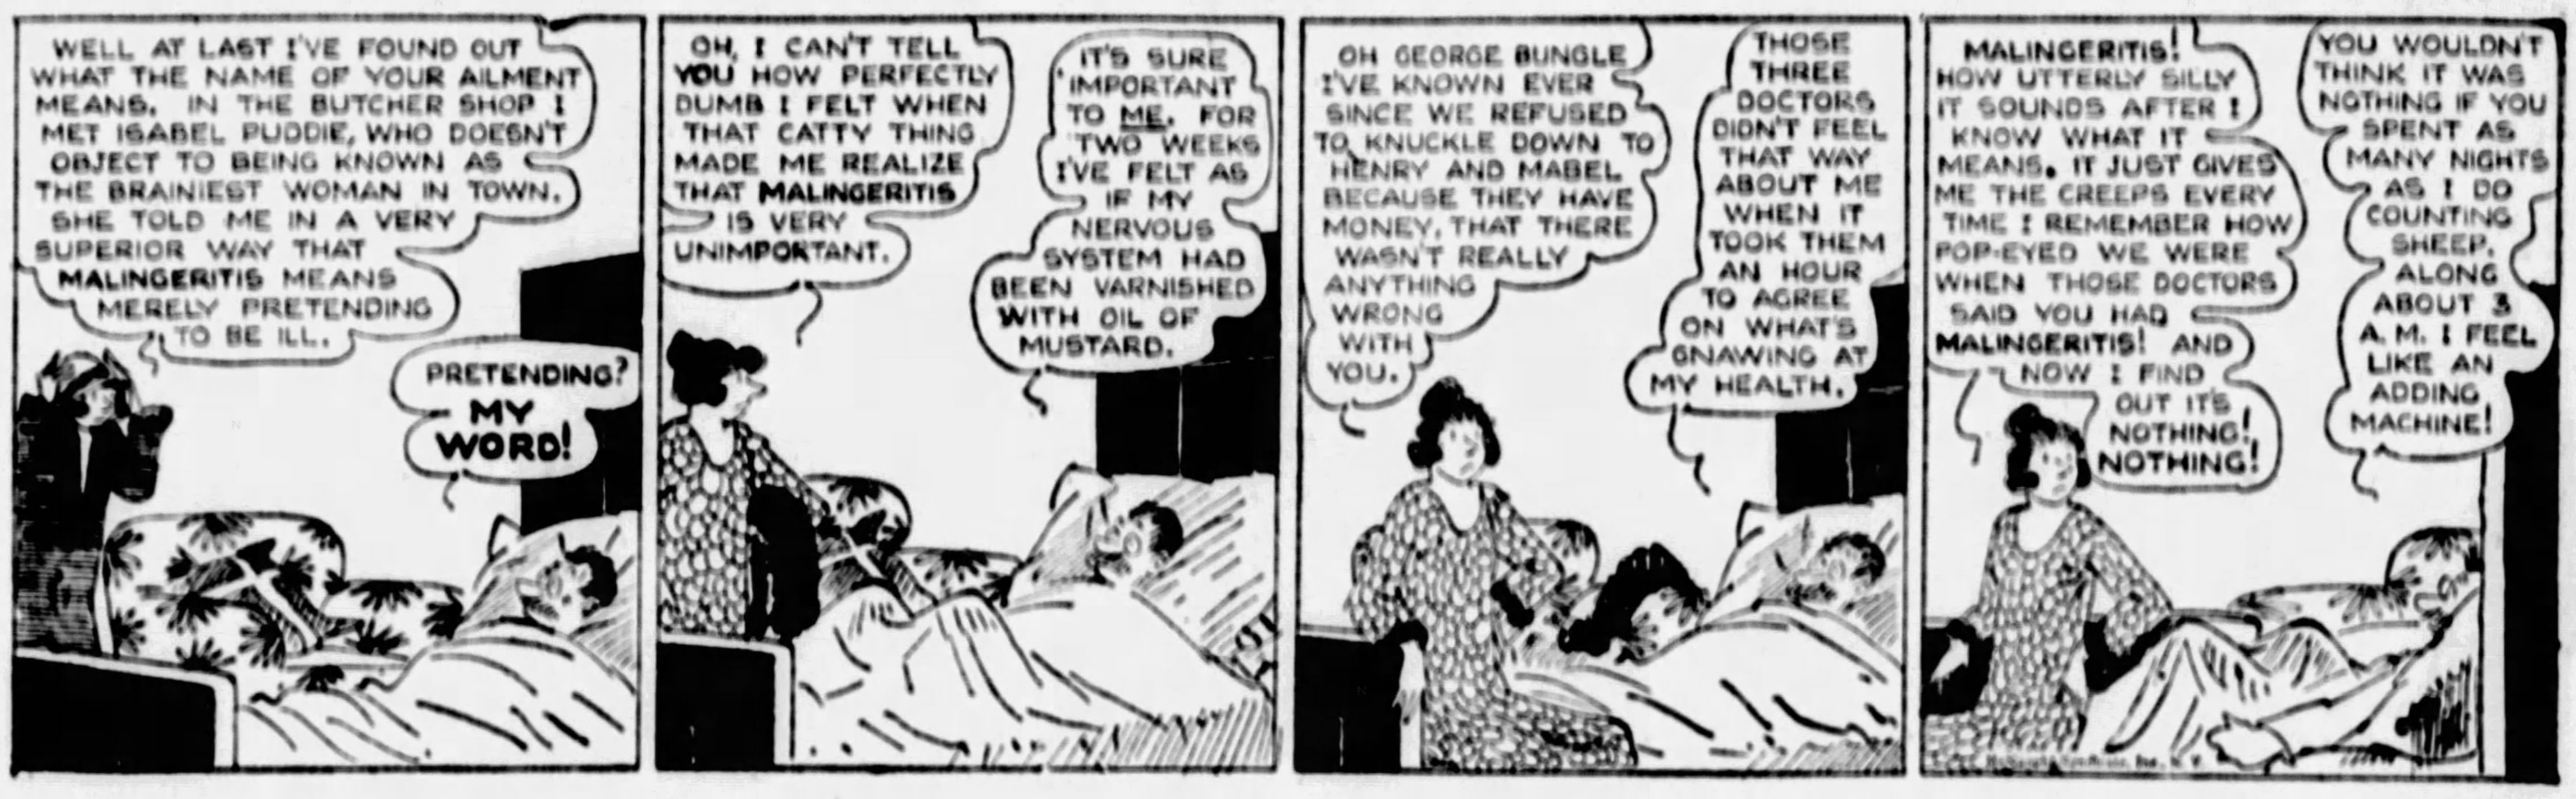
THE BUNGLE FAMILY

What's In a Name?



WELL AT LAST I'VE FOUND OUT WHAT THE NAME OF YOUR AILMENT MEANS. IN THE BUTCHER SHOP I MET ISABEL PUDDIE, WHO DOESN'T OBJECT TO BEING KNOWN AS THE BRAINIEST WOMAN IN TOWN. SHE TOLD ME IN A VERY SUPERIOR WAY THAT MALINGERITIS MEANS MERELY PRETENDING TO BE ILL.
PRETENDING? MY WORD!
OH, I CAN'T TELL YOU HOW PERFECTLY DUMB I FELT WHEN THAT CATTY THING MADE ME REALIZE THAT MALINGERITIS IS VERY UNIMPORTANT.
IT'S SURE IMPORTANT TO ME. FOR TWO WEEKS I'VE FELT AS IF MY NERVOUS SYSTEM HAD BEEN VARNISHED WITH OIL OF MUSTARD.
OH GEORGE BUNGLE I'VE KNOWN EVER SINCE WE REFUSED TO KNUCKLE DOWN TO HENRY AND MABEL BECAUSE THEY HAVE MONEY, THAT THERE WASN'T REALLY ANYTHING WRONG WITH YOU.
THOSE THREE DOCTORS DIDN'T FEEL THAT WAY ABOUT ME WHEN IT TOOK THEM AN HOUR TO AGREE ON WHAT'S GNAWING AT MY HEALTH.
MALINGERITIS! HOW UTTERLY SILLY IT SOUNDS AFTER I KNOW WHAT IT MEANS. IT JUST GIVES ME THE CREEPS EVERY TIME I REMEMBER HOW POP-EYED WE WERE WHEN THOSE DOCTORS SAID YOU HAD MALINGERITIS! AND NOW I FIND OUT ITS NOTHING! NOTHING!
YOU WOULDN'T THINK IT WAS NOTHING IF YOU SPENT AS MANY NIGHTS AS I DO COUNTING SHEEP. ALONG ABOUT 3 A. M. I FEEL LIKE AN ADDING MACHINE!

BUGS BAER Says

AMERICAN girls have married dukes, gooks and flukes. They have bellowed bashful affirmatives at the altar with barons, earls and princes.

They have marched their squeaking new shoes up the aisle to the music of Bradstreet and Dun's wedding march. They have marched down the same aisle sharing illustrious titles that have been moth-eaten by the centuries and battered by historic creditors.

ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

Our beautiful birds have sat side by side with kings. And when an impoverished monarch could afford but one throne they sat in his lap. Our fair canaries have twittered on the perches with the mighty and made world history for the envious.

Now a Seattle girl tops them all by becoming the third wife of Tukoji Rao, former Maharajah of Indore.

Three wives are not a harem in Indore. The maharajah is considered a bachelor in a land where a king is liable to marry an entire coeducational university, including the professors, or become engaged to a Wednesday afternoon bridge club, including the kibbitzers.

We can understand her becoming a Hindu. But we cannot comprehend how a free born American necker, who has parked by the side of the road in a chummy roadster, is willing to be a Hindu in exchange for the congested privilege of becoming a passenger in a crowded sight-seeing bus in Bombay.

The third wife of a Maharajah of Indore must get all the worst of the family arguments. Whenever there is a sacred flat-iron to be hurled at the Maharajah, wife No. 1 is the power behind the thrown.

If you must have a title, why not marry one of our own royal bigamists? You may not be his only sweetie, but at least the scamp will not have the nerve to bring his other wives home with him.

Where the Tears Started

A professional actor was coaching a Scottish dramatic society.

"You must infuse more expression into your voices," he said. "Why, I remember an actor who could so read a menu as to make his audience weep."

There was a moment's awed silence, and then one of the amateurs remarked: "He must have read the prices."

Knew His Money

A Scotsman rang up a doctor in a state of great agitation.

"Come at once," he said; "ma wee bairn has swallowed a saxpence."

"How old is it?" asked the doctor.

"1894."

Identified

First Farmer—I've got a freak on my farm—a two-legged calf.

Second Ditto—I know. He called on my daughter last night.

But Not Paid Twice

"I hope you got my cheque?"

"Yes, twice—once from you and once from the bank!"

What She Wanted

A woman came before a pension committee and stated that she was seeking her "eternity" benefit.

"Your what, madam?" queried the chairman.

"My 'eternity' benefit," she reaffirmed.

"My dear woman, 'eternity' means your 'hereafter.'"

"Yes, sir; that's what I'm here after."

Nothing Else But

A well-known comedian is exceedingly proud of his three lovely and talented daughters.

One day an admirer of the comedian was talking about the family.

"Have you nothing but girls?" he asked.

"Nothing but girls!" was the reply. "Why, man alive, we have everything but boys!"

Specific

"Where did the car hit him?" asked the coroner.

"At the junction of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae," replied the medical witness.

Ballot Scandal Calls for Extraordinary Measures

"Suppose I call a grand jury to investigate the retention of Rody P. Marshall to defend the 200 persons accused of violating the election laws," District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner says. "What can that investigation develop except that a group of people have banded together and hired an attorney?"

Since the District Attorney feels that his hands are tied in the matter, and since it is one that Attorney A. M. Imbrie, chairman of the bar association committee, charges is a scheme to frustrate prompt legal prosecution of the defendants, through long postponement of many cases, it is evident that something extraordinary should be done.

It appears that the matter warrants the attention of all the local judges. They undoubtedly are concerned over whether our laws and courts are to be rendered futile.

For all the district attorney knows, for all the judges know, for all the public knows, scheming politicians may now be laughing at the plight in which our law-enforcing officers find themselves. They may be felicitating themselves on the fact that they have "out-smarted" the better element of citizenship.

The people will form their own conclusions as to why 200 persons suddenly should decide they can safely trust their defense to one attorney.

Earnest Trust Busting

It Is Old Fashioned Now

Not long ago, to be radical was to be a "trust buster." Every Socialist, Communist, felt that the one enemy was "big business." Do away with that, and everything would be serene.

And now, communism, ruling Russia, establishes the biggest, tightest trust in the world.

All business in Russia is under one control, for the moment in the hands of Alexei Rykov, president of the Council of People's Commissars.

A gigantic Communist trust, governing a nation bigger than the United States, literally controls everything, including wages, the price of wages, and the right of a man to work or to engage in business.

The thing won't last. Human selfishness is older and more powerful than any theory. Old fashioned business will come back and Russia, like the rest of the world, will be governed as usual, by the desire of one man to have more than another, and by the fact that one man is more intelligent and more cunning than another.

It will not be so forever—civilization will come eventually.

But industrial feudalism, growing more wise and benevolent, has only just begun.

Prize Ring Must Go From American Civilization

Mexico's leading professional bull fighter, Gaona, refuses to return to the bull ring. Mexican papers print the news with streamer headlines of mourning, for a considerable part of the Mexican population is more interested in bull fighting, and its champion, than in anything else.

Americans will turn up their noses at that news and thank heaven their country does not countenance such a brutal and debasing sport.

America's leading professional prize fighter, Jack Dempsey, announces that he will not fight again. He realizes that someone must be found to fight Tunney next summer but, he says, it will not be Jack Dempsey.

The American press spreads the sad news prominently, for it is important to those of our population on the same mental level as the blood-thirsty mobs that throng the Mexican bull rings.

It is a delicate question whether a state descends lower (1) in permitting a public exhibition of men torturing and finally killing a bull, or (2) in permitting a public exhibition of men fighting to knock each other senseless for a money prize (in the Tunney-Dempsey fight) equal to eight years' salary of the President of the United States.

Mexico might claim that our "sport" is more primitive and barbarous than hers, for men continued to fight animals long after they stopped fighting each other.

It is hard to imagine a bull fight as degrading and as dangerous to the public morals as the recent prize fight in Los Angeles between the Negro Godfrey and Uzcudun, the white Basque-Spaniard.

Much of our legislation is designed to protect people against themselves—to destroy the opportunity to exercise their baser passions. We try to suppress gambling houses, brothels, lotteries and liquor saloons.

The habitues of all these institutions find ready occupations, connected with the prize fighting business, along with dope peddlers, crooked politicians and criminals, high and low.

This choice society, gathered around two brutes in the prize ring, is publicly and glamorously offered to our youth. The same youth are, however, protected against a glass of 3 per cent beer by armed prohibition and coast guard organizations which cost the Federal government $28,000,000 a year.

That may seem a little ridiculous to the future historian.

Prize fighting has got to go. It has no place in American civilization.

BALLOT FRAUD TRIALS
ONE ATTORNEY TO DEFEND 200 PERSONS CHARGED WITH ELECTION FRAUD

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Mass and Radiation

"Why and how, in formation, have the suns and comets obtained their terrific heat, and why aren't planets the same?—F. M."

YOU must exclude the comets. They become heated on their approach toward the sun. But they do not attain stellar, or solar temperatures, and are, no doubt, cold when in the more distant part of the orbits. They are bodies of too small mass to develop great internal heat. To develop great heat under gravitational pressure a body must have great mass.

The mass of the sun is 332,000 times that of the earth, and the pressure at its center has been calculated as 6,450,000 tons per square inch and the temperature as at least ten million degrees, which Eddington would raise to forty million degrees. At the sun's surface the effective temperature is over 6,000 degrees Centigrade.

The earth certainly is hot within, the temperature increasing something like 1 degree for every 100 feet of descent in the upper part of the crust, which, if continued at the same rate, would make 200,000 degrees at the center; but the heat is not sufficient to reduce the whole substance of the earth to the gaseous state, as occurs with the sun and the stars. The internal heat of the earth is hardly perceptible on its surface.

The sun and its brother stars are the big capitalists of the universe, possessing such immense accumulations of mass that they are able to blaze out with the splendor of radiant energy, which, distributed around them, and taking the form of light and heat, maintains life and its associated activities on the cool, cold surfaces of their little attendant planets.

There are other advantages that relatively great mass bestows. As a body of smaller mass, like a planet, cannot have the radiant splendor of a great sun, so bodies of still smaller mass, like the moon, and apparently the planet Mercury, are incapable of retaining an atmosphere like the earth's. They are too lacking in gravitative power (which is a function of mass) to be able to hold the atmospheric gases with their swiftly vibrating molecules.

That mass is capital in the form of potential energy is also proved by the insignificance of the part that comets play in the solar system—except as they affect the imagination by their hollow pomp and ostentation. Comets are the P. T. Barnums of space; they seem to know that the gaping inhabitants of the world below love to be humbugged and thrilled with vague terrors, and so they menacingly wave their deceptive tails, the biggest of which, if compressed, could be carried in a pocket flask—a celestial cocktail.

Deprived of their vain show, comets are like wisps of summer gossamer, or floating thistledowns among the planets. They never approach within a few million miles of a planet without suffering for their temerity. Still this is all a matter of relativity. Measured by the ordinary standards of our earthly life, a comet would appear pretty big, perhaps as big as a hill, or even a mountain, if all its scattered substance could be collected into a single solid body and placed before our eyes.

We may sum up the case by this quotation from the best up-to-date astronomical text book: From the laws of gravitation, radiation, atomic structure and simple gases it could be shown that only great masses of matter, tens of thousands of times that of the earth, could be self-luminous, but that these must be so if condensed into single bodies. Such bodies would be intensely hot inside and gaseous throughout. Smaller ones would not be hot enough inside, or would not let enough heat escape at the surface to keep it incandescent.

"Racketeer"

THE American language is indebted to Chicago for a new and very useful word—"racketeer."

A "racketeer" is one who promotes a testimonial dinner to some aspiring and ambitious person with a list of friends or dependents that can be tapped.

On its surface the dinner is a spontaneous token of high public regard, but actually it is a species of hold-up in which the promoter shares.

Chicago estimates that "racketeers" are causing it to spend $5,000,000 a year for very little value in return.

But the money is the least of the losses. Think of having to hear the speeches!

If every hope my longings know
Sailed home as brave ships do?

If, as in fairy tales of old,
Each wish were gratified,
For love or fame, for gauds or gold,
Nor any dream denied.

Ah, then, would all my days be bright,
With not one yearning vain,
Would life be fashioned of delight
And wholly free from pain?

I wonder—yet indeed I know
If every dream came true,
I'd build new castles, row on row
For hope to wander through!

Tales That Are Told

Not So Simple

SHE professed to take a great interest in the professor's wonderful collection of mineral ores. She was examining the specimens one day, and, taking up one that struck her fancy, said:

"What do you call this, professor?"

"That is silver ore," was the answer.

"Very interesting," she replied. "But how do they obtain the silver?"

"Oh, it's a simple process. They merely smelt it."

Then the old lady placed the ore to her nose and, after sniffing loudly, said:

"I've smelt it, too; but even with my spectacles on I can't see any silver!"—London Tit-Bits.

Outdone

HIS pockets were as empty as the average doughnut is of jam, and his whole appearance gave one the impression that the world had been wiping its feet on him of late. His conversation made it clear that he had seen better days.

"Yes," he was saying to one sympathetic listener, "once upon a time I was the cynosure of all eyes. You see, I was the tattooed man at the circus."

"And how did you manage to lose the job?"

"Oh," explained the needy one dismally, "nowadays people are mad on moving pictures, an'—an' mine won't budge."

Fifty-Fifty

DURING a certain grouse shoot two sportsmen were potting at birds from butts situated rather closer together than is usual. Each of them was accompanied by his wife as loader.

After a sudden sharp report a red and indignant face appeared above one of the butts, and its owner shouted angrily:

"Confound you, sir! Do you realize you almost hit my wife just now?"

The culprit was visibly shaken.

"Did I?" he said, aghast. "I'm frightfully sorry! Er—er—have a shot at mine!"—London Answers.

Something to Think About

By BRUNO LESSING

The Education of Children

THEY now have introduced radio music into the public schools of some cities. Children between the ages of 6 and 14 years will drop their studies and listen to beautiful music during school hours. This music will be explained to them by a competent lecturer.

One Board of Education official said:

"I believe this movement to be one of the strongest influences in the socializing of education." [This writer gasped when he came to this phrase but, fortunately, the official went on to explain it.] By that I mean that the child is taken into an entirely different atmosphere than that created by textbooks."

This is a fine idea. Every educated person should appreciate the beauties of classical music. This appreciation has an uplifting effect upon the mind. Of course, those pupils who are tone-deaf and those who are so constructed that they will never appreciate good music, will have a recess from their studies.

It will help to "socialize" education. The pupils in the public schools will be taken out of the atmosphere of textbooks.

This same thought should be applied to an appreciation of the art of painting. With the progress of television, you could let each pupil see what the masterpieces of Michelangelo and Raphael and Murillo look like. A good talker could explain the beauties of these pictures. Because an appreciation of painting is also a part of education. Those pupils who are color blind, will have a brief vacation from their studies.

Nothing is more important in the upbringing of the young than the teaching of morality. Many people insist that school children should have religious instruction during their school hours. This is very fine. Like the teaching of music and painting, it "socializes" education.

The health of the pupils must not be overlooked. They should have instruction in hygiene and physiology and they should go through a certain amount of calisthenics every day. This will build up their health. Also, it will "socialize" education, by taking their minds off their textbooks.

Then, they must sing the national anthem once or twice a day, to keep up their patriotism. And they must undergo fire-drill, in case of an emergency.

We also have "Parents' Week," when parents "butt into" the school-room to see how nicely Johnny and Jenny are getting along, while Johnny and Jenny "show off," to make their parents happy.

In addition to which every city in the land has thousands of cranks who have other grand ideas for "socializing" education and taking the pupils' minds off their textbooks.

What none of these brilliant minds has yet discovered is how a child can be thoroughly educated in the most rudimentary branches of common knowledge, without faithfully sticking to textbooks.

What they all have discovered is a method of taking the child's mind away from study. Which, perhaps, accounts for the fact that the average graduate of a public school is uneducated.

Isn't It So?

What this world needs is a substitute for sleep.

We are never too old to learn that the good die young.

The house is too full which has room for nothing but improvement.

• • •

The people who are most eager to keep money in circulation are those who haven't any.

Unfortunately the cream of society is not always based upon the milk of human kindness.

The man with a sunny disposition shouldn't use it merely to throw other people in the shade.

• • •

Middle age is that period in life when a man begins to slow up like a young kid going to school.

In Snowy Alps

ST. MORITZ, March 15.—A winter morning view of the Lake of St. Moritz is perhaps as inspiring with natural beauty as any other spot to be found in Europe. At least great artists have said so. The short fir trees around the edge of the ice mirror are crystallized in clear white beauty.

The cloudless sky is the typically bluish green of aqua marine and suspended beyond snow clad peaks is the sun, which hangs like a great ball of fire and the shimmering ensemble is bathed in the golden glow. It is like a breath-taking stage scene that suddenly becomes real.

It is the only natural scene I ever beheld that prompted an urge for that dream awakening pinch we have read so much about. The professional skaters are leaping about like gazelles in early morning practice. Bob sledders with a rush of frosty breath are gliding over the hills.

Horse races—running and trotting—are seasonal events on the ice track of the lake. The turf is of padded snow and as fast and sure as the finest conditioned track in America. Perhaps the only change from American racing is that some of the jockeys have long whiskers.

The ski-jumping on Olympia Leap is a contest of Lindberghian skill and nerve. As are the bob sled races on the Chantarella Run a funicular ski-way. The skii-ers leaving the snow for their jumps appear to float like graceful birds.

The big hotels in the High Alps have their private artificial ice rinks. The Olympic winter games draw the pick of ice skaters from all corners of the world. There are daily ice hockey matches and also contests of a game called curling, similar to hockey. This is played by the older folk.

What we know as a "head cold" is almost unknown to natives of St. Moritz and pulmonary trouble is rare. There is a bloom in every cheek and a sturdy relish for life. The toiling grind of the factory and sweat shop has never touched the Engadine.

As an illuminating example of Swiss hotel service, I returned from breakfast this morning to my typewriter to find it freshly cleaned and oiled and a new ribbon inserted. Two pencils on the writing table were newly sharpened and a patented lighter which has not been to a service station for some time had been refilled with gasoline. O. yes, the fried breakfast eggs were molded into rosebud shapes.

* * *

One of the expert skate sharpeners here is an American Negro from Alabama. He came over as a valet 10 years ago and upon reaching St. Moritz decided, as he expressed it, this was "his dish." He speaks four languages and is a contradiction to the general belief the Negro prefers only a warm climate.

* * *

St. Moritz, however, in the summer is quite different from winter. Nearly all snow disappears from the hills and they are verdant. The lake melts and most of the population departs until the snow flies again. There are strong carbonic acid and iron springs whose waters have the same gagging effect as the whiff of a spoiled egg.

The Swiss are models of sobriety, honesty, industry and thrift. The domestic triangle is an unknown quantity. If a father is a waiter that is the highest ambition of his son and he goes through all the lesser graduations to reach it.

Three writers came to St. Moritz two months ago to turn out novels. Not one has made the start. What, with one thing and another.

Swiss innkeepers do not say "Goodby," just "Au Revoir." They are quite certain you will come back and they are generally right.

Today upon departing I gave the porter 25 francs and very gravely he handed back 4 francs. Well, every little bit Alps.

The New Calendar

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

Attention has been called several times in this column to the efforts being made to have adopted a new calendar having 13 months of 28 days each.

It has been suggested that America have the courage to adopt this standard without waiting for Europe. If it shall be so, if the South American and North American countries unite in their effort to change the calendar it will be another indication that American civilization has definitely broken the bonds still further that heretofore have tied them to the older peoples of Europe.

It is a struggle of common sense and reason against inertia. The power of inertia is enormous. The best reason for doing a thing a certain way still remains that we have always done it that way.

We have got used to the old system, whatever it is. We acknowledge its drawbacks, but we know what they are. We do not know what difficulties an untried plan would involve.

But there seem to be no difficulties in this proposition other than the difficulty of making the change in the first place.

Most of us are familiar with the proposal. It is to have 13 months of 28 days, exactly four weeks in each month, making every week day occur on a fixed monthly date and having every holiday occur on the same week day, making calendars unnecessary, having the date of the week indicate the day of the month, adding an extra day to the year and inserting an extra month, the 13th, as a month called Sol between June and July, and adding an extra day every Leap Year to June.

This seems to be a subject that could well be considered by the League of Nations, but it is now proposed that America lead the way without waiting for world consent.

Mr. Cotsworth says that if conservative Europe could discard the computations of hundreds of years and adopt the metric system of weights and measures, it is not too much to expect that advanced and efficient America could discard an antique calendar wholly unadapted to this modern age.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD.

THE ladies of the harem must be having a wonderful time gossiping about the Maharajah and his new bride. They could tell, no doubt, just what line of conversation their husband is giving his new wife. After all, they probably aren't so much disturbed about it. They know that when bigger and better weddings are had, their Maharajah will have them.

Speaking of "bigger and better," Peggy Joyce has a bigger and better diamond than she has ever had before. It cost $300,000 and is 127 carats big. It wasn't even her birthday. Spring must be here!

Have you ever noticed that men don't give diamonds to girls who haven't any diamonds?

Sir John Irving, distinguished English dramatist, would bar all women under 40 from theaters. It could be done if Sir John would undertake to tell which women are 40 and which are 14.

Sir John says women go to the theater to see the clothes the actresses wear.

If that is true they are getting less and less for their money.

Chicago uses more than half of the peanuts consumed in this country annually.

Isn't that queer? Chicago has almost no elephants. Of course, there is quite a little monkey business there.

Children have their mothers arrested for spanking them these days, but do you remember the poem written in the old days about the horrid little girl who stood on her head in bed, "screamed and squalled and yelled and bawled" and kicked her heels against the window?

"Her mother heard the noise and thought it was the boys,
Playing in the empty attic;
She rushed up stairs and caught her unawares,
And spanked her most emphatic."

Real Friendship

YOUR home may not be so well nor expensively furnished as that of some of your friends.

On this account you hesitate about inviting them to your home.

When they call you apologize for your home's simplicity.

If this is the way you feel about the visits of your friends, you cannot consider them as true blue.

Your real friends don't like you a whit less because your home is small and unpretentious.

If those whom you call friends are more interested in what you have than they are in what you represent, your friends are not worthwhile.

Better cut loose from them and establish a circle that will love or esteem you for yourself.

The person who is attracted merely by what you have and the manner of your entertainments, is a fairweather friend and a good one to drop.

Are you above suspicion in choosing your friends?

Friendships are ideal if they are real, so be careful how you select your friends.
